Just a reminder that we're having a metrics team call tomorrow morning to continue the discussion regarding the efforts to be reported. We're still working the document to help frame the discussion and seek your feedback and input on the call tomorrow. I'll send that out first thing tomorrow morning.

It looks like Sept. 17 works best for those that responded to the poll for our next call. Please hold 10 am - noon MT on your schedules for our next call. The FWS is working on a draft document to share with you before the call and to use as a basis for this continued discussion. We'll send details as we get closer to the call.
