Traveling to Austin today and will in the air til after 4ET. I can touch base later if needed. Purpose, approach, and criteria for expertise are described in background material. Might be worth impressing that achieving diversity among expert panel was part of selection process.

About to turn off phone for the flight. Will check back in about 4 hours.

Could we do 4:00 (ET) today? Agree with the concept of not going into too many specifics. That's where I was earlier.

I still know little about what they want to hear. My original plan was to just have Mike and I do the briefing to provide a general overview of why we are doing this workshop and explain its purpose. I'd like to talk today if we can find a time, so we can see if we stay with that plan or go into more detail with Sara giving a part of the presentation she would give at the workshop. Please respond quickly with your availability to talk today. Thanks.
