Facilitator Recommendation

For Greater Sage-Grouse Status Review Analysis Meetings

Recommendation

After discussions with Robert Fisher from Collaborative Action Dispute Resolution (CADR) office, we believe that each of the candidates could be helpful in this work, but Bob Wheeler would be the best selection.

- Bob was well prepared for the interview.
- He has worked on Endangered Species Act issues including Recovery Planning and a 5-year review.
- His reference, Rosemary Furfey (NOAA), highlighted his ability to:
    - get full participation in group discussions,
    - focus on the goals of his client (in this case, the Service), and
    - keep the group on track without being abrasive or off-putting.

Background

On March 17, 2015, the ARD+ group interviewed three candidates that were recommended by Robert Fisher in the Collaborative Action Dispute Resolution (CADR) Office. They were:

- Linda Manning
- Chris Moore
- Bob Wheeler

Linda and Bob were the two strongest candidates. We followed the interviews with reference checks for both individuals.

Linda's reference, Jamie Barbour, USFS, had worked with Linda over the course of many years, spoke highly of her abilities, but was unable to describe her work on Endangered Species Act related efforts.

Bob's reference, Rosemary Furfey, NOAA, was able to describe Bob's work with other status assessments (5-year review). As with Linda, Bob was noted to be highly competent. Rosemary also commented on his cordial nature and pleasant demeanor, which made working with him enjoyable.
