I corrected a couple of technical items that are germane to our ongoing conversations with leadership about these maps, and added some further rationale at the end. By way of this message I ask you and the folks copied here, review again, make additional revisions as necessary, and then I'll send to Noreen for consideration for use as informal/internal TPs (at this time; I drafted this content with an eye toward potential application for Congressional and media inquiries, since it is quite possible these maps will get distributed broadly).

Matt
Here's my first attempt at paring them down.
I tried to keep on a straight line from our role, our recommendations, restating our recommendations.
There's still some jargon in there we might want to consider restating.
