YOU hunting - good for you. Keep at it.
My mom has a log cabin in northern Lower Peninsula they built after my Dad retired. We have 40 acres surrounded by 1000's acres of State Forest (Pierre Marquette). Marginal hunting -but the visit with Mom is the real virtue. I'll be up here until Nov. 18 or so. Bow hunting for 10 days then gun for a couple. Good for decompression.

I could join in a call if later in day- Most of Monday I was on calls while driving up here. Last nite a 2 hour conference call with my GRSG team to finalize our guidance before sending out 1 final time to the Forest Supervisors. Then tonite another hour strategizing on our regional Bighorn Sheep Risk assessment....

So don't hesitate to include me - middays eastern are good or after 4 mountain (6 back here after dark and out of the tree stand)....

I'm anxious to hear about the Stronghold discussion....got a bit from Lyons late Friday and some Monday...apparently more to come this week....not just the where (map) but what (additional protection).

Take Care
