Kate

Just let me know if there are some times you would like to focus on for SLC availability. In general I think we have fairly good availability in early May. There is at least one larger convention (5,500) in town the last week of May and a mid-sized one (approx. 3,000) first week of June.

If you want us to look for specific dates besides first week of May let us know – I haven't so far because it takes a lot of effort by Admin Staff to make the calls,

I forgot to set up the out-of-office for my phone.

To clarify, that first week, I think you're correct, we're looking at Monday night- Friday morning.

We're also looking at times for the last week in May, first week in June. I'm just getting back into the swing of things today, but will be around all week next week and will let you know anything I find!

Thanks,
K
