First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Alecia	Moore	spokane valley	WA	99216	Apparently conservation is about hunting and hunting permits bring in money. So tax dollars and making money for "our" wildlife is more important than The actual wildlife trying to exsist in nature. With all that man has threatend on nature, do we honestly need more enough to find another way for U.S. Wildlife Services to make more money? - I spoke with Washington Fish and Wildlife region 1 about three months ago regarding pamphlets and educational information on conservation that didn't include killing. They seemed ang they told me tax dollars are responsible for the numerous unnecessary deaths and countless reason why they stand behind using the word conservation when handing out permits to kill what needs to be conserved. U.S. Fish and wildlife were supposed to be an Americ the natural animal species living there. - I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once fede reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, - Alecia Noelle Moore
Danny	Dyche	Hillsboro	OR	97123	I urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other area arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Reconsider this delisti the endangered species list. - - Signed,
Jean	Naples	West Haverstraw	NY	10993	- As a strong advocate for protection of endangered animals, I am writing to urge you to please maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. - - Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, - Jean Marie Naples, MD-Ph.D.
John	Menart	Glendora	CA	91740	- Give up the bribes, and do your jobs. - - I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on t been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once fede reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Chris	Brozell	Forks	WA	98331	- Hello, - - A proposal delist grizzly bears has long concerned me. Years ago when this talk started it was premature. Now with declining food sources and climate change it is still premature. Millions of acres of habitat is unoccupied. Look on California's state flag anc you will NOT see grizzly bears. Colorado and Idaho have great habitat and no bears. Reintroduction plans into these areas are not in existence as far as I can tell. - - The somewhat healthy but isolated populations in Montana are not viably connected. Genes do not flov predator hostile ranches block meaningful migration. This is far too soon. How can a few hundred bears or so in isolated populations occurring basically within a few states be considered recovered? The logic is faulty along with the politics, and to a lesser extent, the sc of the wild have recovered. - - I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population' our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, anc decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bear areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal pro delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Neal	Umphred	WA	WA	98052	- JUST DO THE RIGHT FURSHLUGGINER THING ALREADY!
Patrick	Conn	Kent	WA	98031	- Why would YOU, a SUPPOSEDLY INTELLIGENT HONORABLE and HUMANE HUMAN BEING in charge of PROTECTING and PRESERVING the INTEGRITY of AMERICA'S WILD LANDS & WATERS, FLORA & FAUNA, PARKS, and FORESTS; why would YOU support the removal c the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem? Especially knowing of the obvious POLITICAL DOMINANCE and SWAY of YELLOWSTONE'S ARROGANT and IGNORANT NEIGHBORING 1%'er RANCHERS, LAND OWNERS and DEVELOPERS and THEIR PROPENSITY FOR AMORAL HUNTIN WILDLIFE THEY DON'T LIKE. Without Federal protections what chance do you think these grizzly bears, a population our country has been invested in since 1975, or any wildlife species has WITHOUT FEDERAL PROTECTIONS? Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulat connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal AT THIS TIME IS VERY PREMATURE, and YOU SHOULD DAMN WELL KNOW IT IS MORE THAN LIKELY A CONTINU CORRUPTION TO REMOVE PROTECTIONS BEFORE APPROPRIATE EFFECTIVE STATE REGULATIONS ARE PUT IN PLACE THAT WILL GUARANTEE THE ELIMINATION OF POTENTIAL WHOLESALE GRIZZLY SLAUGHTER in the name of SPECIES HEALTH, PRIVATE PROPERTY RIGH RECONSIDER THIS DELISTING PROPOSAL and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list until AFTER ALL FEDERAL and STATE concerned parties have determined how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. - - Sincerely,
Patricia	Lambert	Stamford	CT	6903	Dear Service, - I am writing to URGE you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. - Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, an decline as a result. - Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is VERY premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place. It is impossible to determine how bears will be managed once fed reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - Thank you for your attention and compassion, I am, - With gratitude, sincerely, - Patricia Lambert -
K.	Pendergrass	Seattle	WA	98168	This letter comes to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone populati Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connec that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Thank you for your time and consideration to maintain protections for Yellowstone grizzly bears. - - Sincerely,
Linda	Rossin	Lake Hopatcong	NJ	7849	This war on wildlife must come to an end, therefore I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulat connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will b removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Rhett	Wilkinson	UT	UT	84014	(You got this!) - - I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowst result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are re proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Paul	Howard	Corvallis	OR	97333	 - The following message has been pre-written but I agree with it's content. One thing that is crucial to the survival of grizzlies as well as many other species is connected corridors of habitat through a range of different habitats and enable both seasonal migration a through different populations so that closed small gene pools don't produce weakened species. I would like to see way, way more habitat protection programs and also (I know, not Your department) but WAY more use of contraception by humans and less human spra wells, etc - all of it). - - Thanks - Paul Howard, Corvallis, Oregon. -  - I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, Paul Howard, Corvallis, Oregon.

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Jim	Steitz	Gatlinburg	TN	37738	The Grizzly Bear absolutely does not have a secure future. Every biologist familiar with this species understands it is deeply imperiled both by global warming and by the creeping development around the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem. The FWS must maintain ESA stabilize the Earth's climate, and secure permanent protection of enough land in the Intermountain West for it it survive, free from the expropriation and dispossession of developers. - - I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the G population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy huntir population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jerry	Rosenkoetter	SALEM	OR	97317	10% recovery is not recovery. Just get used to them. - - I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulat connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will b removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Michael	Linvill	San Rafael	CA	94901	A ask that you maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on th states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other area arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
LYNN	MOLLER	KS	KS	67202	A keystone predator requires care and protection. Please look for a corridor to allow the existing bears to travel and breed. Maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely i place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossi once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Rose	Estes	Oregon	OR	97394	Absolutely the wrong move. Increasingly, it seems that your vision i to remove most of the wild from the wild. Please reconsider renmoving the existing protection from Yellowstone's grizzlies. I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in th population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy huntir population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mary	Van Holt	Wall	NJ	7719	Again and again, we are forced to implore you to protect another species, another place. We are a Part of this world; it is not ours. If we keep knocking the underpinnings of the planet's ecosystem down, we will surely pay the price -- a planet that's unlivable. Climate need to see what will become of us with a planetary ecosystem collapse, which is also predicted? - - I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 19 has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains sever regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Judith	King	FL	FL	32968	Along with many other caring and very concerned people, I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bea population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulat connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will b removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Tanya	Kasper	TX	TX	78676	An an American I have just as much right to enjoy Grizzlies alive as hunters do dead as trophies! I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. H been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely i place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossi once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jay	McCalmont	Sacramento	CA	95834	Are you all so GREEDY and stupid that people actually have to write to you to get you to PROTECT ALL WILDLIFE? EACH LIFE IS HERE FOR A SPECIFIC REASON. WAKE UP, NOW. We put you into those offices, we WILL take you out. - I am writing to urge you to maintain Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage t significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are li this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered spe
Deborah	Crocker	Alexandria	MN	56308	Aren't OUR parks to PRESERVE NATURE and WILDLIFE!??? - Isn't that why we all love to visit them!??? - I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Dorothy and Leo	Keeler	Emigrant	MT	59027	As 10 year residents of Emigrant, Montana, which is 26 miles from Yellowstone NP, we are writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-cau rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and s protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to de federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ricky	Lanham	Springfield	IL	62702	As a biologist and environmental scientist specializing in ecosytems, I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of g Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Bears, especially males, need relatively large territories, especially when searching for mates and food, especially when the seasons change sources. Also, the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem grizzlies are a genetically isolated group needing access to more territory and other populations of bears. Protected corridors are needed for bears to migrate for mates and food. Genetic diversity of the Greater Yellow needed to maintain these bears. less bears. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider t bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mike	Pratt	Bainbridge Island	WA	98110	As a biologist, I am writing to ask you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Area. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrou permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outs killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellow Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Jeannine	Koshear	Coarsegold	CA	93614	As a conservation biologist and former bear ranger for the National Park Service, I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused r and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and state bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Hugh	Carola	New Jersey	NJ	7607	As a conservation professional I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bear areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal pro delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Anje'	Waters	Grass Valley	CA	95945	As a former long time resident of Montana, I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once fede reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Christine	Boisse	Colorado Springs	CO	80906	As a longtime supporter of all Yellowstone animals, I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has b population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulat connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will b removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ernest & Martha	Scherzer	MT	MT	59874	As a Montana resident and onetime seasonal NPS Ranger at Yellowstone National Park I deeply believe the grizzly bears of the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem must be protectd. - I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yel country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add signif know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on th regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Annick	Smith	Bonner	MT	59823	As a person who has worked hard over the years to secure protection for grizzlies in the Greater Yellowstone, I am totally opposed to removing federal protection from this recovering, but not fully recovered, native species. With a warming climate, declining food sour the population, this move is wrong-headed and premature. - - I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzl Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how l protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Georgeanne	Spates	Southold	NY	11971	As a retired wildlife refuge manager in the East, I am fully aware that to have a healthy ecosystem it is necessary to have top predators. It is also essential, for the genetic health of the predators themselves, for these animals not to be isolated but to have connection w urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone ecosystem. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and thus the Yellowstone population has been on the decline. Allowing the surrounding states to manage the leave a viable population -- especially upsetting after the effort, time and money spent on this specie. - - PLEASE, reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Georgeanne	Spates	Southold	NY	11971	As a retired wildlife refuge manager who understands the need for top predators to keep ecosystems healthy, I strongly urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem. This is a population our country has been invested i taxpayer money -- since 1975. Human-caused mortality from CLIMATE CHANGE of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy huntin population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
John	Gfrorer	Wenonah	NJ	8090	As a taxpayer and concerned citizen, I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the ris on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to prote other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once fede reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Gina	Megay	Mantua	NJ	8051	As a voting taxpayer, I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allo bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population which as you know, remains severely isolated. - - Further, these states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that w to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Y list. - - Sincerely,
Janine	Perlman	Alexander	AR	72002	As a wildlife biologist I strongly urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem. - - As you are aware, the bears are increasingly being killed by humans, and their numbers are declining. - - This population also remains sev regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Constance	Franklin	Los Angeles	CA	90026	As an American gravely concerned with thriving biodiversity, I urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem. The geographic scope for grizzlies is limited, and this conservation sensitive species took near 40 years to recc grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. Instead, those that wander outside It's unbearable and reckless to even entertain a proposal where grizzly bears may be trophy hunted, and can never be perceived as a justifiable management practice. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in p bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Linda	Carroll	New Orleans	LA	70118	As an American who is concerned about the future of our native species, I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortalit Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how l protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. Please fulfill your solemn responsibility to protect this important species by keeping it on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Theresa	Kardos	Cortlandt Manor	NY	10567	As an environmental educator and field biologist, a parent, and a citizen who cares deeply about conservation and preserving biodiversity, I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - The decline of whitebark pine and cutthroat trout in Yellowstone has p livestock and gut piles left behind by big-game hunters, resulting in increased conflicts with humans. Unfortunately, the response of many state agencies property and ranch owners is to blame the bears and deal with any problems by killing bears instead of looking for solutions exist and are often effective. And drought and climate change are likely to exacerbate these problems, as well as reduce the population of bears. - - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it' managed once federal protections are removed. With all the current and potential stresses facing the Yellowstone grizzly bears and surrounding populations of grizzlies, it would be irresponsible to remove these bears from the endangered species list. Please reconsid Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Jeff	Ramsdell	Sausalito	CA	94965	At the end of the day, someone with the necessary clout, should unveil the commercial interests that seem to be pressuring the various agencies charged with protecting our our iconic wildlife. - - Is it the trophy hunters? - - I am writing to urge you to maintain federal Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bea significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are li this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered spe
Jane	Church	Chapel Hill	NC	27517	Dear Director Ashe, Secretary of the Interior Jewell, and Division of Policy and Directives Management, - - KEEP PROTECTIONS FOR YELLOWSTONE GRIZZLY BEARS NOW AND ALWAYS! - - I STRONGLY urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Great country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add signif know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on th regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, - Jane Church
Rebecca	McInteer	Seattle	WA	98166	Dear Federal Administrators: The Yellowstone bears belong on the Endangered Species list. It is apparent that their population is not stable to support delisting. The science by your scientists support this fact. Please do not cave to political interests. Please represent th pay lobbyists to undo such protections of wildlife. Thank you. Rebecca McInteer, Seattle, WA 98166 - - I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
C J	Balmer	Holmdel	NJ	7733	Decades ago bears were hunted to extinction in New Jersey. So what did NJ State Fish & Wildlife do ... - this Taxpayer paid for NJ State Agency decided to import bears to repopulate the original NJ bear habitats. - - So now of course NJ F& W to justify it's spending, own monetary susifies by selling hunting permits under the guise of too many bears interacting with humans in once were their natural domains. - - I am completely disgusted with government agencies whose mission statements were to protect and preserve, fabricating wildlife that enabling statutes, rules and regulations created for government agents as a basis for their jobs in the first place. Simply stated this is annihilation without justification. - - The U.S. Fish & Wildlife continued policies to treat our national living natural resourc special interest groups warrants congressional fiduciary audits and in depth investigations of their policies and procedures . - - I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country ha mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this popu states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for be determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, - -
Maggie	Frazier	Windsor	NY	13865	De-listing another wildlife specie? The instant this happens Wyoming, Idaho & Montana's residents will be champing at the bit for hunting for "trophies"! Bears occupy less than 2% of their historic range in the lower 48 - yet USFWS wants to remove protections from t decline in the grizzlies normal food supply - big-game hunters (trophy hunters) leave gut piles behind causing more conflicts with humans. Yellowstone bears are isolated from other populations - the Service needs to continue to maintain protections for them.
Jeanine	Center	Ann Arbor	MI	48105	Delisting grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem would be seriously untimely. I strongly urge you to maintain federal protection for these grizzly bears -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population.This population of bears also remains severely isolated, and states do not have regulations with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. And there are humans out there who are just itching for an excuse to kill a grizzly. Don't provide them with one! - - Asking for comments on this proposal is prem aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
George	Uhlir	White Haven	PA	18661	Director Ashe's policy of killing animals to keep wealthy trophy hunters and ranchers pleased is disgusting ! Please Remove this moral sellout from his position immediately. Also I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yell country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add signif know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on th regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Anne	Jackson	Morgantown	PA	19543	DO ALL YOU CAN TO PROTECT THESE ANIMALS, PLEASE !!! : - - I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzl Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how l protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Franklin	Eventoff	Bow	WA	98232	Do all you canto protect the loss of wildlife on this planet. - - I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly b Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how l protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, lisa	muryn	NY	NY	10949	DO NOT GIVE IN TO YOUR CAMPAIGN DONORS AND / OR BIG $ WHORES. - DO THE RIGHT AND ETHICAL ACTION - MAINTAIN STRICTEST OF PROTECTIONS FOR THE GRIZZLY - - NOT ENOUGH $ IN IT FOR YA ? - - I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection fo Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permi to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sin
Spence	Guerin	Melbourne	FL	32901	DO NOT WITHDRAW PROTECTION of grizzly bears in the Yellowstone ecosystem! - - As was and is proper, we have invested in grizzly protection since 1975 -- only a short time, actually. Sadly, grizzly bear deaths have been on the rise thanks to Homo sapiens, and the Y decline as a result. - - If delisted, the push for more 'trophy hunting' in adjacent states would no doubt increase, adding significant additional adverse pressure on the grizzlies -- which are already under survival pressure. - - It is my understanding that adjacent states c grizzly bears that could -- if given the opportunity -- connect with bears in other areas, which would be a healthy survival development. Instead, those bears that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. Doesn't that sound like a recipe for bear popul of protection for grizzlies would be a sad 'achievement' -- read 'failure' -- in the year 2016. - - A short story: In Alaska, a friend said he wanted to kill a brown bear. I asked him why. He wanted a rug or some other simple-minded show of conquest on his wall. With his h shoot and slay the bear. But as the bear lay dying, the bear cried like a baby, my friend said, and he would never forget it. Greatly affected by the deathly wailing of that once awesome and living wild bear, my friend said he would never, ever, do that again. 'Trophy hun demonstration of lack of awareness and respect for wild animals. - - When we walk in woods of Yellowstone, as I have, knowing 'there are bears there' is a thrill for most of us outdoors people. I did not see a grizzly in Yellowstone, but I have seen them elsewhere, and unforgettable thrill. The grizzly / brown bear is among the most magnificent of all the wild creatures. The kind of person who would oppose protection of the grizzlies of Yellowstone is sadly lacking in something. - - Most assuredly, it's a crazy world. Please do NOT 'deli thousands of us -- it's a no-brainer. -
Michael	Dalin	Philadelphia	PA	19152	Do what is right and this is just plain wrong
Jeffery	Biss	Elgin	IL	60120	Do your job. We have a people problem, ranchers, who want wildlife destroyed and they need to be dealt with. Wildlife, including grizzlies, have the right to habitat and exist because we consider ourselves moral. They are endangered. People are not. Protect grizzlies f maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a r manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting p endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Nancy	Behrens	Charlotte	NC	28270	Don't allow a few blood-thirsty trophy hunters to destroy these animals which should be protected for the entire country and future generations to enjoy. Please maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone area. Do not allow the surround trophy hunting as this will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outsi killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellow Sincerely,
M	Goddard	Corona	CA	92882	Don't delist the Grizzly Bears of Yellowstone! Humans are the ones who encroach and mess with the natural order of ecosystems. Its HUMANS who need to learn to live with nature, not the other way around. Don't punish the grizzly bears just because they are struggli destructive and selfish habits. People do not own nature, this planet does not belong solely to us. - - I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 19 has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains sever regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Patricia	Mathis	Holmdel	NJ	7733	dPlease maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decli to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Inste boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Dick	Artley	Grangeville	ID	83530	Each day more Americans understand the USFWL is genuflecting to their corporate masters. - - Do your jobs and serve the American people. These magnificent bears must not approach extinction in order to for their heads to decorate the wall of a hunter. - - Please r Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem. - - Sincerely, frances	field	sparta	WI	54656	Earlier this year the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service announced plans to remove federal protection from Yellowstone's grizzly bears -- a population that's grown since it was first protected in 1975, but is recently in decline and remains severely isolated. Please choose to st and get these bears back on the road to recovery. - - The proposal comes at a time when key grizzly bear food sources in the heart of the Yellowstone ecosystem have been collapsing and grizzly mortality rates have been on the rise. - - Removing federal protections fo setback for the species' recovery. Surrounding states are already lining up proposals for trophy hunts. - - Removing protections for Yellowstone grizzlies is premature. These bears must be allowed to roam and reconnect with other populations without being hunted ar maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a r manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting endangered species list. - - Sincerely, josie	lopez	TX	TX	79912	Earlier this year the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service announced plans to remove federal protection from Yellowstone's grizzly bears -- a population that's grown since it was first protected in 1975, but is recently in decline and remains severely isolated. Please choose to st and get these bears back on the road to recovery. - - The proposal comes at a time when key grizzly bear food sources in the heart of the Yellowstone ecosystem have been collapsing and grizzly mortality rates have been on the rise. - - Removing federal protections fo setback for the species' recovery. Surrounding states are already lining up proposals for trophy hunts. - - Removing protections for Yellowstone grizzlies is premature. These bears must be allowed to roam and reconnect with other populations without being hunted ar maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a r manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting endangered species list.
Adele E	Zimmermann	Embudo	NM	87531	EVERY TIME YOU ALLOW SOME YAY-HOO WITH A GUN KILL A YELLOWSTONE GRIZZLY, YOU NARROW THAT SPECIES' GENE POOL. GET ENOUGH YAY-HOO'S GOING, AND THE SPECIES WILL DWINDLE AND DIE. - - I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection f Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permi to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sin
Alice	Darby	Dallas	TX	75214	Everyday I get so many urgent emails about the fragile condition of wildlife conservation in America. So many iconic species barely hanging on, after years of dedicated protection and resources to maintain populations. What a waste of time, energy, taxes, stewardship and essential ecosystems spinning our wheels is not the answer. Counterintuitive at best. - - I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Hur on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolate to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mary	Dabney	Jamestown	KY	42629	F&W"Service" always amazes me. I keep wondering what will be eliminated next..... - - I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-ca the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated a protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to de federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
John	Savlove	North Bennington	VT	5257	Federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population wisely noted since 1975 - is more important than ever. The wars between State and Federal authority are counterproductive. Some states claim to distrust the Feds simply becaus than a unified approach to the degradation of nature human evolution has imposed. Rather than thinking this is only a stage and that we can return to loving bears and rivers and fauna more than ever, cynical State (and Federal) political interest groups use the basicall business instincts to complain that the Feds have no right to protect bears, deer, or their habitats. - - The reliance on more and more advanced weaponry to decimate less and less bears is a classic example of why the Federal government needs to exert common sense problems any more than getting sentimental about the tangible biodiversity at risk here in the United States, from bastions like Yellowstone to the most toxic swamps of West Virginia. - - According to my colleagues, a comment period on this proposal is premature bec place. Thus no office would be - I think "legally" is the correct term - accountable for how bears would be managed once federal protections are removed. This is another example of the straight up-and-down lack of consideration for the greatest creatures to ever the r for the bears, but the bears, tigers, and elephants. Believe me, I've dealt with these creatures on my travels abroad. In spite of the fact that bears are like big dogs - and prone to bear-like violence - there is no doubt they would not cut such ignorant deals for humans as these past 41 years - that is, since 1975. - - With all due respect to your thorough knowledge of the issues at stake regarding bears, the Park as a bastion, and political interests, reconsider this delisting proposal. We are counting on you. This includes spiritual leaders w bears than you or I. - - Sincerely,
Melissa	Bergemann	Los Angeles	CA	90291	First off, thank you very much for taking the time to read my letter. I know that you have a very busy schedule, so I really do appreciate it. - - I am writing to you today to PLEASE urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosy has risen, and the Yellowstone population has declined as a result. - - If you are still reading, I sincerely THANK YOU! Please continue :-) Again, I know you must receive a lot of letters similar to mine so I really am grateful for your time. - - Allowing surrounding states to hunting will add significant pressure to this population. - - As you know, this population remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, therefore one cannot determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. - - Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on very much for your time. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Robert	King	Portland	ME	4103	First, I am Wildlife Biologist, former state (Maine and Everglades) and federal. The following is written by Center for Biological Diversity. i have read it and agree wholeheartedly. I will go further by saying that the CBD has become the most effective wildlife conservatic responsible for effecting the Endangered Species Act of 1973, and you will be held responsible. - - I know it is not easy and with the Republican interests attacking the ESA more aggressively than ever, it is becoming more difficult. But the right decisions must still be ma the CBD's words. - - I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yell as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that co Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protectior delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carol	Moore	San Antonio	TX	78230	Fish and Wildlife Services is probably one of the most corrupt and evil organizations in our government. There isn't even a pretense anymore about protecting our wildlife. It make me enraged to the point of going psycho and has engendered a deep, abiding hatred for urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the d states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other area arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
David	Lynch	Laconia	NH	3246	For me, the best thing about Yellowstone Park is the bears. My fondest memories of time spent in Yellowstone National Park all involve bear sightings. - - I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this populat remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature b place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lynn	Muramaru	Hawaii	HI	96826	From habitat loss, culling, migration routes interrupted, all caused by humans, wildlife become secluded and cornered. In-breeding occurs and the species weaken as a result and die off. Is this the world we wish to create? a world where there's nothing but humans a ecosystem goes awry spreading to humans in the form of further environmental degradation and disease. - - I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also r have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in p bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, james	field	el paso	TX	79912	Grizzly bear numbers in the Greater Yellowstone area have improved since the animals were first protected in 1975, but the bears continue to be threatened by isolation from other grizzly populations, loss of key food sources and human-caused mortalities. Overall griz historic range in the lower 48 -- and yet the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service has proposed to remove protections from Yellowstone's bears. - - The plan presents a potentially tremendous setback. The decline of whitebark pine and cutthroat trout in Yellowstone has prom and gut piles left behind by big-game hunters, resulting in increased conflicts with humans. And drought and climate change are likely to exacerbate these problems. - - Yellowstone's bears have also long been isolated from other bear populations, forcing the governm by proposing to truck in bears to avoid health issues caused by inbreeding. This fact further highlights the need for recovering grizzlies in more places. - - I am asking the Service to maintain protections for Yellowstone grizzly bears. If removed, we know what to expec agreed to allow trophy hunts - - .I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, a the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect b areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal pro delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Christopher	Michaud	Lakewood	CO	80232	Grizzly bear numbers in the Greater Yellowstone area have improved since the animals were first protected in 1975, but the bears continue to be threatened by isolation from other grizzly populations, loss of key food sources and human-caused mortalities. Overall griz historic range in the lower 48 -- and yet the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service has proposed to remove protections from Yellowstone's bears. - - The plan presents a potentially tremendous setback. The decline of whitebark pine and cutthroat trout in Yellowstone has prom and gut piles left behind by big-game hunters, resulting in increased conflicts with humans. And drought and climate change are likely to exacerbate these problems. - - Yellowstone's bears have also long been isolated from other bear populations, forcing the governm by proposing to truck in bears to avoid health issues caused by inbreeding. This fact further highlights the need for recovering grizzlies in more places. - - I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this populat remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature b place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sara E	Smith	WA	WA	98002	Grizzly bear populations have not recovered enough to remove from the protection list/s. Aside from that, although I recognize the potential need for hunting to survive (which itself is not really necessary in the US), trophy hunting is just wrong. Wrong, wrong, WRO federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allc bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wa to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Y list. - - Sincerely,
Candace	Miller	Santa Fe	NM	87505	Grizzly bears are a symbol of the wild power and beauty of American West, and should be respected as such. Humans do not deserve to take their lives without cause. Deny the immoral and unethical practice of trophy hunting grizzly bears.
Robert	Fletcher	Ann Arbor	MI	48103	Grizzly bears are coming back, but their status is hardly secure. Thus, I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how l protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Charlotte	Fremaux	Harpers Ferry	WV	25425	Grizzly Bears deserve our protection, as iconic top predators and as a species threatened by humans. Allowing states surrounding Yellowstone to manage them is a death sentence. Please rethink your ill-advised plan. - - I am writing to urge you to maintain federal prot Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bea significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are li this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered spe
James	Derzon	VA	VA	22302	Grizzly bears still need our support and protection. - - I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears ha population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulat connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will b removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Joe Lee	Frank	Sedona	AZ	86340	Hands and guns off our bears. - - I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, a the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect b areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal pro delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
tara	wheeler	VA	VA	22124	Happy Spring/Easter! - - I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Y as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that c Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protectio delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Take care and God Bless All . . . - - Sincerely,
Robert	Adams	Longmont	CO	80501	Have you lost all touch with reality? To de-list these magnificent animals is to sign their death warrants. You are supposed to protect our natural heritage not destroy it. Please reverse this foolishness. Is this caused by political pressure? It surel isn't being considered go writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has bee surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jorge	Andromidas	CO	CO	80220	Having worked as a grizzly bear field researcher in the 1990s,I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly b Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how l protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Elaine	Becker	Roanoke	VA	24018	Healthy ecosystems NEED large predators to keep prey species in check to prevent: overpopulation, over grazing, soil erosion, widespread disease and starvation. - - I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Eco invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is prematu in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
JILL	SUTCLIFFE	WEST SUSSEX	ot	RH14 0JA	Hello, - I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone area and Ecosystem -- a population our country has been supporting since 1975. - - Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been increasing, and the Yellow result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage this population and to permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure and lead to further decline. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect b areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears are not in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed should federal reconsider this de-listing proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
LK	Woodruff	Rosemount	MN	55068	Here we go again..... - - I urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. - - Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstor result. - - Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit "trophy hunting" will add significant pressure to this population. - - As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect be areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed:(- - Asking for comments on this proposal is ~premature~ because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal must reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Most Sincerely,
Dr. Linda	Silversmith, biologist	Rockville	MD	20850	Here's another example of the US Forest Service making decisions too soon: - - I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused m and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and state bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Veronica	Cavell	Helena	MT	59601	How in the world can you, FWP, even think about removing any protections from Grizzely Bears?!! You know very well that a number of factors are presently and have been negatively affecting the Bears and will continue to due so placing Grizzly Bears at continued ris to them in adjoining States if you remove their protection. I am thoroughly disgusted with FWP, an agency that seems hell bent on distroying the wildlife its charged with protecting. You need to be dismantled and put back together again with personnel who truly care writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has bee surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Larry	Huber	Manhattan	KS	66502	Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. Please reconsider this de-listing proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on
Carolyn	Barkow	San Diego	CA	92119	Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regu impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
M.	Preston	Richfield	MN	55423	Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears is on the rise, and the Yellowstone bear population is declining. Allowing surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. This population remains severely isol place to protect bears. Bears that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Reconsider this de-listing proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Daniel	Staples	Florida	FL	32404	I am writing because I cannot believe you people have Jobs. Should not have to sign a petition to - save a endangered animals DO YOUR JOBS - e urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, tl and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations fo determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, maxine	jaffee	chicago	IL	60630	I urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. - this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. those tha likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and k species list. - -
maxine	jaffee	chicago	IL	60630	I urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, the are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal a species list. - - Sincerely,
Maryann	Roby	Nunda	NY	14517	I urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem.. We need predators to keep our environment healthy and sustainable. - Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population h the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with be outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
B.	Conelley	Frederick	MD	21701	I am a biologist, and I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellow result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are re proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Mary	Ting	New York	NY	10009	I am a cincerned and dustressed citizen writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect b areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal pro delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Stephen	Cardwell	Knutsford,	ot	wa16 8le	I am a Mechanical Design Draughtsman from the United Kingdom. - - I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how l protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Robert	Hollingsworth	Hawaii	HI	96720	I am a research biologist concerned about genetic diversity of the bear population in the Greater Yellowstone area. I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowsto result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments seems premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place. Please let me know your rationale. - - Sincerely, - - Robert G. Hollingsworth, Ph.D. - - - Sincerely,
Cheryl	Mitchell	Spokane	WA	99205	I am an attorney in Washington State and I am a former chairperson of the Washington State Bar Association's Animal Law Section. My comments are my own and do not represent the views of either the Bar Association or the Animal Law Section. - - I am very disappo Director Ashe. Fish and wildlife agencies are no friends of wildlife. It appears to me that the primary mission of DFW is to assure that there are enough fish and wild animals to be killed. DFW also acts to further the interest of private groups. I know this from years of pe fish and wildlife agencies. - - The federal government has used millions of our tax dollars to kill millions of native animals. In fact, The Sacramento Bee ran a three-part series of article which denominated the U.S. Fish and Wildlife as. "The Killing Agency". Although Fish statistics for 2015, in 2014 it killed 2.5 million animals including 22,496 beavers, 322 wolves, 61,702 coyotes, 15,698 black-tailed prairie dogs, and 580 black bears, among others. I am both sickened and outraged that my tax dollars support Wildlife Services, a secretive Department of Agriculture, which uses the money to make killing fields of our public lands. - - And now DFW wants to eliminate federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Hum on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. This serves only to benefit trophy hunters. As you are und severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because st it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. I urge you to stop working to further the interests of hunting groups that care only about killing animals. I urge you to reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowston I was in law school I was taught that the role of government was to protect the public from the excesses of private businesses. This is no longer true. - - I am sure you are familiar with recent polls that show public confidence in the government and its agencies has seri to remove protections for Yellowstone grizzly bears only adds to public suspicion about the motives of government. - -
Kate	Richardson	Burien	WA	98166	I am concerned that American grizzlies remain imperiled so I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly be population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulat connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will b removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Patrick	Migas	Brush prairie	WA	98606	I am disheartened that I should have to write on this issue. I would assume that it would go without saying. - - I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also r have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in p bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, - Patrick Migas
Rita	Gentry	Santa Fe	NM	87507	I am much concerned about the management of wildlife within the heart of our nation. Key species such as wolves, bears, and bison are under threat from corporate, hunting, and ranching interests seeking to destroy wild populations. These species are part of our Ar landscape that they help nurture. It is well understood that these species play an important role maintaining our western ecosystems. - - I am writing now to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a popula 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. A severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because st impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Past experience with other species has shown that surrounding states will not manage the bears capably. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bear you for your consideration and help. . - - Sincerely,
Sal	Amendola	Brooklyn	NY	11219	I am not privy to the knowledge that you have, so I can't honestly say that I believe it would be wrong - if not merely a misjudgment - to remove federal protection from ... well ... ANY flora or fauna, not just a particular species of bear. But instinct tells me that it would short-term narrow interests or mental pathologies of a very few politically and financially powerful but extremely venal groups of individuals. - - - Sincerely,
Thomas	Talbot	Anthony	NM	88021	I am sending this letter which was written for me, because I lack time to sit down for a while and express all my concerns for bear populations. I agree with everything in the letter, so I hope you will acept the words as if they were my own. - - We are writing to urge yo bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the e
Elizabeth	Talmage	Clatskanie	OR	97016	I am writing about a matter of lasting importance to our ecosystem and to American history. I want to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-c the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated a protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to de federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Wolfgang	Golser	Tucson	AZ	85733	I am writing about an important matter, regarding wildlife. I urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Removing protections is premature! - - Human-caus rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature, since state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to dete federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list! - - Thank you for your consideration! - - Sincerely, -
Rose Ann	Witt	Thousand Oaks	CA	91362	I am writing as a deeply concerned biologist and avid National Parks visitor to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how l protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep our Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Janet	Matthews	Rockville Centre	NY	11570	I am writing as a parent, early childhood educator and advocate, and person of faith to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how l protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Tracy	Feldman	North Carolina	NC	27713	I am writing as an ecologist and educator to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and th decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bear areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal pro delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Marian	Hussenbux	Birkenhead, Britain	ot	CH49 5LS	I am writing from Britain - where unfortunately we have no bears - to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. - - Human-caused mortality of grizzly bea population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulat connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will b removed. - - Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ann	Johnson	Eastbourne	ot	BN20 7QP	I am writing on behalf of Quaker Concern for Animals UK, a group within the Religious Society of Friends, to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population your country has been invested in since 1975. Hu been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. - - We understand that this population also remains regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Your wildlife is your national heritage. Please do all you can to provide stewardship to protect this species so spe Animals - www.quaker-animals.co.uk - - Sincerely,
Julia	Ballard	Lafayette	CO	80026	I am writing to ask you to please maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone populat Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connec that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Most Sincerely,
Jill	Grundfest	Richfield Springs	NY	13439	I am writing to ask that you maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Janet	Girard	Covina	CA	91722	I am writing to ask that you maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed by blood thirsty hunters. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections a proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Debra	Evon	Minneapolis	MN	55403	I am writing to ASK you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
A.J.	Brown	Mobile	AL	36609	I am writing to ask you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem,: this population has been protected since 1975. As human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has increased over the years, the Yellowstone population has decli manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. Another factor is that this population of grizzlies remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that are moving to connect with bears arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Since state regulations for bears are not yet in place, it is impossible to determine how bears will be managed by states once federal protections are removed. We know that Wyoming, Idaho, and Montana have already agree states will protect these bears as well as they are currently being protected. - - For these reasons, I ask you to please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jill	Kyriakopulos	Sedona	AZ	86351	I am writing to ask you to please maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone populati Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. This population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears i outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. I am concerned about this situation. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal p this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. Yellowstone Park is very dear to my heart and I am hoping that our wildlife can be protected and allowed to thrive in our National Parks. - - Sincerely,
MaryAnne	Steinberger	Tujunga	CA	91042	I am writing to beg you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ariel	Harris	Decatur	GA	30031	I am writing to endorse the letter originating in the Center for Biological Diversity and add my voice to the thousands requesting that you maintain protections of the grizzly bear population in Yellowstone Park. - I agree with the text of the letter following: - - "I urge yo bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrar comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the e acting responsibly and maintaining Yellowstone's grizzly population! - - Sincerely,
Lynette	Elliott	TX	TX	75252	I am writing to implore you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will continue to compromise this population. As you know, this particular population is severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state do not currently have regulations for bears in place, so it's impossible to determine how these animals will be managed if federal protections are r proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Darren	Strain	Brookhaven	PA	19015	I am writing to respectfully urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone p Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connec that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Darren	Strain	Brookhaven	PA	19015	I am writing to respectfully urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone p Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connec that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Cheryl	Rigby	Ashland	MA	1721	I am writing to respectfully urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone p Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connec that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Thank you for your consideration and for accepting these comments. - - Sincerely,
Cheryl	Rigby	Ashland	MA	1721	I am writing to respectfully urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone p Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connec that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Thank you for your consideration and for accepting these comments. - - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Ada	Braun	TX	TX	75081	I am writing to respectfully urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone p Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connec that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Barbara	Heyd	Norwalk	CT	6851	I am writing to SERIOUSLY URGE you to MAINTAIN FEDERAL PROTECTION for GRIZZLY BEARS IN the Greater YELLOWSTONE ECOSYSTEM -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bear areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal pro delisting proposal and KEEP YELLOWSTONE BEARS ON THE ENDANGERED SPECIES LIST. - - Sincerely,
Barry	LeBeau	West Warwick	RI	2893	I am writing to strongly urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a long-standing population of these iconic bears that our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has bee population has been on the steep decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and allow permits for trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and these stat bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. We should not be in the business of providing trophy hunting for states that want to privately profit by killing these animals that you & tl - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't yet in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone list. - - Sincerely,
H. Dennis	Shumaker	PA	PA	17547	I am writing to strongly urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise and the Yellowstone popul Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and these states do not have any regulations in place to protect bears that co those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears would be managed if federal protections would l proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - These iconic, apex predators must be protected, not slaughtered by trophy hunters for so-called "sport." - We need the Wilderness these bears represent and help to maintain; we certainly do not
Jamaka	Petzak	Glendale	CA	91202	I am writing to strongly urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone popu Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connec that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed, as has recently occurred, senselessly and unjustifiably. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list, where they belong. - - Sincerely,
Kathleen	Markus-Walczak	Lorain	OH	44052	I am writing to strongly urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone popu Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connec that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Pat	Cranmer	St. Peters	MO	63376	I am writing to STRONGLY urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone po Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connec that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Barbara	Van Duren	Salt Lake City	UT	84121	I am writing to STRONGLY URGE you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone p Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connec that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is PREMATURE because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are remov and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list!! - - Sincerely,
Susan K.	LaMontagne	Arlington	VA	22207	I am writing to strongly urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone popu Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connec that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Pierre	Schlemel	Old Bethpage	NY	11804	I am writing to STRONGLY urge YOU to MAINTAIN federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. HUMAN-CAUSED mortality of grizzly bears has been on the RISE, and the Yellowsto result. Allowing the SURROUNDING states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will ADD significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains SEVERELY isolated and states do NOT have regulations in place to PROTECT bears th Instead, those that wander outside an ARBITRARY boundary are likely to be KILLED. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is PREMATURE because state regulations for bears are NOT in place, so it's IMPOSSIBLE to determine HOW bears will be managed once federa RECONSIDER this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears ON the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Melissa	Mouldin	Dundee	FL	33838	I am writing to strongly urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone popu Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connec that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Tracey	O'Kelly	St. George	UT	84770	I am writing to strongly urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone popu Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connec that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Joyce	Bower	Citrus Heights	CA	95621	I am writing to strongly urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone popu Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connec that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, eva	wawrowski	livonia	MI	48152	I am writing to tell you as a tax payer and who wants to see these magnificent bears to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly be population has been on the decline as a result. Trophy hunters are only in it to of course kill for their enjoyment and to have a body part in their house to show what despicable thing they have done. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit tr this population. It is wrong and disgusting that you will allow a tiny percentage of people who love to kill just to kill who are probably giving you money for some other project so you will lift the protection from the Grizzlies. This is as despicable as the 2016 Share Act. A severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. Animals do not know boundaries it is the citizens of the US that m for them to cross to kill them. Just like they want to do to the bobcat and wolves. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protecti delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. That is what Yellowstone is all about. Where else are the bears to go when we keep shrinking their habitat. Listen to the people !!! DO NOT LIFT THEIR PROTECTION and let the NRA and Trop citizens know is has nothing to do about conservation and the bears are not throwing anything out of balance, it is man who kills one species to let another to over populate so they can then blame that species and want to cull that species. Do you job Jewell you have a and the wild horses and burros. You are the one that needs to be checked. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Peggy	Malnati	Farmington Hills	MI	48331	I am writing to URGE URGE URGE you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone p Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connec that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Laura	Miller	PA	PA	15102	I am writing to urge you to keep our grizzly bears safe! Please maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, the decline as a result. Scarface is already gone and he was an icon and known around the world like Cecil the lion. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population and we will lose more c you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments o regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, - - Laura Miller
Dr. Jack W.	Sites, Jr.	Provo	UT	84602	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal ESA listing for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem (GYE) -- a high-profile population that we as a nation have invested in since 1975. The FWS estimates a GYE grizzly population of about 700 animals, but this is conservation genetics (in which I have some expertise) tell us that the most important number is not N, but rather the "effective population size" (Ne) - basically the number of individuals that successfully reproduce each generation. Depending on the sex ratio and age number of breeding adults will be LOWER to FAR LOWER than the census size, and in terms of genetic health and long-term viability of a population, THIS IS WHAT COUNTS. (We have learned this the hard way with the Florida Cougar!). Human-caused mortality of griz Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. - - Despite positive demographic trends since ESA listing of the GYE grizzlies, which will jeopardize the long-term viability of this population until some connectivity can be established with other populations. Without some assurance that surrounding states can protect bears that attempt to disperse, should ESA restrictions be lifted, this listing sh bears to other populations (Northern Rockies) and vice-versa may be necessary in the short term, but this amounts to "ecologically baby-sitting" and is not a long term strategy. Corridors must be developed and then maintained long enough to document successful dis out of the GYE, and then delisting would be justified. I hope you will reconsider the delisting proposal and keep the GYE bears protected until they can become part of a larger meta-population group. - - Sincerely,
Ana Maria	Cerrudo	Delaware	DE	19968	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears and wolves in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone po Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connec that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Marco	de la Rosa	Kirkland	WA	98034	I am writing to urge you to maintain Federal protection for Grizzly Bears in the Greater Yellowstone Eco- system -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of Grizzly Bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population Allowing the surrounding states to manage Grizzly Bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant NEGATIVE pressure to that population. As you know, that Grizzly Bearpopulation also remains severely isolated and States do NOT have regulations in place to prote in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is PREMATURE because State regulations for Grizzly Bear are NOT in place, so it is impossible to determine how Grizzly Bears will be removed. Please reconsider this de-listing proposal and keep Yellowstone Grizzly Bears on the Endangered Species list. - - Sincerely,
James	Solomon Sr.	Salem	OH	44460	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- - Hello, I've deleted the already discussion/request made for me by this organization I've been following for over 3 yrs., why, because I am an avid hunter, f all rolled into one. My understanding and believe is that these issues arise because of the over-populating of human inhabitants. - It is also my understanding the control of and management of wildlife is an absolute necessity to control things like starvation, disease, or and varmint type infesting human common areas, causing death and destruction, hence the label, "animals". - Understand that my love and concerns for animals are above that of human nature. - *My question to you is, and these are not included in many of the seem protecting natures creatures, *but what is your reasoning for allowing the decrease in protecting the Grizzly? - Also, Please feel free to involve me in any and all efforts, whether sustainability, conservation, the continuance of good management, or some alternative id
MichelleK	Mondragon	dENVER	CO	80207	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- . As an elementary teacher, I'm educating my students on the importance of protecting our wile habitat, especially our Grizzly Bears, that once populated t know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on th regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Beth	Jones	Monticello	IA	52310	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a grizz population our country has very rightly been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and as a logical & been on the decline. - - Blithely allowing the surrounding states to "manage" these bears and issue permits to trigger-happy trophy hunters will only mean far too many dead bears, even though the American taxpayers have been funding this population's once-succes well, this population also remains severely isolated and these notoriously predator-hostile states have NO regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas via vital and necessary corridors. Instead, the bears that innocently & unwittingl are very likely to be killed, only because humans cannot be entrusted with Mother Nature's task: controlling populations to achieve a natural balance. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because no state regulations for bears are in place. That mean bears can be humanely and properly managed once federal protections are removed. So concerned citizens call on you to use your heads, hold your horses and reconsider this de-listing proposal. - - We need to keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list, r selfish, wanna-be-machos. - - Sincerely, -
Tamara	Galloway	Orpington	ot	BR6 6DT	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population America has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has be surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Szymon	Surma	Vancouver	BC	V6T 2H4	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population America has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has be surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Stephanie	McKane	Windsor	ON	n9a6z6	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population America has been investing in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has b surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Scott	Strasser	Erie	PA	16506	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population in which our country has been invested since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone populat Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connec that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. For the Yellowstone grizzlies it's short-sighted at best, devastating at worst. Keep their protection in place! - - Thank you for your time and consideration. - - Sincerely,
Sarah	Caldwell	Atlanta	GA	30341	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population of American concern since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on th states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other area arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Daniel	Kane	CA - California	CA	92109	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. - - Grizzly bears need our protection now. With increased habitat fragmentation, and unknown c stress of the crowds of humans that use the parks in the Yellowstone ecosystem, these national treasures must be protected. - - Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowin bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wa to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Y list. - - Sincerely, - - Daniel Kane
Charles	Walker	NC	NC	27615	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. - - Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone populatior Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. - - As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could cor those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are re proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Thank you. - - Sincerely,
R	MARSH	PHX	AZ	85029	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. - - Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone populatior the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with be outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Susan M	Torrey	Connecticut	CT	6488	I am writing to URGE you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. - - Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone populatic Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connec that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
John	Culp	Richmond Heights	MO	63117	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. - - Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone populatior Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. - - As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could cor that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Nancy	Riley	Santa Ana	CA	92799	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. - - Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone populatior the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. - - As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect witl wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. - - keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Bob	McCoy	WA	WA	98075	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. - - I am a beneficiary of the Wildlife Public Trust. You are trustees that owe future generation an beneficiaries an equitable share of any profits. Delisting will put you in violation of your fiduciary duties, while you pass to less than 6% of the beneficiaries total access to consume well in excess of their share. Times are changing, and you will be called to justice for you exhausted by the chicanery of the Department of Interior as it kowtows to special interests. Any independent biologist would state that Ursus arctos horribilis is not recovered and that its population is not robust or genetically diverse enough to withstand the hunting p all of this indicating that the species needs continued protection. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are remove and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jake	Hodie	Aspen	CO	81611	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. - - The world has been up and down in terms of protecting animals. Some great things have beer still remain. - So many of our waters, public lands, forests, and open spaces have already been ruined by development, drilling, poaching, and humans. The animals are running out of places to live and be safe. Our wildlife are under threat from so many angles. They de humans. - Life is hard enough for people, let alone the animals. - Can't we please offer the GRIZZLIES some much needed help?! - - Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowi bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wa to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Y list. - - Sincerely,
Tatyana	Komin	New Rochelle	NY	10804	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. - - They are very important animals for our ecosystem and we must to protect the habitat and fo
Lori	Hubbart	Carnation	WA	98014	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. - - Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. Further, trophy hunting of such an iconic American animal is barbaric and should never be allowed. - - This bear population also remains dangerously i place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are vulnerable to being hunted. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature when state regulations for bears aren't in place! We ca once federal protections are removed. I strongly urge you to reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Margaret	Perkins	New York	NY	10023	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. - - I also ask that you adhere to the Endangered Species Act of 1973. - Human-caused mortality c Yellowstone population has been on the decline as a result. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not that could connect with bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how l protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Michaelene	Manion	Port Orchard	WA	98366	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please rec Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Myrna	Hewitt	Columbus	OH	43214	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add signifi wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. - - keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Alli	Noland	Wyoming	WY	83001	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Have you been to yellowstone recently? Have you looked, and I mean actually looked at the food here have seen the white bark pine and other food sources dwindle as climate change changes the ecosystem we all, including the bears, live in. - - Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population has been on the decline a you. No? - - Allowing the surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting (REALLY? WTWhat?) will add significant pressure to this population. AS YOU KNOW, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in plac bears in other areas. Instead, those that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed o reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Patty	Brothag	Mantua	OH	44255	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Steve	Farmer	Portsmouth	OH	45662	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Robert W.	Rhodes, III	Mercersburg	PA	17236	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Robert W.	Rhodes, III	Mercersburg	PA	17236	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Susan	LoFurno	NY	NY	14580	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Susan	LoFurno	NY	NY	14580	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, suzanne	blackburn	Portland	ME	4103	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, simona	Podskubkova	Orlando	FL	32837	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mark	Alexander	Crystal Lake	IL	60014	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Janet	Tice	Chapel Hill	NC	27516	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Deb	Stringham	Ma	MA	2067	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sherrye	Lamma	Sidney	OH	45365	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sarah	Schaefer	Oak Park	IL	60304	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sonnta	Simon	Parker	CO	80134	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sheri	Bresson	Connecticut	CT	6801	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sheri	Bresson	Connecticut	CT	6801	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, b	winkler	st. louis	MO	63026	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Sandra	Stock	Tucson	AZ	85710	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sandra	Stock	Tucson	AZ	85710	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
TERAO	Terumi	Yashio	ot	3400822	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Tamara	Everett	Phoenix	AZ	85050	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Scott	Starbard	Oreland	PA	19075	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kat	Nicholson	Pontypridd	ot	Cf371la	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Susan	Lacy	Kent	OH	44240	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Shelley	Goldfarb	Stratton	VT	5360	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Elke	Passarge	Colonia	NJ	7067	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Terri	Barreras	Chicago	IL	60634	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Terri	Barreras	Chicago	IL	60634	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sydney	Wright	MD	MD	21239	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Solo	Greene	Lapwai	ID	83540	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Laura	Luyendyk	Raleigh	NC	27615	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Caroline	S├─villa	Champs-sur-marne	ot	77420	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Caroline	S├─villa	Champs-sur-marne	ot	77420	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Donna	Steele	Flagstaff	AZ	86001	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Tami	Palacky	VA	VA	22153	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Valerie	McKenzie	Astoria	NY	11103	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Valerie	McKenzie	Astoria	NY	11103	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Susan	Eller	Sacramento	CA	95820	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sylvia	Schneider	Colorado	CO	80517	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Stephanie	Reynolds	AZ	AZ	85224	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Thomas D.	Herzog	South Salem	NY	10590	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jenifer	Alexander	GA	GA	30022	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Shelva	Wood	TX	TX	75023	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Dru	Hilson	St thomas	VI	803	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Susan	Reid	West Hartford	CT	6117	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Terry	Jordan	Trumansburg	NY	14886	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Shari	Grounds	Kailua	HI	96734	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, whitney	brown	TX	TX	76110	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Julie	Anderson	Rapid City	SD	57701	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Julie	Anderson	Rapid City	SD	57701	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Steve	Mineck	Elmhurst	IL	60126	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Steve	Mineck	Elmhurst	IL	60126	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Steve	Mineck	Elmhurst	IL	60126	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, trina	rowles	vancouver	BC	v6l 2a4	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jon	Mohr	Denver	CO	80206	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, shirley	mccarthy	branford	CT	6405	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Thomas	Aber	Kansas City	MO	64113	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carmella	Gioio	Eldersburg	MD	21784	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Susannne	McCannon	Algonquin	IL	60102	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Bill	Capasso	Lincoln	VT	5443	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Bill	Capasso	Lincoln	VT	5443	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Virginia	Huang	Woodland	WA	98674	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
William	Dryden	Boise	ID	83712	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Yvette	Irwin	Martinez	CA	94553	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Crystal	Frisk	Portland	OR	97229	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Peggy	Fugate	Oxford	OH	45056	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lisa	Matthews	Central Point	OR	97502	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lisa	Matthews	Central Point	OR	97502	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lisa	Matthews	Central Point	OR	97502	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Thomas	Thompson	Salmon	ID	83467	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Thomas	Thompson	Salmon	ID	83467	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Gloria	Jones	Dickson	TN	37055	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Suzanne E.	Webster Roberson	PA	PA	19335	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Wilfred	Robin	Hickory	NC	28601	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Robert	Johnson	Las Vegas	NV	89134	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Brant	Kotch	Houston	TX	77024	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Andrew	Kurzweil	Brooklyn	NY	11229	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Stephanie	Trewhitt	Whitefish	MT	59937	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
AnaLisa	Crandall	TX	TX	78101	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
AnaLisa	Crandall	TX	TX	78101	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Andria	Herron	Nevada	NV	89506	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Christina	Barnes	Hagerstown	MD	21740	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Christina	Barnes	Hagerstown	MD	21740	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Emily & Moranda	Meyer	New Mexico	NM	88012	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Winslow	Sheffield	Franklin	MI	48025	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Matthew	Boruta	Dearborn	MI	48128	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jane	Lewis	Galena	IL	61036	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Melodie	Huffman	Danville	IL	61832	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Melodie	Huffman	Danville	IL	61832	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mihail	Bancu	Melrose	MA	2176	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Cricket	Blanton	MELBOURNE	FL	32935	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Joel	Shimanoff	NY	NY	11563	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
George	Norris	Troy	VA	22974	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sarah	Donovan	Easton	CT	6612	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
David	Freedman	South Carolina	SC	29631	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lawrence	Thompson	Livermore	CA	94550	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - I urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem. Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impos once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this de-listing proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Michele	Langston	Jacksonville	AR	72076	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
C.	Brezina	Grand Junction	MI	49056	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Costanza	Olschki	Citt├á della Pieve	ot	6062	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Murielle	Berger	Choose a State	ot	75007	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jennifer	Humbert	New York	NY	10003	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Evi	Verstraeten	Antwerpen	ot	2000	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Burkhard	Broecker	Hoevelhof	ot	33161	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Burkhard	Broecker	Hoevelhof	ot	33161	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Dominic	Libby	Milton	NH	3851	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Bridget	McMaster	Liverpool	NY	13088	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Stephen	Burgin	Birmingham	ot	B38 9AH	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Anita	Chase	MI	MI	48091	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
LM	Drucker	Columbia	SC	29206	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
LM	Drucker	Columbia	SC	29206	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jai	Parekh	new york	NY	10128	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sonia	Zainko	Petropolis	ot	25750020	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sonia	Zainko	Petropolis	ot	25750020	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Louis	Takacs	PA	PA	15224	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mike	Albar	Hillsborough	NJ	8844	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mike	Albar	Hillsborough	NJ	8844	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Leda	Zimmerman	Lexington	MA	2420	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Cindy	Wargo	Brunswick	OH	44212	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Cindy	Wargo	Brunswick	OH	44212	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lesley	Brill	Detroit	MI	48207	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Scott	Kepner	Pennsylvania	PA	17110	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lyda	Stillwell	Kalamzoo	MI	49008	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lyda	Stillwell	Kalamzoo	MI	49008	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mary	McBride	Cedar Rapids	IA	52403	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Linda	McCarthy	IL	IL	60438	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Linda	McCarthy	IL	IL	60438	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Meredith	Tucker	Inverness	IL	60067	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Meredith	Tucker	Inverness	IL	60067	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jonathan	McVey	FL	FL	32832	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
J. Holley	Taylor	CA	CA	95946	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lori	Sherry	TX	TX	78247	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jean	SmilingCoyote	Chicago	IL	60660	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Thomas	Hoover	Fishers	IN	46037	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Melanie	Mahoney Stopyra	Syracuse	NY	13210	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Melanie	Mahoney Stopyra	Syracuse	NY	13210	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Alicia	Liang	Portland	OR	97214	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Stephanie	E.	New York	NY	10075	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Stephanie	E.	New York	NY	10075	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
shelley	frazier	Durham	NC	27705	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
shelley	frazier	Durham	NC	27705	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Katherine	Mouzourakis	Westland	MI	48185	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kathy	Linn	Wickliffe	OH	44092	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kathy	Linn	Wickliffe	OH	44092	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Matthew	Rubino	Raleigh	NC	27695	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Lisa	Barbeau	Missouri	MO	63017	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Matthew	Jesick	College Park	MD	20740	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lisa	Hughes	Galveston	TX	77550	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Peri	Doubleday	Little Rock	AR	72207	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Dana	Knutson	WA	WA	98116	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jennifer	Stewart	Nederland	CO	80466	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Cindy	zy	Haverhill	MA	1835	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Monica	Colmenarejo	Fairbanks	AK	99701	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mark	Elman	Park Ridge	NJ	7656	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carl	Pribanic	Plano	TX	75025	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
B	Sullivan	Arlington Heights	IL	60004	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Marybeth	Burdelak	Illinois	IL	60202	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lisa	Vaughan	MD	MD	21228	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Brookie	Judge	Seattle	WA	98102	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Katherine	Baker	Santa Barbara	CA	93110	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mark	Wheeler	Portland	OR	97215	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Mark	Wheeler	Portland	OR	97215	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Matthew	Cunningham	Virginia Beach	VA	23451	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Anna	Gasner	NY	NY	11215	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lorena	Matouk	Mexico	ot	52784	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
James	McVey	CO	CO	80466	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Donna	Loliger	New York	NY	14304	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
S	T	Northbrook	IL	60062	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Connie	Charles	El Cajon	CA	92020	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, laura	mendoza	California	CA	90019	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lorri	Francis	Chicago	IL	60622	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Gay	Goden	Euclid	OH	44119	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Gay	Goden	Euclid	OH	44119	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Cheryl	Ntumy	Gaborone	ot	9999	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Renee	Nester	Christiansburg	VA	24073	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Renee	Nester	Christiansburg	VA	24073	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, sam	asseff	colo spgs	CO	80915	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
sam	asseff	colo spgs	CO	80915	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Cynthia	Marrs	Junction City	OR	97448	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Katherine	McDaniel	St. Louis	MO	63116	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, steve	bell	lake forest	CA	92630	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Merlin	Emrys	Santa Fe	NM	87508	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Nick	Hood	Clemmons	NC	27012	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Nick	Hood	Clemmons	NC	27012	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Dennis	Yee	Scottsdale	AZ	85250	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Dennis	Yee	Scottsdale	AZ	85250	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Larry	Wenberg	Honolulu	HI	96814	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lisa	Flowers Ross	Boise	ID	83712	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Michael	Short	lewes	DE	19958	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Paul	Eisenberg	Bloomington	IN	47401	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Matt	Guptail	Wisconsin	WI	54481	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Annemarie	Ferrero	CA	CA	90045	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Liz	Fowler	Richmond	CA	94805	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Linn	Crosetto	WA	WA	98029	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Dawn	Zelinski	New Jersey	NJ	7748	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Michael	Wallace	Durham	NC	27713	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Leonard	Bruckman	Granite Bay	CA	95746	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Margaret	Stansill	Thermopolis	WY	82443	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Steven	Kline	Balt.	MD	21220	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sandra	Zaninovich	Los Angeles	CA	90024	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sandra	Zaninovich	Los Angeles	CA	90024	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
P	Scoville	Hewitt	NJ	7421	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, lisa	bergerud	MN	MN	55416	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Martha	Vest	Saint Paul	MN	55105	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Meryle A.	Korn	Bellingham	WA	98226	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Nancy	Campbell	Indianapolis	IN	46254	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Margery	Groten	Poughkeepsie	NY	12603	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Albert	Fecko	Center Line	MI	48015	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mlou	Christ	Anaheim	CA	92801	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
M	Walters	Tampa	FL	33606	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sarah	Nagle	warwick	RI	2818	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, jo ann	schneider	berkeley	CA	94704	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Larry	Bogoslaw	Bloomington	MN	55420	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Robert	Howard	Miramar	FL	33027	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Marc	Beschler	New York	NY	10022	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Matthew	Schaut	Minneapolis	MN	55406	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ricky	Taylor	Everett	WA	98208	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Gary	Block	Orland Park	IL	60467	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Natalie	Lilja	Herndon	VA	20170	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, paul	agosta	houston	TX	77025	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Harriet	McCleary	MN	MN	55404	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Nick	Esser	Simi Valley	CA	93065	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mark	Suazo	Cleveland	TN	37312	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Todd	Zachritz	Evansville	IN	47711	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mary Anne	Combs	NC	NC	28752	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Paul	Brooks	IN	IN	46350	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Christina	Campbell	Villa Park	IL	60181	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Marquita	Telleir	Ghent	ot	9031	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Magali	CHEVALIER	-- S├─lectionner --	ot	77390	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Paul	Feschuk	Chicago	IL	60626	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Laurie	Puca	New York	NY	10956	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ryan	Acebo	Oakland	CA	94602	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lisa	Geldersma	MI	MI	48885	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Anne-Marie	Hewitt	Bromsgrove	NY	12345	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Anne-Marie	Hewitt	Bromsgrove	NY	12345	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Judy	Mcclung	WEAVERVILLE	NC	28787	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Paulette	Tipper	Swanton	VT	5488	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ron	Goldman	Los Altos	CA	94024	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, pat	everett	magnolia	TX	77355	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Gloria	Picchetti	IL	IL	60613	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Gloria	Picchetti	IL	IL	60613	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Pam	Hunt	Riverhead	NY	11901	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Karline	Rousseau	Howell	MI	48855	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, d	fassman	westbury	NY	11590	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Roland	Beyer	WI	WI	71116	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, paula	phillips	PA	PA	18902	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Pamela	Alcid	Watervliet	NY	12189	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Please. Could humans actually care for and not kill as a "management" strategy? - Sincerely,
Muriel K	Kruppa	South Portland	ME	4106	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Pat	Wentz	Pensacola	FL	32514	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Melvin	Bautista	Arizona	AZ	86511	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Craig	Brown	Bloomington	MN	55431	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, sabine	greger	az	AZ	86336	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, sabine	greger	az	AZ	86336	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Peter R	Griesinger	OH	OH	44040	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carol C	Wagner	Williston	VT	5495	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, michael	maggied	mesa	AZ	85204	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Leigh	Begalske	Green Bay	WI	54302	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Leigh	Begalske	Green Bay	WI	54302	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Peggy A	Tagesen	Louisiana	LA	70068	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ronald	Kestler	Louisville	KY	40223	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Richard	Bourne	Fort Myers Beach	FL	33931	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Richard	Bourne	Fort Myers Beach	FL	33931	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Beth	Stanberry	Asheville	NC	28802	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sara	Kennedy	Ann Arbor	MI	48105	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sara	Kennedy	Ann Arbor	MI	48105	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Rob	Jankowski	Arizona	AZ	86401	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Malinda	Plog	Scottsbluff	NE	69361	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Michael	Norden	OH	OH	43512	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jamie	Rasmussen	NC	NC	28037	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sandra	McCarthy	Commerce City	CO	80022	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sarah	Mundal	San Francisco	CA	94116	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Olivier	Resca	Lee	MA	1238	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, s	w	ROCKVILLE CENTRE	NY	11570	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Nancy	Roberts	Omaha	NE	68132	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Phil	O'Brien	seattle	WA	98107	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Paul	Schneller	Bloomington	IN	47408	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Quida	JACOBS	Miami Beach	FL	33141	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Roslyn	Simon	Portland	OR	97212	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Nicole	Rahman	MORRISVILLE	PA	19067	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
D. C.	HARRIS	Tulsa	OK	74104	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
D. C.	HARRIS	Tulsa	OK	74104	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Nicole	jergovic	portland	OR	97201	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ray	Brien	Fort Myers	FL	33912	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carolin	Schellhorn	Ardmore	PA	19003	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Patricia	Norton	Massachusetts	MA	91595	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kelly	McConnell	Tigard	OR	97223	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Stephanie	Kaplan	Austin	TX	78750	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Becky	Breeding	Chugiak	AK	99567	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Randy	Handwerger	East Hampton	NY	11937	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Carola	Ebertz-Knop	Walsrode	ot	29664	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carola	Ebertz-Knop	Walsrode	ot	29664	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
bernard	hochendoner	California	CA	95363	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
bernard	hochendoner	California	CA	95363	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lori	Buhlman	Phoenix	AZ	85013	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, sarah	pope	new york	NY	10011	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Allie	Lebel	Millis	MA	2054	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Richard	Hendricks	Webster	NY	14580	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, julia	waller	London	ot	SE24 9LR	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Flora	Pino Garc├ía	Seleccione un Estado	ot	0	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
RuthAnn	Francese	Wappingers Falls	NY	12590	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sandi	Redman	Illinois	IL	60077	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sandi	Redman	Illinois	IL	60077	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
PauleAnne	Pruneau	Baltimore	MD	21222	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
PauleAnne	Pruneau	Baltimore	MD	21222	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kimberly	McConkey	Anchorage	AK	99508	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Stephanie	Feyne	New York	NY	10023	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
O.	Ruiz	Clifton	NJ	7013	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
O.	Ruiz	Clifton	NJ	7013	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jane	Rosen	New York	NY	10011	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
SANDRINE	MARKEY	BRUNOY	ot	91800	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Barbara	Charles	New York	NY	10019	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Keith	Bruno	McCall	ID	83638	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Gillian	Miller	Miami	FL	33165	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jennifer	Bell	New Jersey	NJ	7075	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Gary	Cobb	Forkston Twp.	PA	18629	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ian	Cunningham	New Braunfels	TX	78130	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sara	Bhakti	Kirkland	WA	98033	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sara	Bhakti	Kirkland	WA	98033	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Rita	Eccles	Phoenix	AZ	85014	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Garry	Taroli	PA	PA	18711	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Garry	Taroli	PA	PA	18711	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Mark	Hallett	Bloomington	IN	47408	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mark	Hallett	Bloomington	IN	47408	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Susan	Friedland	VT	VT	5647	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Heidi	Beck	Renton	WA	98057	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mary	Englert	Portland	OR	97202	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
KEVIN	BOLEMBACH	New Jersey	NJ	7012	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Glen	Zeeck	New Jersey	NJ	7825	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Graeme	McDonald	VIC	ot	3133	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jeanette	Holmgren	Boden	ot	96167	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Geoff	Blanco	IN	IN	46385	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Marc	Draper	Millcreek	UT	84109	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Linda	Howe	Elmont	NY	11003	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lindley	Barden	Pensacola	FL	32526	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lindley	Barden	Pensacola	FL	32526	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carol	McWhirter	Nebraska	NE	68832	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Robert	Ford	WY	WY	82009	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Adam	Kimmel	New York	NY	10003	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Fred	Lavy	HARRISONBURG	VA	22802	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Natalie	Van Leekwijck	Deurne	ot	68844	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sherry	Marsh	Oceanside	CA	92056	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, darynne	jessler	valley village	CA	91607	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Gene	Fox	Kill Devil Hills	NC	27948	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Gene	Fox	Kill Devil Hills	NC	27948	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Richard D	Alley	Elwood	IN	46036	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Nancy	Woolley	Stoughton	MA	2072	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Penny	Larrett-Earl	South Dakota	SD	57747	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sarah	Hafer	WA	WA	98684	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sarah	Hafer	WA	WA	98684	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Elizabeth	Guthrie	NY	NY	14580	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Martha	Ennis	Albuquerque	NM	87106	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jill	Cresko	Clearwater	FL	33763	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Donna	Sommers	Scottsdale	AZ	85258	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
James H.	Fitch	Overland Park	KS	66225	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, deborah	lancman	bronx	NY	10464	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, wendy	walters	brooklyn	NY	11211	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, john	brinkman	brooklyn	NY	11211	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jill	Hunt	Arlington	VA	22204	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jill	Hunt	Arlington	VA	22204	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Deborah	Voves	Anchorage	AK	99516	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ron	Silver	FL	FL	32233	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, margaret	silver	FL	FL	32233	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Justine	Olmez	North Attlebroro	MA	2760	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Justine	Olmez	North Attlebroro	MA	2760	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, bruce	fowler	arab	AL	35016	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jamee	Warfle	Arden	NC	28704	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sara	Gibson	Flagstaff	AZ	86001	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Judith S	Anderson	Long Beach	CA	90807	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Christie	Robnett	EAST PEORIA	IL	61611/372	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Christie	Robnett	EAST PEORIA	IL	61611/372	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Gary	Beckerman	Santa Ynez	CA	93460	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Michael	Balsai	Philadelphia	PA	19118	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Chilton	Gregory	Albuquerque,	NM	87106	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, betty jean	Herner	Strongsville	OH	44149	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
COLLEEN	McMULLEN	UT	UT	84741	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
COLLEEN	McMULLEN	UT	UT	84741	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Diane	Weinstein	Issaquah	WA	98029	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Gisela	Boderke	Denver	CO	80221	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Eric	Pihl	IL	IL	60005	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
E S	Shulman	Palm Beach	FL	33480	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Joyce	Faulk	Austin	TX	78749	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
George	Stadnik	Astoria	NY	11103	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kimberly	Seger	Kittanning	PA	16201	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Katherine	Babiak	Maryland	MD	20677	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Andy	Lupenko	Lemon Grove	CA	91945	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
John	Walker	Maryland	MD	20677	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
William	Sherman	Mountain Home	AR	72653	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
William	Sherman	Mountain Home	AR	72653	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Pamela	Crouse-Haas	Haddon Heights	NJ	8035	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, anthony	Montapert	CA	CA	93004	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ned	Egen	Arizona	AZ	85719	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jerry	Golden	Illinois	IL	61727	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Leah	Plant	Fruita	CO	81521	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
June	MacArthur	Port Orchard	WA	98366	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
June	MacArthur	Port Orchard	WA	98366	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Terri	Knauber	cheektowaga	NY	14225	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
William	Dane	Alta Loma	CA	91701	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Judy	Genandt	East Dundee	IL	60118	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Donald	Garlit	Canton	MI	48187	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Donald	Garlit	Canton	MI	48187	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Ignatius	Fay	Sudbury	ON	P3A 5M9	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Doris	McNitt	New York	NY	13815	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Heidi	Hunt	ME	ME	4856	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Heidi	Hunt	ME	ME	4856	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Richard	Rothstein	Lakewood Ranch	FL	34202	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sandra	Lynn	Dripping Springs	TX	78620	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
James	Viney	salt lake city	UT	84108	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Heather	Cross	Brooklyn	NY	11222	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lorene	Milligan	Valley Villlage	CA	91607	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, elizabeth	wallace	DC	DC	20008	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Saundra	Crowell	NY	NY	11787	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Helen	Anderson	Portland	ME	4103	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
DAVID	BRADBURY	SANTA FE	NM	87501	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
DAVID	BRADBURY	SANTA FE	NM	87501	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jan	Kampa	Soquel	CA	95073	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
John	Teevan	Red Bank	NJ	7701	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this declining population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect w wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Ple keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
John	Teevan	Red Bank	NJ	7701	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
John	Teevan	Red Bank	NJ	7701	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sharon	Fisher	VA	VA	22630	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sharon	Fisher	VA	VA	22630	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sharon	Fisher	VA	VA	22630	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Anthony R.	Rastro	Goodyear	AZ	85395	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Anthony R.	Rastro	Goodyear	AZ	85395	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Dale	Hadler	Winona	MN	55987	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Debbie	Koundry	MA	MA	2452	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, warren	Harkey	New Mexico	NM	88005	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
DC	Katten	AZ	AZ	85331	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Debra	Moore	Clio	MI	48420	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Debra	Moore	Clio	MI	48420	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lawrence	Crowley	Louisville	CO	80027	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lawrence	Crowley	Louisville	CO	80027	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lawrence	Crowley	Louisville	CO	80027	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
carol	alexander	yachats	OR	97498	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
carol	alexander	yachats	OR	97498	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Robert	Dickinson	CT	CT	6074	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Anthony	Donnici	MO	MO	64068	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
William	Aldrich	RI	RI	2888	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Hugh	Roberts	Rio Rancho	NM	87124	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Joy	Nishioka	Davidson	NC	28036	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, merrill	kramer	fl	FL	33763	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Joseph	Darling	New Rochelle	NY	10804	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Bonnie	Faith-Smith	Cambridge	MA	2139	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Bradford	Goodwin	Washington	WA	98038	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, cindy	allison	Texas	TX	78733	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
MaryAnna	Foskett	Arlington	MA	2476	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
MaryAnna	Foskett	Arlington	MA	2476	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
R	B	Massachusetts	MA	2130	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, michael	stuart	MA	MA	1501	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
C	Potts	Atlanta	GA	30345	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
C	Potts	Atlanta	GA	30345	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Patricia	Greiss	Carlisle	PA	170	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
DJ	Schubert	Egg Harbor Township	NJ	8234	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Marjorie	Hartley	Thompsontown	PA	17094	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Hugh	Havlik	Port Charlotte	FL	33952	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carol	Masuda	AZ	AZ	85716	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carl	Munz	Paradise Valley	AZ	85253	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Linda	Ross	TN - Tennessee	TN	38119	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Suzy	Siegmann	Temple Terrace	FL	33617	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Suzy	Siegmann	Temple Terrace	FL	33617	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Richard	Khanlian	Santa Fe	NM	87505	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Holly	Dietschwright	CO	CO	80003	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Pete	Klosterman	New York	NY	10025	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Margaret	Beck	Grosse Pointe Farms	MI	48236	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sarah	Stewart	Cambridge	MA	2472	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Sarah	Stewart	Cambridge	MA	2472	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Claudia	von Grunebaum	Winston-Salem	NC	27101	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Randy	Thomas	Richardson	TX	75080	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Nancy	Buckner	steger	IL	60475	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Laura	Nevins	TN	TN	37029	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Michael	Carney	Runnemede	NJ	8078	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Stacey	Wolfe	Lake Shore	MD	21122	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Linda	Catlin	Armonk	NY	10504	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Hillary	Demetropoulos	Brooklyn	NY	11225	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Beverly	Blackburn	San Antonio	TX	78216	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Glynis	boyd	jefferson	OH	44047	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Clara Elsa	Perez	Hollywood	FL	33312	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jesse	Goldin	Astoria	NY	11102	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jesse	Goldin	Astoria	NY	11102	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jennifer	Cunningham	Aurora	IL	60506	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jennifer	Cunningham	Aurora	IL	60506	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Jennifer	Starr	OR	OR	97701	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Dean	Webb	Seattle	WA	98199	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, rita	meuer	Madison	WI	53704	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jean	Morningstar	CA	CA	91803	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Michael	Brown	Eugene	OR	97405	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Alexis	Cisneros	Laredo	TX	78043	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Janus	Woods	Illinois	IL	61820	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
James	Little	Palo Alto	CA	94301	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Robert	Oakes	Putney	VT	5346	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Caroline	Bissey	Christchurch	ot	8025	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Megan	Roemer	Boulder	CO	80306	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mark	Stevens	Danville	CA	94526	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Rachel	Ford	Portland	OR	97219	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, derk	rijks	Ornex	ot	1210	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
John	Feeney	Boulder	CO	80304	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Steven	Calver	Salford	ot	M3 6HU	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
mary	eastes	indianapolis	IN	46203	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
mary	eastes	indianapolis	IN	46203	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
John	Erickson	Southgate	MI	48195	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, rachel	chaput	dingmans ferry	PA	18328	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Joyce	Pusel	Durham	NC	27713	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
James	Dudzinski	Reno	NV	89509	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Bob	Harper	Indianapolis	IN	46208	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Luis Jorge	Rivera-Herrera	San Juan	PR	936	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mari T.	Echevarria	Knoxville	TN	37909	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mari T.	Echevarria	Knoxville	TN	37909	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ursula	Fuller	Canvey Island	ot	SS8 9QP	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this declining population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect w wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Ple keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ursula	Fuller	Canvey Island	ot	SS8 9QP	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Patricia	Platt	OH	OH	45064	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Joanie	Vigh	Kentwood	MI	49508	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
James	Thoubboron	Ringwood	NJ	7456	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Justine	Rolfe	....	ot	LN6 0YN	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Katherine	Cadury	Burnhaupt-le-Haut	ot	68520	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ivo	M╠╝ller	Villingen	ot	78048	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ivo	M╠╝ller	Villingen	ot	78048	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jared	Polens	NORTH ADAMS	MA	1247	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Karen	Spradlin	Alabama	AL	36265	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Tamara	Shurling	Guyton	GA	31312	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mel	Dickerson	Tecumseh	MI	49286	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Isabel and Carl	Cohen	Omaha	NE	68105	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. There are so few left! Please, spare them all!!! For the sake of all of us. - - Sincerely,
Cassandra	Browning	Salem	OR	97302	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kathy	Jacobs	Fort Collins	CO	80525	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kathy	Jacobs	Fort Collins	CO	80525	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kelly	Shaw	Fennville	MI	49408	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jim	Allen	Rolling Meadows	IL	60008	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Gary	Maybank	Dagenham	ot	RM9 6TP	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mike	Kenney	Hensley	AR	72065	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Joseph	Hayes	Grand Junction	CO	81503	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Joseph	Hayes	Grand Junction	CO	81503	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ken	Gibb	Zephyr cove	NV	89448	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Duane	Gustafson	Cook	MN	55723	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Steven	Tracy	Gastonia	NC	28054	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
JESSE	COUNTERMAN	IA	IA	51104	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
E'liane	Khang	ID	ID	83204	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kerby	Miller	Columbia	MO	65203	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, chad	fuqua	houston	TX	77080	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ken	Epstein	NY	NY	11360	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Laura	Jobe	Texas	TX	77584	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Dennis	Miller	Falkville	AL	35622	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Terrie	Williams	TX	TX	77662	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Terrie	Williams	TX	TX	77662	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Janet	Connor	New City	NY	10956	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kinney	Evitt	Odessa	TX	79761	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Jim and Mary	Abendroth	New York	NY	12913	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
John	Murray	Dallas	TX	75248	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
John	Mitchel	Tucson	AZ	85743	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Joan B.	Hunter-Brody	Holliston	MA	1746	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lois	Shadix	Cincinnati	OH	45244	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Marilyn	Hanson	Tucson	AZ	85743	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jayna	Monroe	Dallas	TX	75249	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Karen	Balmer	Lakewood	OH	44107	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Joel	Drembus	Reston	VA	20191	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Joel	Drembus	Reston	VA	20191	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, heidi	uppgaard	mpls	MN	55417	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, susan	thompson	Audubon	PA	19403	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Leslie	Little	Rantoul	IL	61866	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Leslie	Little	Rantoul	IL	61866	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Marilyn	Evenson	Vermilion	OH	44089	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Marilyn	Evenson	Vermilion	OH	44089	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Gavin	Kramer	Ewing	NJ	8638	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jon	Hager	Riverton	UT	84065	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jon	Hager	Riverton	UT	84065	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kathleen	Mohning	Nashville	TN	37203	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kathleen	Mohning	Nashville	TN	37203	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
James	Shambo	Peyton	CO	80831	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lynne	Bemer	Northville	MI	48167	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Christina	Babst	CA	CA	90069	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kendrick	Wilson	Tucson	AZ	85701	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kathryn	Rose	CO	CO	80205	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Paul	Kripli	FL	FL	32907	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Karen	Weigel	Fredoina	WI	53021	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Karen	Weigel	Fredoina	WI	53021	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Michael	Fine	Bethesda	MD	20814	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ted	Harris	West Lafayette	IN	47906	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ted	Harris	West Lafayette	IN	47906	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Katherine	Iosif	Palm Springs	CA	92264	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Katherine	Iosif	Palm Springs	CA	92264	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Janet C.	Dwire	ALEXANDRIA	VA	22315	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, karen	krause	albany	NY	12205	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kerri	Kowing	Sun Prairie	WI	53590	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
J	Stufflebeam	Oregon City	OR	97045	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, j	r	orting	WA	98360	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Paul	Verzosa	Temple Terrace	FL	33637	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Drew	Roenneburg	Monona	WI	53716	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sabrina	Mazza	Grandola ed Uniti	ot	22010	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kristina	Gravette	Issaquah	WA	98027	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kristina	Gravette	Issaquah	WA	98027	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Rob	Gonzalez	Davie	FL	33328	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Rob	Gonzalez	Davie	FL	33328	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jody	Goldstein	Rochester	MN	55903	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Michele	Ozuna	Houston	TX	77036	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Anthony	Margraf	Medford	NY	11763	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carol	Metzger	Kents Store	VA	23084	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Diego	Clemente	Maastricht	ot	6226CH	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Gian Andrea	Morresi	Bridgeport	CT	6604	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Scott	Species	WA	WA	98101	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lin	Koester	AZ	AZ	86322	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, victoria	fuller	sagle	ID	83860	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Pamela	Miko	Severn	MD	21144	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please, plea Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, lisa	jeremic	victoria	BC	v9a 2c5	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Heather	Hamilton	Milan	MI	48160	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Heather	Hamilton	Milan	MI	48160	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Debbie	Sequichie-Kerchee	Cache	OK	73527	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Debbie	Sequichie-Kerchee	Cache	OK	73527	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
lorraine	foster	portland	OR	97202	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
lorraine	foster	portland	OR	97202	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Arlene	Dreste	AZ	AZ	85321	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Norma	Molina	Florida	FL	33607	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jeff	Somers	Lynchburg	VA	24503	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Joseph	Haemmerle	Rockaway	NJ	7866	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kate	Skolnick	Brooklyn	NY	11238	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lyn	Burns	Scottsdale	AZ	85258	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Johan	Lindsj ╪	Uppsala	ot	75653	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mark	Heald	Pleasant Hill	TN	38578	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Robert	Blumenthal	Washington	WA	98115	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Janet	Delaney	Austin	TX	78731	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Janet	Delaney	Austin	TX	78731	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Marcia	Weare	Kalamazoo	MI	49009	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Elaine	Fischer	Roanoke	VA	24018	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Elaine	Fischer	Roanoke	VA	24018	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Elaine	Fischer	Roanoke	VA	24018	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Michelle	Palladine	Palm Springs	CA	92262	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Alan	Citron	Manchester Center	VT	5255	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Malcolm	MacPherson, Ph.D.	Santa Fe	NM	87505	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
James	Wilson	Tupelo	MS	38801	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Debra	Cunningham	Carlsbad	CA	92008	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Alida	Monta├▒ez-Salas	CA	CA	90650	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ann	Hollyfield	Seal Rock	OR	97376	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sam	You	San Antonio	TX	78233	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jan	Koreneef	None	ot	2622 DH	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Vic	Burton	Kansas City	MO	64113	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Vic	Burton	Kansas City	MO	64113	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Wendy	Malmid	Monroe Twp	NJ	8831	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Wendy	Malmid	Monroe Twp	NJ	8831	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kerri	Piazza	La crosse	WI	54603	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Susan	Gottfried	State College	PA	16803	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jocelyn	Blake	Brooklyn	WI	53521	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Paul	Moss	White Bear Lake	MN	55110	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Paul	Moss	White Bear Lake	MN	55110	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Zandra	Talbert	Chapel Hill	NC	27517	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Paula	ada	Manchester	CT	6040	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Joseph	DeMarco	Peabody	MA	1960	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Susan	Drucker	Bowdoinham	ME	4008	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Genevieve	Appel	Sparta	NJ	7871	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Eileen	Roberts	NY	NY	12302	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Aubrey	Minutaglio	NY	NY	11375	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carol	Taggart	Menlo Park	CA	94025	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kim	Maynard	Manhattan Beach	CA	90266	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, adam	whiteman	palm city	FL	31405	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Paul	Davis	Durango	CO	81301	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Dawn	Kosec	Austintown	OH	44515	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Dawn	Kosec	Austintown	OH	44515	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Katrina	Cox	New York	NY	10128	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Jesse	Williams	Ohio	OH	45224	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jesse	Williams	Ohio	OH	45224	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jesse	Williams	Ohio	OH	45224	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Amy	Haines	r	WI	53403	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Anita	Bixenstine	Kent	OH	44240	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Bipin	Giri	Lynnwood	WA	98087	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Cristy	Murray	Oregon City	OR	97045	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Cristy	Murray	Oregon City	OR	97045	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Thomas	Connor	NEW YORK	NY	12589	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, k	manning	indianapolis	IN	46234	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Gordon	Parker III	Albuquerque	NM	87105	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Alia	Diez	Broomfield	CO	80020	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Steve	Lustgarden	Santa Cruz	CA	95062	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Bhavik	Patel	Arlington	VA	22206	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Harriet	Rosenberg	Sandy Springs	GA	30342	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ellen	McConnell	NJ	NJ	8872	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Michael	Skidmore	Chicago	IL	60660	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Dawn	Florio	north royalton	OH	44133	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Alycia	Staats	Seattle	WA	98115	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
William	McCullough	SC	SC	29036	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
s	b	don't ask for this	CA	94901	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
s	b	don't ask for this	CA	94901	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ellen	Morgan	La Grange	IL	60525	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ellen	Morgan	La Grange	IL	60525	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
David	Brodnax	IL	IL	60304	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
David	Brodnax	IL	IL	60304	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, mike	hlat	buffalo	NY	14218	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, mike	hlat	buffalo	NY	14218	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Judy	Cohen	Davenport	IA	52803	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Judy	Cohen	Davenport	IA	52803	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Betsy	Lyman	Boyertown	PA	19512	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
BobbyKat	LittleCub	Kankakee	IL	60901	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Brenda	Robinson	Toronto	ON	M4H 1C9	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kaaren	Zvonik	Green Valley	AZ	85614	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sue	Perry	Asheville	NC	28804	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carol P.	Christ	Berkeley	CA	94704	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Nancy Jo	Kirk	Kennesaw	GA	30152	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Phyllis	Cole	Tarpon Springs	FL	34689	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Connie	Bishop	Morganton	NC	28655	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Barb	Watts	Louisville	KY	40204	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Christiane	Vander Motte	Brussels	ot	B-1083	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Christiane	Vander Motte	Brussels	ot	B-1083	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, sharron	laplante MD	tolland	CT	6084	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Bonnie	Weber	Flanders	NY	11901	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Bebe	McCarthy	Connecticut	CT	6877	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Frances	Chen	Lafayette	IN	47904	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Frances	Chen	Lafayette	IN	47904	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, reba	worden	Ballston Spa	NY	12020	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
sam	rosa	hialeah	FL	33018	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
sam	rosa	hialeah	FL	33018	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Barbara	MacAlpine	Estes Park	CO	80517	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Deborah	Dobski	Haines Falls	NY	12436	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Alan	Olander	Nevis	MN	56467	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
John	Dierig	OH	OH	45140	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
John	Dierig	OH	OH	45140	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Dianne	Wilson	Ohio	OH	45177	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Saskia	Santos	Columbia	SC	29206	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Saskia	Santos	Columbia	SC	29206	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Suzanne	Covello	Middleway	WV	25430	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
William	Neill	Chicago	IL	60614	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Patricia	Pritchard	Milford	CT	6460	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Daniel	Willner	Katonah	NY	10536	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Anne	Firestone	IL	IL	61914	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Shara	Cottam	New York	NY	10128	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Alan	Jasper	New York	NY	11566	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Dana	Pierson	Arizona	AZ	85050	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
John	Mahan	Hendersonville	NC	28739	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Trish	Stevens	Troy	ME	4987	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Donald	Schwartz	MD	MD	21209	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Daniel	Murphy	Toronto	ON	M4S 2K8	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
David J. B.	Singer, MD, PhD, FAC	Colorado	CO	81611	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Rebecca	Brown	Tennessee	IL	62374	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Dorcas	MacClintock	Hamden	CT	6517	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
David	Chervek	Saint Louis	MO	63123	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
David	Chervek	Saint Louis	MO	63123	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Pat	Edgar	Lt Chalfont	ot	HP79NE	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Pat	Edgar	Lt Chalfont	ot	HP79NE	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carol	Nix	Plymouth	IN	46563	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Arlene	Zimmer	Rancho Palos Verdes	CA	90275	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Arlene	Zimmer	Rancho Palos Verdes	CA	90275	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Kirsten	Schelbert	Evanston	IL	60201	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Katherine	O'Sullivan	New York	NY	10034	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Dale	Barclay	Lancaster	CA	93536	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Karla	Garcia	Miami	FL	33176	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Douglas	Diamond	Minneapolis	MN	55454	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Zorika	Henderson	Ithaca	NY	14850	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, deborah	chisholm	Connecticut	CT	6492	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Brian	Glover	Greenville	NC	27858	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
BJoern	Mannsfeld	Colorado	CO	80205	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this declining population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect w wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Ple keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
BJoern	Mannsfeld	Colorado	CO	80205	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Annemarie	Meier-Sollberger	Switzerland	ot	5235	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Doyleoyle	Adkins	Burleson	TX	76028	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
KJ	Linarez	Carmichael	CA	95608	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
KJ	Linarez	Carmichael	CA	95608	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Joan	Scott	California	CA	91006	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ron	Liebelt	Deephaven	MN	55391	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Emily	Lancaster	Guelph	ON	N1k 1r6	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
David	Worley	Reno	NV	89512	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ben	Brooks	Somerville	MA	2145	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ben	Brooks	Somerville	MA	2145	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Brittanny	Norton	ILLINOIS	IL	60202	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Cathie	Barrows	Orinda	CA	94563	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Nancy	Arbuckle	Menlo Park	CA	94025	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jan	McCreary	Silver City	NM	88062	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Claire	Perricelli	Eureka	CA	95501	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Bettina	Wilkinson	Valencia	PA	16059	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Dennis	Morley	Old Bridge	NJ	8857	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Dennis	Morley	Old Bridge	NJ	8857	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Faith	Conroy	MT	MT	59720	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Faith	Conroy	MT	MT	59720	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Debra	Hoven	Nazareth	PA	18064	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Frank	Lorch	North Carolina	NC	28203	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Christine	McClintock	King George	VA	22485	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kevin	Parks	Point Pleasant	NJ	8742	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Freyda	Isaacs	Willowdale	ON	M2M 3A5	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Abigail	Gindele	Portsmouth	NH	3801	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Abigail	Gindele	Portsmouth	NH	3801	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Janet	Kalman	Florida	FL	33431	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Janet	Kalman	Florida	FL	33431	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
(Dr.) Joan	BELL-KAUL	Madison	WI	53704	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
(Dr.) Joan	BELL-KAUL	Madison	WI	53704	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kelly	Garbato	Plattsburg	MO	64477	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Doris	Barnes	West Hurley	NY	12491	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Julie	Skelton	Belleville	MI	48111	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Barclay	Hauber	MO	MO	64111	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Anne	Saxe	Spring Hill	TN	37174	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Elizabeth	Shundi	Amenia	NY	12501	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Anita	Comer	Johnstown	CO	80534	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Rebecca	Summer	Silver City	NM	88061	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sarah	Hall	Burbank	CA	91502	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
John	Sutherland	Arkansas	AR	71602	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
John	Sutherland	Arkansas	AR	71602	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Debbie	Slack	Lynchburg	VA	24502	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Judy	Fairless	Warren	NJ	7059	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Evelyn	Kirkaldy	Slocan Park	BC	V0G 2E0	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jamie	Green	Ventura	CA	93004	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, stephanie	king	denver	CO	80204	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Paul	Lima	Coeur d'Alene	ID	83814	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Frank	Blake	Houston	TX	77006	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
William	Stone	Austin	TX	78757	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Henry	Berkowitz	Sabinsville	PA	16943	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. We have se once given the chance. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Henry	Berkowitz	Sabinsville	PA	16943	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kathryn	Mosher	Eagan	MN	55122	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Sarah	Rose	New York	NY	11727	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, frank	florin	WI	WI	54725	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Paul	Schmalzer	Titusville	FL	32780	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, jacqueline	fuller	Weymouth	MA	2188	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Tina	McBride	Massachusetts	MA	2420	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
John	Keiser	New York	NY	10009	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Joe	Connors	New York	NY	10039	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Joe	Connors	New York	NY	10039	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Autumn	Croft	Morganton	NC	28655	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Bob	Haugen	Minnesota	MN	55422	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Adam	Flogel	Wisconsin	WI	53406	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Brenda	Michaels	Issaquah	WA	98027	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Philip	Rampi	Saint Paul	MN	55105	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jon	klingel	Santa Fe	NM	87505	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Robert	Petersen, M.D.	Cambridge	MA	2138	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Judith	Wilson	Wheatland	WY	82201	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Judith	Wilson	Wheatland	WY	82201	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Judith	Wilson	Wheatland	WY	82201	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Antje	Fray	Washington	CT	6793	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Antje	Fray	Washington	CT	6793	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Robert	Joll	Pittsburgh	PA	15237	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Robert	Joll	Pittsburgh	PA	15237	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Richard	Bossart	Prilly	ot	1008	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jennifer	Lockett	WA	WA	98122	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jennifer	Lockett	WA	WA	98122	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Randall	Hartman	Torrance	CA	90503	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Francesca	Bernabei	Lasne	ot	1380	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Unai	Fuente G├│mez	Navalcarnero	ot	28600	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Unai	Fuente G├│mez	Navalcarnero	ot	28600	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Diana	Greenhalgh	New Milton	WV	26411	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Anna-Marie	Soper-O'Rourke	Atlanta	GA	30329	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Anna-Marie	Soper-O'Rourke	Atlanta	GA	30329	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Danielle	Gutelius	Elwood	IL	60421	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Gina	Coviello	Ontario	NY	14519	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Cathy	Jubb	London	ot	SE3 8ST	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Darren	Jollimore	Edmonton	AB	T5H 4M6	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Dorothy	Jordan	Lynden	WA	98264	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Andrew	Lazin	Winter Springs	FL	32708	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Glenn	Francisco	Louisville	KY	40207	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, jennifer	unger	york	PA	17404	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, lisa	allarde	green lane	PA	18054	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Cindy	Fine	Gardner	KS	66030	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Cindy	Fine	Gardner	KS	66030	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Landis	Crockett	Quincy	FL	32351	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Landis	Crockett	Quincy	FL	32351	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kathy	Peterson	Palmyra	PA	17078	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
David	Dzikowski	PA	PA	15317	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
David	Dzikowski	PA	PA	15317	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Barry	Smith	Brooklyn	NY	11230	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Barry	Smith	Brooklyn	NY	11230	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
William	Anderson	PA	PA	19121	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sabrina	Commisso	Pittsford	NY	14534	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Amanda	Barry	Mahwah	NJ	7430	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
John	Kraeger	Stanley	NY	14561	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kevin	Carroll	New York	NY	10017	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Stephan	Donovan	Chicago	IL	60625	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carlos	Castro	Bogota	ot	111211	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carlos	Castro	Bogota	ot	111211	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Joann	Ramos	New Jersey	NJ	8830	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Joann	Ramos	New Jersey	NJ	8830	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sandy	De Oliveira	NC	NC	28217	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Danielle	Dzurik	Florida	FL	32308	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Janine	Duncan	Athens	GA	30603	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Karla	Kirmse	New Braunfels	TX	78132	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Kathleen	Medina	Lenox	MA	1240	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kathleen	Medina	Lenox	MA	1240	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, eric	mauguy	tourlaville	ot	50110	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Marie	Marinakis	Newtown Square	PA	19073	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kelly	Urban	LITH	IL	60156	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Tim	Donovan	MN	MN	55116	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
MSgt Michael	Pound, US Army, Reti	Kansas City	MO	64133	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Cindy	Marshall	Fairfield	PA	17320	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
MaElena	De la Fuente	El Paso	TX	79901	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Heather	Sturtz	Chicago	IL	60614	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Debbie	Friesen	AZ	AZ	85743	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Christopher	Nasipak	Austin	TX	78759	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Dana	Whitney	AZ	AZ	85712	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, lynn	learch	Watsonville	CA	95076	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Peter	Hirst	Cheshire	ot	CW10 0NJ	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
John	Moszyk	St Louis	MO	63129	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Steven	Tempelman	Lone Tree	CO	80124	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, marco antonio	nava z	laredo	TX	78041	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Dan	McCoy	Carlsbad	CA	92008	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Christine	Razmus	Arlington Heights	IL	60004	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Alma	Bolden	Marietta	GA	30062	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, judith	tuck	tucson	AZ	85713	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Derek	Gallion	Oakdale	MN	55128	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Florenfe	Morris	Rochester	NY	14609	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Florenfe	Morris	Rochester	NY	14609	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Dorothy	Savage	ROCK SPRINGS	WY	82901	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Manfred	Holm	Sauerlach	ot	82054	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Audrey	Clark	Carlsbad	CA	92011	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Douglas	Schneller	New Jersey	NJ	7016	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Rebecca	Muzychka	Greenville	NC	27858	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Donald	Kosak	Menomonee Falls	WI	53051	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Cecelia	Samp	Schiller Park	IL	60176	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Josette	Flores	El Paso	TX	79913	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Julie	Lyne	Breckenridge	CO	80424	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Marci	De Sart	MO	MO	63125	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Dan	Tobin	Durango	CO	81301	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jennifer	Westra	Washington	WA	99202	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ernest	Rodriguez	Laredo	TX	78045	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, karen	brant	CA	CA	94117	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jill	Bittner	San Francisco	CA	94109	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sharon	Allen	Mount Shasta	CA	96067	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Diane	Clark	Woolwine	VA	24185	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Diane	Clark	Woolwine	VA	24185	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Connie	Birkenmeier	Bar Harbor	ME	4609	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Connie	Birkenmeier	Bar Harbor	ME	4609	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carla	L	Draper	UT	84020	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carla	L	Draper	UT	84020	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Karen	Anderson	Rollinsville	CO	80474	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Karen	Anderson	Rollinsville	CO	80474	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Liz	Reed	lake villa	IL	60046	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
John	Miller	Tucson	AZ	85749	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Tracy	Ouellette	Bow	WA	98232	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Tracy	Ouellette	Bow	WA	98232	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mario	Guerrero	Gainesville	FL	32608	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Valerie	Dorn	Mount Laurel	NJ	8054	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ingrid	Schneider	Leutenbach	ot	71397	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Gary	Goetz	Carefree	AZ	85377	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Michael	Dorer	Fremont	CA	94538	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, amy	Schumacher	Beavercreek	OH	45440	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, amy	Schumacher	Beavercreek	OH	45440	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Leslie	Krygier	NY	NY	14214	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Rick	Blanchett	Pembroke Pines	FL	33025	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Jackie	Pigott	La Jolla	CA	92037	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
June Ann	Mason	Pittsfield	MA	1201	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Edith	Simpson	New York	NY	12198	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Anna	Bengel	Durham	NC	27701	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Brian	Clark	Flagstaff	AZ	86004	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Brian	Clark	Flagstaff	AZ	86004	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Joseph	Quirk	New York	NY	10009	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mandy	King	Washington	WA	98225	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Douglas	Schleifer	NJ	NJ	8551	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sabine	Abraham	city	ot	1	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sheri	Varner-Munt	Clayton	NC	27520	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sheri	Varner-Munt	Clayton	NC	27520	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Courtney	Stefano	New rochelle	NY	10805	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jeanne	Puerta	Denver	CO	80227	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kate	Jamal	DE	DE	19801	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kate	Jamal	DE	DE	19801	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Erika	Langley	Washington	WA	98118	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jennifer	Behnke	Madison	WI	53705	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Alice	Naegele	Palm Beach Gardens	FL	33410	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Susan	Goldman	Huntington	NY	11743	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Darryl	Colebank	Flagstaff	AZ	86005	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Darryl	Colebank	Flagstaff	AZ	86005	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Darryl	Colebank	Flagstaff	AZ	86005	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
David	Ludlum	Princeton	NJ	8540	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Brian	Kelly	Horsham	PA	19044	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Alyssa	Caralla	Dulles	VA	31021	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Deja	Lizer	Asheville	NC	28806	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Susan	Whipple	Madison	OH	44057	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Shaneel	Deo	Auckland	ot	1041	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Janet	Marineau	Connecticut	CT	6010	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Chris	Munton	Wolverhampton	ot	WV6 9EH	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Lynn	Harman	Plainfield	IL	60586	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, kim	jessum	philadelphia	PA	19103	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jeanne	Doherty	Chicago	IL	60634	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jeanne	Doherty	Chicago	IL	60634	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Barbara	Dell	Texas	TX	77056	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Donna	Butler	Coon Rapids	MN	55433	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Susan	Blain	Gardner	MA	1440	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, cristina	moorman	madrid	ot	28033	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Drew	Pelton	Boulder	CO	80305	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Franziska	Gerhardt	Treuen	ot	8233	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Stefanie	Gross	London	ot	N165PT	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jessica	Nagar	St Louis	MO	63119	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Clairone	Delaney	Laurel	MD	20708	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Thank you. - - Sincerely,
Kristyn	MacPhail	Littleton	CO	80123	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Maria	Asteinza	New York	NY	11375	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Julie	Marquis	Austin	TX	78759	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Nancy	Hafner	Eugene	OR	97401	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. Your goal is to protect our fish and wildlife, not eradicate them. We pay for your services so please do your job and stop reckless practices that affect us all. - - Sincerely, chris	koerner	roxbury	CT	6783	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Tim	Golden	Lincoln	NE	68516	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, jessica	belmonte	wyncote	PA	19095	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Laura	Dicus	Poulsbo	WA	98370	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
S.	Smith	Sound Beach	NY	11789	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
S.	Smith	Sound Beach	NY	11789	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sandra	Couch	Iowa	IL	60564	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sandra	Couch	Iowa	IL	60564	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Rosangela	Lawrence	Whitmore Lake	MI	48189	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mary	Metcalf	Vergennes	VT	5491	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, jane	edsall	mt. sinai	NY	11766	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Penny	Perkins	Corrales	NM	87048	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
June	Helker	WI	WI	53964	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
June	Helker	WI	WI	53964	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Joseph	Phillips	North Carolina	NC	27284	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Joseph	Phillips	North Carolina	NC	27284	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Laura	Zuleta	Saint-Ouen	ot	93400	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Laura	Zuleta	Saint-Ouen	ot	93400	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
a	metcalf	Middlesex	VT	5602	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Shannon	Isaacs	Costa Mesa	CA	92627	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Yvonne	Johnson	Ohio	OH	43080	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Yvonne	Johnson	Ohio	OH	43080	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Annah	Gardner	Minneapolis	MN	55403	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, sydney	hall	CA	CA	93401	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Georgia	Braithwaite	Cottonwood	AZ	86326	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Heidi	Daley	Naperville	IL	60565	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Judy	Westenhoefer	Kutztown	PA	19530	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sandy	Maranesi	Florida	FL	33313	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Daniel	Klein	Brooklyn	NY	11215	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Joanne	Topshe	Plantsville	CT	6479	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Amelia	Fusaro	Atlanta	GA	30305	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, petar	eftimov	Sofia	ot	1574	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ange	Hissler	OH	OH	45211	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, cheryl	davis	Fairfax Station	VA	22039	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jerily	Robinson	CO	CO	80918	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Nancy	Denbo	Cherry Hill	NJ	8034	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, susan	carpenter	milan	NY	12571	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Claude	Robert	Shefford	QC	J2M 1S3	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mikki	Chalker	Binghamton	NY	13905	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Susan	Morgan	Arroyo Seco	NM	87514	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ricki	Newman	Aspen	CO	47630	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sam	Eaton	Middletown	DE	19709	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Stacie	Wooley	Cypress	TX	77433	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jeremiah	Podleski	Sedro Woolley	WA	98284	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Patty	Bonney	Portland	OR	97223	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Denis	Zafiropoulos	Union City	NJ	7087	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Donna	Bookheimer	Douglassville	PA	19518	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Gary	Christensen	Springerville	AZ	85938	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Domestic livestock on Public Lands need to be greatly reduced in numbers....why don't you concentrate your efforts on slashing the numbers of cattle and sheep. This would be of great help for all our wildlife. - - Si
Gary	Christensen	Springerville	AZ	85938	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Randy	Furby	Gretna	NE	68028	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
R.A.	Szumal	Lincolnwood	IL	60712	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
R.A.	Szumal	Lincolnwood	IL	60712	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
R.A.	Szumal	Lincolnwood	IL	60712	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
David	Barnes	Tucson	AZ	85743	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Tiffany	Hutchins	Stevenson	AL	35772	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Tiffany	Hutchins	Stevenson	AL	35772	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Dianne	Flynn	Columbus	OH	43214	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Chadwick	Cox	Norman	OK	73071	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Laurel	Covington	Lutz	FL	33548	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ruth	Darden	Seattle	WA	98115	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Steve	Epstein	La Plata	MD	20646	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
judith	ganem	Tel Aviv	ot	69623	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kevin	Rolfes	Austin	TX	78737	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Donna	Sharp	Veneta	OR	97487	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Emilia	Lausz	PA	PA	18346	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Bruce	Donnell	Santa Fe	NM	87506	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Stephen	Sample	Cave Creek	AZ	85331	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Brian	Fink	PA	PA	19130	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Brian	Fink	PA	PA	19130	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Margaret	Murray	Sheridan	CO	80110	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Leonora	Xhrouet	Davie	FL	33328	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Terri	Crimi	linwood	NJ	8221	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Gretchen	Messer	Cedar Mountain	NC	28718	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Connie	Rogers	Tucson	AZ	85711	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, jan	macek	NM	NM	87544	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Charles	Blair	Lompoc	CA	93436	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
John	Hewitt	Gilroy	CA	95020	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Nancy	Snyder	Cottonwood	AZ	86326	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Nancy	Snyder	Cottonwood	AZ	86326	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jose	Blanco	Zaragoza	ot	50007	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ann Ellen	Tuomey	El Prado	NM	87529	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Norman	Ives	Bourne	ot	PE109QY	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, eugenia	morzenti	Milan	ot	20152	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
David	Smith	Carlisle	MA	1741	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Meghan	MacKenzie	MA	MA	1778	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sarah	Hall	Massachusetts	MA	1901	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Katie	Dyer	Newport	RI	2840	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lisa	Maloney	RI	RI	2906	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Bradley	Houseworth	Stevensville	MI	49127	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lauren	Gramlich	PIERMONT	NH	3779	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Vivian	Newman	South Thomaston	ME	4858	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Elise	Marks	Burlington	VT	5408	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lori	Price	Bristol	CT	6010	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Sandra	Sobanski	Brooklyn	NY	11218	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Eugene	Gorrin	Union	NJ	7083	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kenneth W	Johnson	Oakhurst	NJ	7755	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, nora	connolly	hawthorne	NJ	7506	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Cheryl	Lechtanski	Middletown	NJ	7748	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Marie	Curtis	Oakhurst	NJ	7755	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Don	Salsburg	Brigantine	NJ	8203	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Leonard	Rappe	Roslyn	NY	11576	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Eileen	Corbett	MIddleburgh	NY	12122	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Eric	Evinczik	Buffalo	NY	14222	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Eric	Evinczik	Buffalo	NY	14222	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jaime	Bernthaler	Pennsylvania	PA	15017	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
M	Vlah	Ellwood City	PA	16117	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
M	Vlah	Ellwood City	PA	16117	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Stacey	Bradley	Hastings	PA	16646	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Erika	Boka	King George	VA	22485	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Carol	Gisselquist	PA	PA	17033	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Karen	Vasily	PA	PA	19403	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Karen	Vasily	PA	PA	19403	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Cathy	Wolfe	Bernville	PA	19506	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Frank	Watrous	Herndon	VA	20170	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mary	Gunther	Berlin	MD	21811	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mary	Gunther	Berlin	MD	21811	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, linda	hunt	MD	MD	21901	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Charles	Clusen	Arlington	VA	22207	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jennifer	Butler	NC	NC	28411	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
paul	gallimore	Leicester	NC	28748	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
paul	gallimore	Leicester	NC	28748	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sandra	Clinger	FL	FL	32780	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kenneth	Bowman	Orlando	FL	32817	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Drew	Martin	Lake Worth	FL	33460	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Anita	Newman	Madeira Beach	FL	33708	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Michelle	O'Hanley	Attleboro	MA	2703	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Robert	Johnston	Thamesville	ON	N0P 2K0	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, lennie	rodoff	ocala	FL	34481	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
lennie	rodoff	ocala	FL	34481	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
lennie	rodoff	ocala	FL	34481	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Melissa	Rodgers	Murfreesboro	TN	37128	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jennifer	Edelen	Louisville	KY	40219	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Teresa	Crowner	Newark	OH	43055	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears i outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mary	Hood	Plain City	OH	43064	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mary	Hood	Plain City	OH	43064	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Anne	Randolph	Yellow Springs	OH	45387	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Rev Crow	Swimsaway PhD	New Marshfield	OH	45766	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Harold	Smith	Indianapolis	IN	46256	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sandra	Giardini	Dearborn	MI	48124	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, gail	walter	kalamazoo	MI	49001	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sharon	Gaskill	Black Earth	WI	53515	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Myron	Thornberry	Minneapolis	MN	55403	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, Nelda	Holden	Brookings	SD	57006	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, marcia	heitz	cuba	IL	61427	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, marcia	heitz	cuba	IL	61427	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Susan	Gardner	Independence	MO	64055	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Debra	Gakeler	Overland Park	KS	66210	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Patrick	Judge	Louisiana	LA	70118	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Becky	Andrews	Baton Rouge	LA	70810	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Colleen	Dean	Dallas	TX	75228	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Joy	Keeping	Richmond	TX	77406	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kevin	Floyd	El Paso	TX	79912	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Donna	Bonetti	Boulder	CO	80303	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jorge	Andromidas	CO	CO	80220	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Linda	Drescher	Golden	CO	80401	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Tom	Andrews	Lyons	CO	80540	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Leigh Ann	Phillips	Crestone	CO	81131	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Stephen	Lesjak	California	CA	95949	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Verlene	Lewis	St George	UT	84790	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Terry	Tedesco-Kerrick	Phoenix	AZ	85016	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Terry	Tedesco-Kerrick	Phoenix	AZ	85016	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Rudolf	Dankwort	PHOENIX	AZ	85021	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Roger and Susan	Athey	Scottsdale	AZ	85254	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Steven	Sardo	Scottsdale	AZ	85255	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Robert	Conway	Tempe	AZ	85283	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Glen	Domulevicz	Hereford	AZ	85615	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Duncan	Brown	Tucson	AZ	85710	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Duncan	Brown	Tucson	AZ	85710	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Susan	Brandes	Tucson	AZ	85716	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Bonnie	Poulos	Tucson	AZ	85719	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Justin	Schmidt	Tucson	AZ	85745	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Justin	Schmidt	Tucson	AZ	85745	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Deborah	Vath	AZ	AZ	85745	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Lee	Winslow	Michigan	MI	48854	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. In lite of the wolf policies in Wyoming, Montana and Idaho, we can't expect much better from them on bear hunting.
Richard	Cady	Prescott	AZ	86305	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Brian	Christian	Rio Rancho	NM	87124	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Brian	Christian	Rio Rancho	NM	87124	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sarah	Oakes	Santa fe	NM	87501	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sharon	Orbach	Santa Fe	NM	87505	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Tim	McKimmie	Las	NM	88005	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Michael	Roe	Columbus	OH	43235	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jon	Povill	Topanga	CA	90290	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lynn	Wolf	Saugus	CA	91350	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Dennis	Holz	Encinitas	CA	92024	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Elizabeth	Painter	Santa Barbara	CA	93105	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Stephen	Ferry	CA	CA	93111	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Tricia	Wardlaw	Santa Barbata	CA	93111	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Arthur	Kennedy	Isla Vista	CA	93117	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, lauren	friedman	Daly City	CA	94014	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Julie	Beer	Palo Alto	CA	94306	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Shirley	Mercado	CALIFORNIA	CA	94518	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carin	h	Fremont	CA	94536	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kim	Brink	Fremont	CA	94555	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Corinne	Greenberg	Berkeley	CA	94707	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Gina	Farr	CA	CA	94930	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
John	Deamer	Mill Valley	CA	94941	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Brian	Weissbuch	San Anselmo	CA	94960	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Chris	Burns	Abiquiu	NM	87510	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Katie	Zukoski	Chico	CA	95928	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Brad	Nahill	Beaverton	OR	97007	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Charlie	Graham	Hillsboro	OR	97124	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Dvora	Robinson	Portland	OR	97206	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Dvora	Robinson	Portland	OR	97206	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Dvora	Robinson	Portland	OR	97206	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Richard	Hanes	Grants Pass	OR	97527	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Karen	Sinclair	Grants Pass	OR	97527	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Manuela	Winter	Seattle	WA	98126	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Gordon	Wood	Seattle	WA	98144	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
M	Carson	Miami	FL	33176	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Bob	Aegerter	Bellingham	WA	98229	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Amy	Mower	Maple Falls	WA	98266	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Amy	Mower	Maple Falls	WA	98266	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Cathy	Strum	WA	WA	98502	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lorrie	Eaton	Lacey	WA	98503	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lyle	Collins	Yakima	WA	98908	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lyle	Collins	Yakima	WA	98908	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Grant	Low	Washington	WA	99350	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Gerald	Brookman	Kenai	AK	99611	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Gerald	Brookman	Kenai	AK	99611	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
R	Sweet	delaaware	FL	32809	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Hilary	Killam	Irving	TX	75038	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Sherrie	Emerine	GEORGIA	GA	30677	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Betty	Butler	Rumson	NJ	7760	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Betty	Butler	Rumson	NJ	7760	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sarah	Stahelin	Bemidji	MN	56601	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Geoff	Drumm	Arizona	AZ	86323	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, hoper	ashley	compton	CA	90223	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Tom	Quinn	Washington	DC	20015	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Gail	Rich	Florida	FL	32259	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Paul	Brunelle	Tucson	AZ	85718	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Frances	McDonal	Appleton	WI	54911	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Cathy	Zavistoski	Sturbridge	MA	1566	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
NINI	BLOCH	Bedford	MA	1730	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Keith	Marcotte	boston	MA	2130	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Thank you for your consideration. - - Sincerely,
Shirley	Davis	Orono	ME	4473	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Alexandra	Samaras	Camden	ME	4843	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Alexandra	Samaras	Camden	ME	4843	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Anne	Rockwell	Bridgeport	CT	6604	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Denise	Kobylarz	Pequannock	NJ	7440	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Anita	Cannata Nowell	Jefferson	TX	75657	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Louis	Vitiello	Hackensack	NJ	7601	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Chris	Washington	New York	NY	10019	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Eva	Landeo	New York	NY	10024	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Michelle	Ognjanovic	New York	NY	10025	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Deborah	Parker	Washington	WA	98229	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Harry	Harrison	White Plains	NY	10605	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Thomas	Artin	NY	NY	10976	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Tracy	Marotta	NY	NY	11214	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Alba	Alvarado	NY	NY	11552	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Karen	Mott	Greenlawn	NY	11740	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, victoria	feuerstein	Smithtown	NY	11787	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, jeanne	sheats	Pennsylvania	PA	15239	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Debbie	Thomas	Fernley	NV	89408	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Jenny	Ruckdeschel	Rosemont	PA	19010	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Maryann	Wardach	DE	HI	19810	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Maryann	Wardach	DE	HI	19810	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Maryann	Wardach	DE	HI	19810	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Barbara	Carr	Kingsville	MD	21087	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Paul	Collins Jr	Hillsborough	NC	27278	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Christine	Drea	NC	NC	27707	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, marcia	bailey	North Carolina	NC	28714	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, laurence	skirvin	villa rica	GA	30180	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
laurence	skirvin	villa rica	GA	30180	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Tammy	Underwood	Fayetteville	GA	30214	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Melinda	Themm	lauderdale lakes	FL	33319	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Theresa	Perenich	Georgia	GA	30606	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carrie	Lattarulo	GA	GA	31030	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Theresa	Lianzi	Fort Myers	FL	33913	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
D	Barcilon	Miami	FL	33133	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Bonnie	Mc Cune	Florida	FL	33143	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Michael	DeLoye	Boynton Beach	FL	33426	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. This population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears in other areas arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature since state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it is impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this de bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Nancy	Lowell	Tampa	FL	33617	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ann	Little	Vestavia Hills	AL	35216	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Teresa	Iovino	Tennessee	TN	38117	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Teresa	Iovino	Tennessee	TN	38117	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Wendy	Hinson	Memphis	TN	38122	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Doll	Stanley	Winona	MS	38967	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ford	Barr	Louisville	KY	40207	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
David	Collins	Louisville	KY	40207	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Pat	Johnson	Galloway	OH	43119	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Alice	Sweeley	Grove City	OH	43123	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Elisabeth	Ruppel	Thurmont	MD	21788	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Linda	H	Ashland	OH	44805	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, lawrence	Brigham	Morrow	OH	45152	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, kathleen	kinsey	cincinnati	OH	45209	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
John	Kirchner	Fort Wayne	IN	46807	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kari	Castillo	South Lyon	MI	48178	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Dan & Judy	Dickinson	MI	MI	48808	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Bev	Pollard	Richland	MI	49083	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lauri	Coffman	Cedar Falls	IA	50613	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Joanne	Hesselink	Neshkoro	WI	54960	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Joanne	Hesselink	Neshkoro	WI	54960	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Rose	Knopff	MN	MN	55113	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sue	Halligan	Woodbury	MN	55125	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sue	Halligan	Woodbury	MN	55125	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Nan	Corliss`	Bloomington	MN	55437	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kate	Crowley	MN - Minnesota	MN	55795	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Elizabeth	Walters	Libertyville	IL	60048	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Eva	Thorn	IL	IL	60175	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Richard	Scoles	Wood Dale	IL	60191	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Brad	Walker	Swansea	IL	62223	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
P	Urban	Topeka	KS	66609	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lynell	Withers	Russellville	AR	72802	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jennifer	Fischer	valley mills	TX	76689	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Maria	Rimbau	Houston	TX	77072	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Loren	Clift	Lansing	MI	48910	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kimberly	McBroom	El Paso	TX	79924	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, lNancy	Bain	El Paso	TX	79924	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Alice	Green	Wheat Ridge	CO	80034	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Meg	Clark	Oak Park	IL	60302	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Wendy	Jaques	Sedalia	CO	80135	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Georgia	Mattingly	Longmont	CO	80504	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, jody	newman	durango	CO	81302	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ken	Bush	Sandpoint	ID	83864	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Danielle	Montague-Judd	Wanship	UT	84017	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Danielle	Montague-Judd	Wanship	UT	84017	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
CLYDE	GEORGE	SURPRISE	AZ	85379	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
TONI	THOMAS	Tucson	AZ	85748	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, nancy	godwin	tucson	AZ	85748	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
nancy	godwin	tucson	AZ	85748	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Marilyn	Waltasti	Maricopa	AZ	85138	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mal	Gaff	Lompoc	CA	93436	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lisa	Hammermeister	Granada Hills	CA	91344	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Rich	Moser	Santa Barbara	CA	93111	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lauren	Murdock	Santa Barbara	CA	93110	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Karen	Cappa	Rohnert Park	CA	94928	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Paula	Zerzan	Sonoma	CA	95476	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Casey	Shaffer	Big Bear City	CA	92314	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Anita	Chittenden	Soiuth Lake Tahoe	CA	95683	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, - Anita Chittenden
Anita	Cook	HI	HI	96756	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Clint	Landeen	Canby	OR	97013	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Susan	Wechsler	Corvallis	OR	97330	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Randy	Harrison	Eugene	OR	97402	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Lynn	Burkett	Sacramento	CA	95633	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - For the Grizzlies, thank you for your positive actions on their behalf! - - Sincerely,
Lynn	Burkett	Sacramento	CA	95633	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Thank you for your positive actions in this urgent matter. Americans love grizzly bears; please save them! - - Sincerely,
Larry	Carter	Fairfield	MT	59436	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Marjorir	Ando	WA	WA	98107	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kathleen	Wolfe	Washington	WA	98310	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ronda	Snider	Gig Harbor	WA	98329	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Markus	Stein	Vancouver	WA	98661	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Pat	Bereczki	Vancouver	WA	98684	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Save the grizzly bears now!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!! - Sincerely,
Tina	Brown	Anacortes	WA	98221	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Charles	Arnold	Manchester	NH	3105	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, leona	klerer	stamford	CT	6902	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
leona	klerer	stamford	CT	6902	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Susan Alice	Mufson	New York	NY	10011	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
April	Wielgosz	Crownsville	MD	21032	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mike	Seither	GA	GA	30813	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, willie	hinze	Winston Salem	NC	27106	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Donna	Seckinger	Villa Rica	GA	30180	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Julie	Maisel	Atlanta	GA	30328	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Casey	Weinstein	Hudson	OH	44236	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
James	Brower	Berrien Springs	MI	49103	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Bill	Dahlquist	Woodbury	MN	55125	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, linda	nerad	chicago	IL	60610	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jim	Sherman	Lakeside	AZ	85929	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Christopher	Willcox	CA	CA	93102	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Liz	D.	New Jersey	NJ	7950	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Marcia	Halligan	Viroqua	WI	54665	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carlo	Console	L'Aquila	ot	67100	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carlo	Console	L'Aquila	ot	67100	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, nia	lewis	SHEFFIELD	ot	S10 5NA	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Pamela	Relyea	Jasper	GA	30143	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Michael	Brown	NC	NC	27609	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Juliette	Dzija	Auburn	ME	4210	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Robert	Mitchell	Lexington	KY	40502	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Louise	Preston	Green Cove Spgs	FL	32043	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jackie	Candela	Godfrey	IL	62035	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Karolina	Johnson	Madison	WI	53705	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Karolina	Johnson	Madison	WI	53705	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ann	Tagawa	Boulder	CO	80302	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, st├─phanie	rossenu	beaverton	OR	97005	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
James	Fink	Seattle	WA	98105	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Michael	Martin	Joliet	IL	60435	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Michael	Martin	Joliet	IL	60435	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Louis	Bubala	Carson City	NV	89704	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, kathryn	alexandra	anacortes	WA	98221	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Gina	Marano	Edina	MN	55436	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Gina	Marano	Edina	MN	55436	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Peter	Curia	AZ	AZ	85257	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Charles	Fox	NM	NM	87505	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Robert	McFarland	Los Alamos	NM	87544	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, lenore	Sivulich	New Gloucester	ME	4260	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Martin	Silberberg	Pelham	MA	1002	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Martin	Silberberg	Pelham	MA	1002	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kimberly	Rowlett	Cleveland	TN	37311	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Also, more conservation and preservation of forested, quiet rural buffer zones is needed in SE TN, N GA historic areas such as that of Apison, E. BRainerd, E. Hamilton, Summit, Collegedale, Harrison - Bay State par Lebanon, Flint Springs, Blue Springs, Oak Grove, Red Clay State Historic park area and areas around these such as Cohutta, Cherokee Valley Ga and more, all need to be protected from ongoing forced ex/sub/urbanization and/or rezoning of these lands into other kinds sinkhole which has not opened up yet, and waters flow through this major drainage basin, providing waters for the Coosa, Conasauga, Tallapoosa, waters and also into the Mighty Mississippi river, and so on, providing waters for the many ecosystems which depend or endangered/migratory/threatened) that depends on these waters, as well as the humans that use this as their drinking waters, and to sustain local and other economies. These waters which come through and converge in the SE TN, N GA areas have been said to be sul and these areas in SE TN, N GA areas should be allowed to remain as sparsely populated rural areas, permanently, so as not to pollute these waterways or bring possible sources of contamination closer to them. These areas listed above, do not need more forced ex/su enlarged, widened, or made into highways, interstates, or made into layered roadways, etc., adding pollution to these natural resource rich areas, needlessly. - These areas need to remain quiet, peaceful backwoods, natural rural buffer zones, allowing for more landsc preserved for many generations to come. - It has also become concerning in and around these above areas, that there is more lightening strikes happening than ever before in and around these areas, which are having more underground utilities, such as water, sewer/ EPBhighspeed fiber optic internet being placed in more areas-could any of these things be the cause of the increased lightning strikes, one of which hit so severely that it blew up te road (in another country as reported via the news). This is concenring both for the publ concerned. - We need more prublic awareness and education related to the above issues, as many peoples that live rural and/or in higher popullation areas, need to understand that kind of possible danger, and also the need to preserve these areas and their waterw developments, big business, road/highways/interstate construction, or ex/sub/urbanization from coming out into and/or around these areas. These areas and their natural resources, landscapes, historic roads, waterways, and more, need increased protections from th those working to prevent climate change. No one owns water, so we need (non-TVA, Non, State or local) National Park/Forest protections of that natural resource, and protections of the river basins to protect what cannot and should not be owned, commiditized and peoples, as their natural right, - Please protect these (inter) nationally important areas from danger, including unhealthy amounts of development, or possible contamination from all sources. - - Sincerely,
Vanessa	Alvarado	Evanston	IL	60201	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
D.A.	ROY	HOUSTON	TX	77253	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Brenda	Storti	Downingtown	PA	19335	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Priscilla	August	New York	NY	10003	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Holly	Chisholm	MI	MI	48371	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Holly	Chisholm	MI	MI	48371	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Holly	Chisholm	MI	MI	48371	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Holly	Chisholm	MI	MI	48371	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Holly	Chisholm	MI	MI	48371	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Tricia	Hamilton	Shirley	NY	11967	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Tricia	Hamilton	Shirley	NY	11967	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - What do you think your kids or grandchildren would think of you because of this crap that you are doing. - - Sincerely,
Tricia	Hamilton	Shirley	NY	11967	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kate	Gessert	Eugene	OR	97402	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Vernon	DeWitt	Jonestown	TX	78645	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, joyce	cotter	decatur	GA	30033	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, joyce	cotter	decatur	GA	30033	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lindsay	Wrobel	East Brunswick	NJ	8816	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Eric	McClure	Brooklyn	NY	11215	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Patricia	Orosz-Coghlan	Tucson	AZ	85748	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Patricia	Orosz-Coghlan	Tucson	AZ	85748	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
William	Whitson	Berkeley	CA	94709	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carrie	Abels	Montpelier	VT	5601	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Christie	Ulrich	New Canaan	CT	6840	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Bettina	Bickel	Glendale	AZ	85302	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Caitlin	Welsh	Owings mills	MD	21117	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Naomi	Dutch	China Lake	CA	93555	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, dan	rankin	london	ON	n8w3w2	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Don	Kurz	Jefferson City	MO	65109	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Don	Kurz	Jefferson City	MO	65109	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carla	Womack	Pomona	IL	62975	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carla	Womack	Pomona	IL	62975	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Michael	Bailey	Milton	IN	47357	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Quentin	Fischer	Ronaoke	VA	24018	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Quentin	Fischer	Ronaoke	VA	24018	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Irad	Carmi	Beachwood	OH	44122	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Irad	Carmi	Beachwood	OH	44122	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Anne	Mazar	MA	MA	1756	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Joel	Bonham	Pine Grove	PA	17963	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Tristan	Sophia	Absarokee	MT	59001	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Tristan	Sophia	Absarokee	MT	59001	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Brenda	Peterson	Oregon	OR	97223	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lindsey	Quesinberry	Tucson	AZ	85750	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Andrew	Wadsworth	Reading	PA	19606	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Andrew	Wadsworth	Reading	PA	19606	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carol	Curtis	Majuro	ot	96960	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Beth	McEldowney	Arizona	AZ	85024	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Brian	Hawley	Los Angeles	CA	90046	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Morena	gambarelli	None	ot	42013	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Elaine	Sternberg	Hamilton	VA	20158	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Danielle	Pirotte	Neupr├⌐	ot	4120	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this declining population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect w wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Ple keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Danielle	Pirotte	Neupr├⌐	ot	4120	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Danielle	Pirotte	Neupr├⌐	ot	4120	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Christian	Comstock	Richmond	VA	23229	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Tatiana	Zannou	Athens	ot	14562	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jacqueline	Murtha	Hackettstown	NJ	7840	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Donna	Dione	CONNECTICUT	CT	6417	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Deborah	Livingston	Texas	TX	78757	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Helen	Drwinga	Franklin	TN	37069	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Barbara	Andrews	Metairie	LA	70006	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
CAROL	COLLINS	Dover	DE	19904	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
CAROL	COLLINS	Dover	DE	19904	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sheryl	Porter	Manassas	VA	20109	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
M P	Klein	Brooklyn	NY	11215	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, lisa	cares	beachwood	OH	44122	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Cynthia	Randall	Bloomington	MN	55437	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kris	Henk	Merion Station	PA	19066	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Fay	Richardson	Littleton	CO	80127	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kristin	Schroeder	IN	IN	47404	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Marita	Elsts	Alexandria	VA	22312	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Someone shot Scarface, a much beloved grizzly this past fall. Do not delist grizzlies and let them live safe from the harm of the humans. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regula impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Eric	Dougherty	Perkiomenville	PA	18074	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Katherine	Wright	Milford	MI	48381	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Deanne	O'Donnell	Derry	PA	15627	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Alexandra	Sipiora	IL	IL	60611	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Alexandra	Sipiora	IL	IL	60611	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Maurita	Newton	Bailey	CO	80421	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mark	Crane	Los Angeles	CA	90068	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mark	Crane	Los Angeles	CA	90068	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Michael	Klausing	Nitro	WV	25143	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Michael	Klausing	Nitro	WV	25143	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lisa	Ramaci	NYC	NY	10009	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Judy	Shively	San Diego	CA	92101	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Elizabeth	Smith	Kansas city	MO	64138	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, lise	brenner	brooklyn	NY	11211	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Don B	Stewart	PA	PA	19611	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, chris	hook	CA	CA	90272	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Melissa	Simmons	OH	OH	45211	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Melinda	Thayne	Federal Way	WA	98023	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
MARY	GUILLET	Winsted	CT	6098	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Stefania	Marchesotti	21033	ot	21033	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, barbara	essman	MO	MO	63114	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
CARLA	COLUCCI-BOOTH	MONROE	NY	10950	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Cynthia	Vinney	Culver City	CA	90230	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Adnana	Mihaela	Sf. Gheorghe	ot	99999	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ishiaria	Rashii	Auckland	ot	600	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ishiaria	Rashii	Auckland	ot	600	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mary	Ferraro	Colorado	CO	80010	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Chris	Latt	Oregon	OR	97224	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Edward	Butler	New York	NY	10021	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Melissa	Martinez	Los Angeles	CA	90066	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ira	Gerard	SOUTH ELGIN	IL	60177	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Irina	Kolomietz	Everett	WA	98203	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Irina	Kolomietz	Everett	WA	98203	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Nancy	Kassim Farran	Brooklyn	NY	11222	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - This plan will undermine any benefits from previous protection. Hunting must not be permitted. All populations are fragile. - - Sincerely,
Ellen	Hogarty	Kent	OH	44240	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Ellen	Hogarty	Kent	OH	44240	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
cheryl	erb	salem	OR	97301	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
cheryl	erb	salem	OR	97301	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carin	Pavlinchak	SC	SC	29732	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Heath	Hancock	Davenport	IA	52804	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jennifer	Lake	Taylorsville	UT	84123	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jennifer	Lake	Taylorsville	UT	84123	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Karen	Kravcov Malcolm	Scottsdale	AZ	85263	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Karen	Kravcov Malcolm	Scottsdale	AZ	85263	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Monica	Orndorff	New Orleans	LA	70122	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kristy	King	Minnesota	MN	55369	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Christine	Walton	cecil	PA	15321	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ken	Zontek	Yakima	WA	98980	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Wayne	Wilkinson	St Louis	MO	63116	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Amy	Parker	Iowa City	IA	52246	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Jason	Kemple	Alpha	NJ	8865	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jason	Kemple	Alpha	NJ	8865	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Irene	Bucko	Collegeville	PA	19426	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Nancy	Hartman	Louisville	CO	80027	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Virginia	Johnston	Milford	NH	3055	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, philene	lortz	Illinois	IL	60532	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Chris	Akcali	Carrboro	NC	27510	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Inge	J├¬ ndrup	Copenhagen	ot	2000	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Richard	Pasichnyk	Eugene	OR	97402	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Richard	Pasichnyk	Eugene	OR	97402	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ran	Zirasri	Bismarck	ND	58402	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Meta	Thompson	Elberton	GA	30635	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Rajdeep	Bhathal	Englewood Cliffs	NJ	7632	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Martha	Spencer	Brevard	NC	28712	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jeannine	Moore	Captain Cook	HI	96704	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Jeannine	Moore	Captain Cook	HI	96704	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Wayne	Person	Mount Laurel	NJ	8054	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
S	Hall	OR	OR	97045	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Natalie A.	Carter	OH	OH	43055	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ricardo	Hernandez	Bilbao	ot	0	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ricardo	Hernandez	Bilbao	ot	0	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Daniel	Bennett	Cincinnati	OH	45202	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Michelle	Kofler	South Deerfield	MA	1373	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Christina	Begley	Orlando	FL	32822	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Reconsider bears on the endangered species list. - Thank you. - Sincerely,
Laurie	Storm	Buffalo	NY	14207	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Beth	Foster	Beaverton	OR	97006	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mary	Kirkpatrick	Iowa City	IA	52245	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sally	Small	Indianapolis	IN	46219	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Gwendolyn	Conklin	Holbrook	NY	11741	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Justin	Mortimer	Unionville	CT	6085	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Judith	Reeve	New Hampshire	NH	3755	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Bea	Beretta	Sydney	ot	2001	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Bea	Beretta	Sydney	ot	2001	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Steviann	Yanowitz	Van Nuys	CA	91406	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Tika	Bordelon	Washington	WA	98101	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lila	Greaves	Centennial	CO	80122	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Norma	Oswalt	Fobbing	ot	Ss179hl	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Loretta	Fisher	MA	MA	2324	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Barbara	Fifer	Harrington	DE	19952	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Valerie	Carluccio	Clifton	NJ	7014	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ann	Jacobs	Saint Louis	MO	63116	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Chezna	Warner	MO	MO	63126	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Robin	Wilson	IL	IL	60304	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Robin	Wilson	IL	IL	60304	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sarah	Aslakson	Argyle	WI	53504	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Tenya Marie	Economou	Woodbury	CT	6798	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Eleanor	Briggs	Hancock	NH	3449	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Myia	Padilla	Willow brook	IL	60527	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Laine	Reams	Portland	OR	97220	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Vivianne	Mosca-Clark	Williams	OR	97544	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Leave the bears alone. Stop working for the hunters. - - Sincerely,
Vivianne	Mosca-Clark	Williams	OR	97544	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Humans cause this issue...so we need to repair it...not at the bears expense. Protect the bears, stop climate changes we have caused, instead of messing with the bears. The trees are dying because of the climate c Then that effects the water and the fish. We need to fix this..not interfere with the bears. - - Sincerely,
Denise	Redden	Auburn	CA	95603	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Tara	Drach-Breen	Tempe	AZ	85284	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Barbara	Sultan	Ashburn	VA	20147	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mark	Crane	Elk Grove	CA	95758	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ashley	Fowler	Seattle	WA	98117	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carole	Mathews	GA	GA	30338	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Teresa	Beutel	Congers	NY	10920	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Gilbert	Corniglion	Drummondville	QC	j2b6w4	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Johanna	Elias	New York	NY	11229	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, rio	valencia	VA	VA	23112	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Nancy	Flanagan	North Bend	WA	98045	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Susan	Spence	Minneapolis	MN	55419	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. The most prudent course of action is too keep them on the list. Yellowstone and the Bears are a special,place we need to do everything we can to protect our few remaining wild places. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Beverly	Tiemann	Queen creek	AZ	85142	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, charlotte	weiser	novato	CA	94949	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Cory	Ferguson	CO	CO	81240	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Cory	Ferguson	CO	CO	81240	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, stefan	wells	Southampton	ot	SO19 8AA	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jess	Summers	Cohoes	NY	12047	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Tina	Brenza	Loves Park	IL	61111	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, diane	fedele	hampton bays	NY	11946	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
D Gail	Jordan	E Wenatchee	WA	98802	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Estefania	Aparicio	Puebla	ot	72303	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, serge	vantalon	tercillat	ot	23350	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
serge	vantalon	tercillat	ot	23350	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sarah	Oswald	Melbourne	FL	32935	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, micheal	erickson	minneapolis	MN	55406	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Susan	Hanger	Topanga	CA	90290	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Tracy	Sanford	ON	ON	K1E1K1	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Tracy	Sanford	ON	ON	K1E1K1	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sienna	Wagner	MD	MD	21234	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kathy	Bolton	Turlock	CA	95382	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
S.	B.	Ithaca	NY	14850	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Aaron	Stearns	Atlanta	GA	30318	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kimberly	Kelley	CO	CO	80502	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jennifer	Sellers	Concord	CA	94521	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mark	Helman	Perkasie	PA	18944	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, sabina	schuck	santiago	ot	56	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Vic	Bostock	Altadena	CA	91001	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lesley	Swinton	Adelaide	ot	5501	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Tracy	Eve	Columbia	MD	21046	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Susan	Meadows	Santa Fe	NM	87506	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Elizabeth	O'Laughlin	Lake Helen	FL	32744	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sandra	Johnson	Saint Paul	MN	55102	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lori	Geiger	Iowa	IA	51526	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Nezka	Pfeifer	Scranton	PA	18505	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Nezka	Pfeifer	Scranton	PA	18505	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Marilyn	Driesen	Bryn Mawr	PA	19010	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Andrew	Fisher	Bedfordshire	ot	LU2 0BH	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Robyn	Taylor	FL	FL	32601	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
THOMAS E	BEESKOW	HANOVER PARK	IL	60133	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Melanie	Allsup	Batavia	IL	60510	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Karen	Tucker	Tunbridge Wells	ot	TN4 9LU	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Noreen	Stevenson	Chester	NY	10918	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, yamira	thompson	cape coral	FL	33990	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ken	Burleson	NORTH CAROLINA	NC	28216	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kenneth	Lapointe	Ottawa	ON	K1T2P9	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, eleanor	guerrero	MONTANA	MT	59068	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Linda	McCormick	PA	PA	19149	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Magdalena	Szaszorowska	middx	ot	ub6 9nn	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
M	Anway	Tucson	AZ	85743	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
M	Anway	Tucson	AZ	85743	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Elizabeth	Hegeman	Ny	NY	10024	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Karen	Kramarz	Dearborn Heights	MI	48127	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
James	Livingston	Skandia	MI	49885	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Shirley	Blevins	Wesley Chapel	FL	33543	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jim	Davis	Billings,	MT	59105	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Marie	Gildehaus	Nantucket	MA	2554	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Meryl	Pinque	Bangor	ME	4401	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Karen	Bellingar	Mount Pleasant	MI	48858	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ravi	Romano	NJ	NJ	7825	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ronald	Warren	Glendale	CA	91206	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Michael	Roberts	Shawnee	KS	66216	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sue	Jackson	Sydney	ot	2125	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sue	Jackson	Sydney	ot	2125	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Rubi	Khilnani	San Mateo	CA	94401	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Rubi	Khilnani	San Mateo	CA	94401	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Paulette	Zimmerman	St. Louis	MO	63139	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Dominic	Giles	Diss	ot	IP22 4JR	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Cindy	Gossard	Westfield	IN	46074	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Robert	Goodberg	Marana	AZ	85658	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Anna	Szaszorowska	Wroclaw	ot	52223	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sallie	Graham	Blaine	WA	98230	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Danielle	Elliott	CA	CA	90731	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sarah	Sercombe	Michigan	MI	48073	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sarah	Sercombe	Michigan	MI	48073	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Debbie	Pretorius	Rustenburg	ot	299	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Eric	Schmitt	New Carlisle	OH	45344	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carmen	Plummer	Midland	NC	28107	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Randy	Harper	Manitou Springs	CO	96950	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Judy	Williams	Caliente	CA	93518	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Joseph and Diane	Williams	Lacey	WA	98503	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Nicholas	Prychodko	Bridgehampton	NY	11932	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Nicholas	Prychodko	Bridgehampton	NY	11932	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Georgina	Forester	Montgomery Village, MD	MD	20886	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Dolly	Youssef	Silver Spring	MD	20904	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Dolly	Youssef	Silver Spring	MD	20904	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sonia	Vazquez	Guaynabo	PR	966	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sonia	Vazquez	Guaynabo	PR	966	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Diana	Lee	Carmel	IN	46032	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ann	Wiseman	Mansfield	IL	61854	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ann	Wiseman	Mansfield	IL	61854	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Paula	Blaschke	Houston	TX	77007	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Rebecca	N	NM	NM	87010	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Tia	Ja	San Jose	CA	95124	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Herb	Lowrey	Chapel Hill	NC	27517	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
JAY	OLBERDING	Milford	OH	45150	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Pamela	Blacklidge	Comstock Park	MI	49321	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Carmen	Voinescu	Bucharest	ot	12273	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Louise	Slattery	Saint-Lazare	QC	J7T 2M5	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Louise	Slattery	Saint-Lazare	QC	J7T 2M5	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Albert	Ceren	TN	TN	37363	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Frank	DeMola	Pittston	PA	18640	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, vicki	kline	pittsburgh	PA	15203	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Karen	Russell	Westerville	OH	43082	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Aggie	Monfette	Royal Oak	MI	48073	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Susan	Hastings	NV	NV	89503	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
R	Wells	Los angeles	CA	90020	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lisa	McNany	Butler	PA	16001	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carol	Orshan	Boise	ID	83706	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jill	Canney	Somerset	ot	TA4 3PU	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Betina	Winkler	Newton Abbot	ot	TQ12 6AF	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Susannah	Mitchell	Grand Junction	CO	81507	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Patricia	Poole	CA	CA	91206	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Aileen	O'Brien	LA	LA	70123	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
MR. & MRS. BRUCE	REVESZ	Cedar Grove	NJ	7009	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
MR. & MRS. BRUCE	REVESZ	Cedar Grove	NJ	7009	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Rhonda	Marr	Warren	OH	44483	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Rhonda	Marr	Warren	OH	44483	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Dolores	Penrod	NM	NM	88130	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Daniela	Roth	Santa Fe	NM	87505	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lisa	Lashaway	Montrose	CA	91020	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, ava	bariana	phila	PA	19115	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kurt	Joksch	None	ot	8463	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Trudy	Williams	CA	CA	95338	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Cyndi	Fritzler	CO	CO	80232	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Nancy Enz	Lill	Spokane	WA	99201	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Stephen	Faes	HI	HI	96741	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Andrew	Goldman	NY	NY	13068	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Dianne	Drish	West Homestead	PA	15120	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Amanda	Burdick	PA	PA	16748	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jan	Barshis	Wilmette	IL	60091	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
John	Howden	Whitby	ON	L1N 6K6	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Christopher	Klyza	Vermont	VT	5443	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Thanice	Petrak	S. Newfane	VT	5351	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Thomas	Lincoln	Medford	MA	2155	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Anne	Baldwin	tucson	AZ	85705	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sally	Burke	Tacoma	WA	98404	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
James	Staszewski	Pittsburgh	PA	15238	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jennifer	Reed	Ashland	OR	97520	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Amy	Bergmann	Richmond	VA	23225	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and needs the genetic variety that could come from wandering to other bear populations . arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reconsider this on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Brian	Henning	MN	MN	55431	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Richard	Ray	Troutdale	OR	97060	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Angela	Porsch	Saint Petersburg	FL	33716	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Brian	Klubek	Murphysboro	IL	62966	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Christine	Roane	MA	MA	1108	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Berk	Adams	Panama	NY	14767	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lawrence	Turk, RN	Hendersonville	NC	28793	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lawrence	Turk, RN	Hendersonville	NC	28793	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Barbara	Tetro	Plant City	FL	33567	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Barbara	Tetro	Plant City	FL	33567	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
MICHAEL	SHAPIRO	GOLETA	CA	93117	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
D	L	albuquerque	NM	87123	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Dacia	Dyer	Northglenn	CO	80234	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Cavin	Leeman	New York	NY	10025	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Gary	Dube	NY	NY	14213	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Cindy	Allen	Hood River	OR	97031	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
James	Pierce	Rewwn Valley	AZ	85614	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Darryl	San Souci	Flagstaff	AZ	86005	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ina	Mitchell	California	CA	91406	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
James	Apland	Bel Air	MD	21014	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
kobi	hagoel	rosh haayin	ot	45820	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Michelle	Klawiter	Gilbert	AZ	85298	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
J	Esposito	Sparks	NV	89434	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Chris	Paterson	Taftsville	VT	5073	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Chris	Paterson	Taftsville	VT	5073	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Chris	Paterson	Taftsville	VT	5073	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Elanne	Palcich	Chisholm	MN	55719	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Corinne	Wolpe	Harvey	NB	E6K 4A7	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Chandra	Jessee	New York	NY	10014	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Christopher	Ecker	Rockville	MD	20850	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Chuck	McCall	West Bend	WI	53095	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carol	Hinkelman	Rochester	NY	14616	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carol	Hinkelman	Rochester	NY	14616	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Diane	Luck	Portland	OR	97212	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Robert J	Fletcher iv	Carmel	NY	10512	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Scott	Troup	Oregon City	OR	97045	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Choral	Eddie	Brooklyn	NY	11201	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
KATHLEEN	KELLER	WALNUT CREEK	CA	94595	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kimberly	Leeper	Seattle	WA	98116	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mr.Shelley	Dahlgren, PhD	WA	WA	98029	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mr.Shelley	Dahlgren, PhD	WA	WA	98029	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Michael	Steltenkamp	Wheeling	WV	26003	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, tami	bennett	san francisco	CA	94132	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, andreas	ohland	miami beach	FL	33141	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Michael	Potter	Michigan	MI	49236	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Patricia	Parendo	Mineola	NY	11501	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mary	Hawkins	NY	NY	10003	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Bernard	Berauer	Homosassa	FL	34448	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Stephen	Barrow	Aiken	SC	29801	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jerome	Roth	Tempe	AZ	85281	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
K	Taylor	Jewett	TX	75846	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Gopal	Shanker	St. Helena	CA	94574	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Rod	McConnell	Edmonton	AB	T5R 4W6	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Shawna	Blaker	Washington	PA	15301	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jennifer	Bowman	FL	FL	32205	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Brian	Longley	Grants Pass	OR	97526	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Janet	Pinneo	Issaquah	WA	98027	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carol	Lipper	Fincastle	VA	24090	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Cigy	Cyriac	Draper	UT	84020	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Cigy	Cyriac	Draper	UT	84020	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Richard	Lee	Salinas	CA	93907	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
R. M.	St. Angelo	Cloverdale	CA	95425	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, betty	winholtz	morro bay	CA	93442	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Pieter	Bolhuis	Groningen	ot	9747AH	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Karin	Cudd	Richfield	MN	55423	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, jan a	cioci	FL	FL	34114	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mary	Shephard	None	ot	TN9 1AW	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kathy	Spera	TX	TX	75706	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Z	Qhygoem	Brighton	ot	BN2 1RL	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, shannon	jacobs	dorothy	NJ	8317	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mary	Eldredge	Springfield	VT	5156	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Marilyn	Nicol	Geneva	IL	60134	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jade	Bratkowski	Jamioulx	ot	6120	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Laurie	Coyle	Kent	OH	44240	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Tim	Leighton	Charlotte	NC	28278	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, ryan	burger	lincoln	NE	68507	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, sandy	morse	Iowa City	IA	52242	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lyle	Brandt	Maple Plain	MN	55359	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, rob	fursich	Hartsdale	NY	10530	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
rob	fursich	Hartsdale	NY	10530	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, steve	putrich	Springfield	IL	62704	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Laura	Baldwin	Anchorage	AK	99501	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kelly	Foglial	Raleigh	NC	27608	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Marcus	Straub	Grand Junction	CO	81502	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carol	Hatfield	Indianapolis	IN	46203	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kathleen	Rockafellow	Warren	NH	3279	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Virginia	Vollmar	Groton	MA	1450	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Virginia	Vollmar	Groton	MA	1450	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Joanne	Neihart	Cottage Grive	MN	55016	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
James	Leopold	Colchester	VT	5446	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Faith	Houck	Tamarac	FL	33321	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Michele	LaPorte	Hoffman Estates	IL	60169	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jose	Cestero	Watertown	MA	2472	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Gesa	Adriance	NC	NC	27518	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Debbie	Bremner	Shoreline	WA	98155	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Donna	Ferguson	ca	CA	96101	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Colleen	McKenna	Brunswick	ME	4011	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Nancy	Martin	La Honda	CA	94020	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Therese	Coucher	Houston	TX	77045	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
John	Mortensen	Missouri (MO)	MO	63109	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Linda	Pistolesi	Spring Valley	NY	10977	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, stephanie	huntington	CO	CO	80207	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sandra	Franz	Chicago	IL	60657	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kim	Carothers	Clearwater	FL	33767	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kim	Carothers	Clearwater	FL	33767	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Judy	Saeger	Sierra Vista	AZ	85650	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Veronica	Barrio	Austin	TX	78731	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Mary	Garcin	Laurel	MD	20723	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Beate	van der Schalie	Cleveland Heights	OH	44118	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Haskell	Springer	Lawrence	KS	66044	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Denise	Frullo	Westwood	NJ	7675	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Fiona	King	Colorado	CO	81321	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Rita	Lindberg	Turku	ot	20100	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Anne	Lambert	NM	NM	87124	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kenneth	Douglas	Owings Mills	MD	21117	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Julie	Schampel	McKeesport	PA	15133	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Maria Elena	Yepes	California	CA	91755	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Maryanne	Mullany	Seaford	NY	11783	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Linda	Heagy	Arlington	TX	76012	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Linda	Heagy	Arlington	TX	76012	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sylvia	Barnard	Albany	NY	12210	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Karen	Dawnn	Ontario	ON	l3y3s5	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
RJ	L.	Olympia	WA	98501	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
D.	Provance	Apex	NC	27539	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Debra	Csenge	Topsham	ME	4086	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Bryan	Oliver	Choose a State*	ot	SW15 1DZ	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carolyn Clark	Pierson	New York	NY	13846	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jessica	Mattox	Lexington	SC	29072	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Steve	Troyanovich	New Jersey	NJ	8518	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
John	Femmer	St. Charles	MO	63303	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Joan	Cramer	Cleveland	OH	44135	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Anne	Young	REVERE	PA	18953	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Anne	Young	REVERE	PA	18953	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Uta	Cortimilia	Alabama	AL	35967	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Laurel	Casper	Hickory Hills	IL	60457	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Vera	De Moor	Merelbeke	ot	B - 9820	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Anette	Lund	Odense M	ot	5230	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Norbert	Nitsch	Erdmannh.	ot	71729	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Nancy	Bergey	New Wilmington	PA	16142	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Stephanie	M	Bronx	NY	10473	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Rosamund	Wendt	St Pete Beach	FL	33706	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Karen	Weis	Bellingham	WA	98226	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sarah	Hamilton	Canastota	NY	13032	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sarah	Hamilton	Canastota	NY	13032	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Robb	Losey	LA	LA	71105	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Bryan	Duncan	Bowie	MD	20720	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Sarah	Peters	Rockville	MD	20852	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears are not in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please rec Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Thank you for your time and consideration. - - Sincerely,
Sarah	Peters	Rockville	MD	20852	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears are not in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please rec Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Thank you for your time and consideration. - - Sincerely,
Joe	Moreira	RI	RI	2806	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Joe	Moreira	RI	RI	2806	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Linda	Choong	singapore	ot	520925	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Suzanne	Mattock	Whitchurch Canonicorum	ot	DT6 6RF	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, victoria	jablonski	Ohio	OH	44138	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, victoria	jablonski	Ohio	OH	44138	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Linda	Harrell	Yemassee	SC	29945	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Linda	Harrell	Yemassee	SC	29945	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sandra	Cobb	Moreland Hills	OH	44022	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Susan	Floyd	Volcano	HI	96785	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Irwin	Flashman	Reston	VA	20190	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Irwin	Flashman	Reston	VA	20190	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Michelle	van Asten	California	CA	94568	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
B	Borden	Melbourne	FL	32934	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Elise	Adibi	Pittsburgh	PA	15217	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Elise	Adibi	Pittsburgh	PA	15217	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
JANET	LETUSICK-SPEAR	MAYS LANDING	NJ	8330	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
JANET	LETUSICK-SPEAR	MAYS LANDING	NJ	8330	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Dale	Ellis	Golden	CO	80403	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Tim	Schmitt	Arlington	VA	22205	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Robert	Gessner	Prescott	AZ	86305	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Tom	Johnson	Blowing Rock	NC	28605	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Tom	Johnson	Blowing Rock	NC	28605	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Susan	Dorchin	FL	FL	33446	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Laura	Sims	Arlington	TX	76012	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carol Joan	Patterson	Eureka Springs	AR	72632	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carol Joan	Patterson	Eureka Springs	AR	72632	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Maggie	Schafer	CO	CO	80301	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - DAN ASHE THE SPECIAL INTEREST WHORE AGAIN!!!! WHEN CAN WE GET RID OF THIS DESPICABLE DIRECTOR AND TAKE SALLY JEWELL WITH HIM? - - ASHE - YOU HAVE DONE LITTLE IN THIS OFFICE EXCEPT SEND W FOR YOU TO GO! YOU HAVE MADE ENOUGH MONEY FROM SPECIAL INTEREST PANDERING AND EVEN YOUR EMPLOYEES KNOW IT! AND TAKE SALLY JEWELL WITH YOU! HOPEFULLY WE CAN HOLD OUT A FEW MORE MONTHS UNTIL HILLARY TAKES OFFICE AND DUM
Donna	Snow	Olympia	WA	98506	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carolyn	Kibbe	Cambridge	NY	12816	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Carol	Miller	Hamilton	VA	20158	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Gail	Kallas	Denver	CO	80238	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Frank	Talbot	Blacksburg	VA	24060	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Frank	Talbot	Blacksburg	VA	24060	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
John	Costello	Lancaster	NY	14086	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sue	Bedrick	NY	NY	10954	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Katherine	Kois	Waynesboro	VA	22980	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, les	roberts	fresno	CA	93704	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jodi	Polissky	Ashburn	VA	20147	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Elisabet	Peterzen	Osmo	ot	14832	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Margaret	Ross	Washington	WA	98466	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Robert	Yuschak	Murray	UT	84123	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Andrew	Stromfeld	FL	FL	33021	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sylvia	Laver	Winterthur	ot	8400	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Barbara	Rosenkotter	Deer Harbor	WA	98243	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Barbara	Rosenkotter	Deer Harbor	WA	98243	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Amy	Squires	Chicago	IL	60614	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Richard	Arthur	Arizona	AZ	85085	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Richard	Arthur	Arizona	AZ	85085	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Robyn	Barnes	Raleigh	NC	27606	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Robyn	Barnes	Raleigh	NC	27606	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, simona	schiavo	Rome	ot	166	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Valeria	Cervellati	Bologna	ot	40133	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Valeria	Cervellati	Bologna	ot	40133	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Valeria	Cervellati	Bologna	ot	40133	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, serena	ruffilli	florence	ot	50100	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Alexandra	Crippa	Roma	ot	139	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Humberto	Badillo	chandler	AZ	85225	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, patrizia	arvati	verona	TN	37131	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Alessandra	Areni	Roma	ot	189	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Davide	Cosentino	London	ot	SE208ET	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Debbie	McCarthy	PHILLIPS	ME	4966	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Debbie	McCarthy	PHILLIPS	ME	4966	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Patricia	Curtis	Sparta	NJ	7871	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Catherine	Hainsworth	north yorkshire	ot	YO12 4HS	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Scott	Swanson	Austin	TX	78704	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
S	Rothauser	West Orange	NJ	7052	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Steve	Overton	Leicester	ot	LE19 3GP	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, adrienne	pond	austin	TX	78745	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Ann	Hinshaw	Texas	TX	75201	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Arturo	Matta	Aventura	FL	33160	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Alejandro	Munoz	Florida	FL	33122	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Andie	Falconi	Canton	OH	44718	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Bob	Gendron	IL	IL	60659	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Bob	Gendron	IL	IL	60659	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Anne	James	United Kingdom	ot	IP28 7LZ	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Robert	Snyder	North Syracuse	NY	13212	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Karyn	Walden-Forrest	Lake Waukomis	MO	64151	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Bonnie	Miller	Santa Rosa	CA	95401	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Andrea	Zemel	Chagrin Falls	OH	44023	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Bridget	Fitzgerald	Englewood	CO	80112	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Maryrose	Cimino	TX	TX	75287	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
David	Enevoldsen	California	CA	95133	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Arthur	Emshoff	Bay City	TX	77414	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, alex	prentiss	King City	OR	97224	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
John	Lambert	N. Babylon	NY	11703	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
John	Lambert	N. Babylon	NY	11703	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Chris and Jim	Klinger	Yellow Springs	OH	45387	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Gail	Johnston	West Warwick	RI	2893	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Peter	Galvani	Canandaigua	NY	14424	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Daniel	Kurz	Monroe	NJ	8831	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Anthony	Albert	Corvallis	OR	97330	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Is it not time to live up to the agenc's name and be of service to the nation's fish and wildlife instead of the ranchers' associations? - - Sincerely,
Anthony	Albert	Corvallis	OR	97330	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. Be of service to the nation's wildlife, not the ranchers' associations! - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears removed. Please reconsider this delisting proposal and keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Diana	Bain	Bridport	VT	5734	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Diana	Bain	Bridport	VT	5734	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Chessa Rae	Johnson	LA	LA	70117	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Renee	Jeska	Torrance	CA	90504	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Catherine	McNamara	Orlando	FL	32828	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Corey E.	Olsen	Delafield	WI	53018	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Emerald	DuCoeur	Doylestown	PA	18901	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Karen	Scanlon	Syracuse	NY	13203	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
William T.	Kendall	Tucson	AZ	85745	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, beatrice	WALLERSTEIN	New Haven	CT	6520	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
beatrice	WALLERSTEIN	New Haven	CT	6520	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Elizabeth	Tyler	VA	VA	22901	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Chuck	Graver	Southampton	NJ	8088	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Chuck	Graver	Southampton	NJ	8088	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Daryl	Gray	New Mexico	NM	87059	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Clint	Lenard	TX	TX	76018	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
CR	Maddy	New Mexico	NM	87144	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Todd	Davis	Boise	ID	83703	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Don	Meehan	san jose	CA	95124	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jennifer	Burke	FL	FL	34471	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Chip	Goldstein	Half Moon Bay	CA	94019	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lorrin	Pickens	Belmont	WV	26134	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Miranda	Vorhees	Gaston	IN	47342	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Carol	Stevens	Washington	WA	98037	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sharon	Buck	Woodinville	WA	98072	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
RedLion	York	Colorado	CO	80525	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Michael	Warren	Bothell	WA	98012	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Amie	Holbrook	Stanwood	WA	98292	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Polly	Stonier	Phoenix	OR	97535	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Scott	Harrison	Gig Harbor	WA	98332	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, doris	certosimo	glendale	AZ	85302	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sonia	Goldstein	NY	NY	10011	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Sonia	Goldstein	NY	NY	10011	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
suzanne	aagaard	svendborg	ot	5700	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Judith	Noble	Santiago del Teide	ot	38690	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Harvey	Spears	New York	NY	10002	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, willis	gravelle	basalt	CO	81621	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Steven	Fenster	NJ	NJ	8068	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Simone	Moraes	London	ot	20102	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Tony	Piselli	Maurertown	VA	22644	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, ellen	goodman	Riverside	RI	2915	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, - Ellen Goodman
Loren	Lugg	Killingworth	CT	6419	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Loren	Lugg	Killingworth	CT	6419	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, brenda	lee	wappingers falls	NY	12590	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
brenda	lee	wappingers falls	NY	12590	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, cathy	dostal	coralville	IA	52241	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kathryn	Lee	Orlando	FL	32818	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, jl	keith	providence	RI	2906	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, THIS POPULATION REMAINS SEVERELY ISOLATED AND STATES DO NOT HAVE REGULATIONS IN PLACE TO PROTECT BEARS that could con that wander outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed keep Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Joanne	Archdeacon	Georgia	GA	30045	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, sharon	walsh	--None--	NJ	7307	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
jim	pech	madison	WI	53714	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
jim	pech	madison	WI	53714	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sarah	Weller	Saint Louis	MO	63139	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Marga	Becker	Schlitz	ot	36110	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sarah	McNaull	West Danby	NY	14883	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sarah	McNaull	West Danby	NY	14883	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Siegfried	Hellring	Dumont	NJ	7628	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jennifer	Miller	MD	MD	21221	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jennifer	Miller	MD	MD	21221	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Pam	Roth	NY	NY	12533	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Bruce	Rasmussen	Dallas	TX	75227	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jeremy	Rossman	Northbrook	IL	60062	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kathleen	Archibald	Kingsbridge	ot	TQ7 2BH	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Kathleen	Archibald	Kingsbridge	ot	TQ7 2BH	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Alan	Stultz	Annandale	NJ	8801	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Alan	Stultz	Annandale	NJ	8801	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Lorna	Owen	CT	CT	6069	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jean-Michel	Leblond	Aucun	CT	6530	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jean-Michel	Leblond	Aucun	CT	6530	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Monica	Drake	Arlington	TX	76010	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Grover	Gregory	Florida	FL	32955	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Annemarie	Prairie	Boulder	CO	80303	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Annemarie	Prairie	Boulder	CO	80303	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Phyllis	White	Yorktown	VA	23692	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sandy	Zelasko	Valley Center	CA	92082	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Alexander	Sonneborn	New York	NY	10023	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
RAY	PETERS	Wautoma	WI	54982	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Sally	Hills	Tucson	AZ	85738-065	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely, rhonda	lieberman	astoria	NY	11102	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Sandra	Waters	Rolling Hills	CA	90274	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Tracy	Schroepfer	Monona	WI	53716	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Elizabeth	Morgan	Goodyear	AZ	85338	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Amy	Heyneman	Bainbridge Island	WA	98110	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Susan	Davenport	Simi Valley	CA	93063	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Susi	Higgins	Glendale	CA	91203	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Anita	Braddock	Longwood	FL	32791	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Raymond	Gill	Bothell	WA	98021	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Paula	Loftis	South Carolina	SC	29907	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
James	Rattoballi	New York	NY	11552	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Paul	Brizzi	New City	NY	10956	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Jane	Harrell	Franklin	TN	37069	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Elizabeth	Larrison	Lombard	IL	60148	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Julian	Orr	Pescadero	CA	94060	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Snezana	Miletic	MT	MT	59714	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Patricia	Morrison	Mesa	AZ	85206	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,

First	Last	City	State	Zip	Comment
Eric	Edwards	IL	IL	60185	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Eric	Edwards	IL	IL	60185	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
Eric	Edwards	IL	IL	60185	I am writing to urge you to maintain federal protection for grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem -- a population our country has been invested in since 1975. Human-caused mortality of grizzly bears has been on the rise, and the Yellowstone population ha surrounding states to manage these bears and permit trophy hunting will add significant pressure to this population. As you know, this population also remains severely isolated and states do not have regulations in place to protect bears that could connect with bears outside an arbitrary boundary are likely to be killed. - - Asking for comments on this proposal is premature because state regulations for bears aren't in place, so it's impossible to determine how bears will be managed once federal protections are removed. Please reco Yellowstone bears on the endangered species list. - - Sincerely,
