Terry,
I just got word back from Doug Havlina that your folks are correct. At this point we are not soliciting comments. We will get them by this Friday, Then we will brief Steve Ellis on the assessments so he knows what's in them and provide them to the State Directors to ensure they have seen them and are prepared to implement them. Then, on or about April 4th, we will send them to you all at FWS. The following week we plan to post them. I just spoke to Matt Kales and let him know this schedule. ed

I also understand that FWS will provide names of individuals to review the revised reports, but that any comments/concern we have may not be addressed – at least before the reports are released to the public. Is that your understanding?
