Hi,

I just gave it a quick read. One thing to comment on. I'm not sure if I interpreted the 'conflict to crisis' discussion referred to the status of affairs with BLM statewide or if they were speaking directly to the situation at the Argenta allotment. I recall that they did receive some good feedback about the Ely District. And, from what I know on the Elko District, I think they have some good working relationships so I would consider couching this under the discussion on the Argenta allotment. That's really the only thing that jumped out.

I'm not sure who the audience is for sharing and/or the intended purpose. It's pretty detailed. That may require a little more thought and consideration.

cheers,
susan
