Thank you Noreen, looks like you're going to get the chance for new blood. I am doing fine and enjoying our fall. It's been fairly dry with lots of sunshine and warmer than usual temps. Makes for a nice place to be given the cold and snow across much of the country. Have a Merry Christmas and I trust you are doing fine and dandy as well.

Subject: Detail opportunity for Colorado Field Office Supervisor

Susan Linner, the Project Leader for the Colorado Ecological Services field office here in Lakewood, Colorado, has decided to retire. We're seeking individuals interested in detailing for some or part of the next few months (January, February, March, April., and possibly beyond). Please forward this request to those that might be available and interested in at least 30 day increments. We are also considering putting this out as an ALDP detail opportunity. The Colorado Ecological Services field office is the lead for collaborating with the State, Counties and others to develop a 4(d) rule for Gunnison sage grouse during this period. The office is active in conservation efforts for greater sage-grouse as well. This is a great opportunity for an experienced GS-13 or current GS-14. Please have potential candidates contact Nicole Alt at nicole_alt@fws.gov or (303) 236-4213 once they have concurrence from their supervisor. We will also be recruiting for this position very soon and will be looking for a very highly effective leader/communicator/partnership builder/creative and strategic thinker. Nicole or I would be happy to discuss with prospective candidates.
