Thanks, all, for the quick reply. I just got some updated direction that will take me a little while to address out so can we push to 1 pm MDT? If so, here's call information:

Morning. Thanks for completing the Doodle poll. I see we four are available at 12 pm MDT today and, while ideally we would have the whole group available for our next conversation, this issue has assumed a new urgency and we now need to get something on paper by week's end, so if you all are amenable, I'd like to talk further at 12 pm. Please confirm and I'll send out call info and will also let the larger group know about status. Thanks.

Matt
