Thanks Noreen--we will keep this for future use. I'm so glad to hear the event went well yesterday. Theo told me about the postponement but it sounds like they had it covered. Dan Hottle produced an excellent video that we will roll out!

The training was AWESOME and I will be forever grateful for this experience. It was by far the best training I've had to date. Learned a lot, made excellent connections and reflected on myself as a leader...it's a continual work in progress. Thank you both for nominating me--looking forward to sharing more when I get back.

Terry, see below. Will that work for your purposes?
Thanks

jurisdictions in the Service. She leads more than one thousand employees across the region, who administer the National Wildlife Refuge System, the National Fish Hatchery System, the Wildlife and Sport Fish Restoration program, conservation activities for migratory birds, and implementation of the Endangered Species Act. Director Walsh oversees federal wildlife conservation activities for refuges and species in some of the best intact landscapes that support native species such as grizzly bears, sage grouse, black footed ferrets, and millions of migratory birds who journey through and breed in the Region's Prairie Pothole landscape every year. Walsh holds a Bachelor's degree in Fisheries and Wildlife Biology from Michigan State University and a Master's degree in Wildlife Biology from Colorado State University.
