Hi Noreen and Mike,

I hope you are doing well. I'd like to make some introductions via email in the hopes that someday soon you all can meet in person. John Phipps is the new Station Director for USFS Research and Development covering a footprint that includes Region 6 of USFWS ("Rocky Mountain Research Station"). Deb Finch (you might have met her at a North American W&NR conference) is the Program Manager overseeing many aspects of sagebrush research including sage grouse habitat restoration. John would like to engage in some discussions on science for sage grouse conservation with other agencies so I suggested he meet with you or he and Deb meet with you and Mike. If Steve Torbit is involved with sage grouse science then, maybe he could join too. I don't need to be involved in arranging the first meeting, but if I can help, just me know.

Thank you!
Monica
