Copy that -

Not sure who, other than you. Or Pat

But given what's on tap, not sure juice is worth the squeeze either.

Another inquiry - Dan Boyce from Inside Energy asks if I could join them on a local PBS news show.

I'm going to be in CT

Wondering if we would want to offer someone else?

Thanks Theo,

Something else I wanted to ask you about today.

So, next Tuesday Colorado State of Mind is showing a photo video slideshow with some of Alex Milan Tracy's photos and my audio from the IJNR trip.

Then, I'll be talking with the show's host Cynthia Hessen about grouse, the Interior's announcement today, and what it all means for Colorado. We're hoping you could join in on that discussion.

The plan is now, We'll be taping for air on Tuesday at 2:30, for air on the show on that Friday.

Would that work for you? (that is, if it all lines up with the technical folks on our end...)

Just got back from Cheyenne -

If you have room/interest, here's a quote from Noreen Walsh, Mountain-Prairie Regional Director, USFWS

> "We're pleased that BLM and USFS recognize that strong, effective, final federal land management plans are vital for successful greater sage-grouse conservation, and essential for the Service's evaluation of whether the species still warrants federal protection. "
