> Gary , we have been having discussions regarding mitigation in general and still waiting on BLM's mitigation guidance I don't know if we have any real in depth discussions regarding banking. NFWF however, is making the rounds. They were here a couple of weeks ago and we had a good conversation around sage-grouse and mitigation opportunities in general and around the interface and opportunity with the energy industries specifically to begin leverage significant dollars for targeted conservation opportunities, one of which may be banking. I sense from this chain that NFWF is making contact with BLM for same.
