And (lastly), Table 1.3 from the SAB estimate that about 31% of "sagebrush area" within WAFWA Management Zone boundaries is PRIVATE, and the bulk of the remainder, approx 69% is managed by Feds / State...

So the breeding bird density (Doherty et al 2010) states that the 75% density (75% of the grouse relative to lek surveys) is comprised of about 60% (60.15%) federal lands (5.59% state, and 33.98% private)... although that amount of federally-managed lands varies by state... (they did not determine land ownership for the 100% density).

No info on how much of the PAC designation falls on public. However, the COT says that Doherty et al. 2010 was used or some variation was used by states to help inform PAC boundaries (again, varying by state). I'll ask Pat when she's done too.
