Summary of Key Points

Who can enter the Federal Duck Stamp Contest?
All U.S. citizens, nationals or resident aliens are eligible to participate. However, all entrants must be 18 years of age by June 1. Contest judges and their relatives, and employees of the Federal Duck Stamp Office are ineligible to submit entries.

Why do you have a contest?
The Federal Duck Stamp Contest is mandated by law and carried out by the Fish and Wildlife Service. It offers this country’s wildlife artists the opportunity to have their designs considered to grace the Federal Duck Stamp. Winning the Federal Duck Stamp Contest not only lends prestige to the chosen artist, but also can serve as a catalyst in building a successful career in wildlife art.

What can I send to the contest?
A Federal Duck Stamp Contest art entry consists of a two dimensional design. The regulations for the contest do not specify a medium. Judges are instructed to look for scenes depicting live birds in their natural habitat. Only five species of waterfowl are allowed each year for consideration. The eligible species must be the dominant feature in the design. This means it must be noticeably larger than any other elements you may wish to include such as decoys, dogs, or lighthouses.

When do I send in my entry?
Entries are accepted as of June 1 of each year and must be postmarked by August 15. There is no exception made for holidays and weekends. Entries are cataloged and assigned numbers based on date of receipt in the Federal Duck Stamp Office. Entries will be returned after the contest in packaging determined by the Federal Duck Stamp Office. No packaging materials will be returned.

Where do I send my entry?
All entries must be sent to the address listed below:
Federal Duck Stamp Contest
U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service MS:MB
5275 Leesburg Pike
Falls Church, VA  22041

How do I prepare my entry?
Each artist should have a working knowledge in three major areas of special interest to Federal Duck Stamp Contest judges:
• Basic Waterfowl Biology—for example, if you choose to depict a spring scene, is the bird’s plumage correct for that season?
• Artistic Composition—is the image artistically interesting, does it “pop” when you look at it?
• Suitability for printing at a reduced size—the image provides the design for a 1 3/4” L x 1 1/2” W stamp. Considering the amount of detail you wish to include, do you think it will show well in this reduced size?

Entries must be uniform in size. Each entry must be 7” x 10” and matted over with bright white matting. The matting must be 1” wide. Total size (entry with matting) must be 9” x 12”. (See the diagram on page 5.) We recommend you use a 1/8” masonite board or foamcore with 1/8” matting to equal the total width of 1/4” thick. Any entry exceeding 1/4” thick will be disqualified.

What are the eligible species for this year?
• Mallard
• Gadwall
• Blue-winged Teal
• Cinnamon Teal
• Trumpeter Swan

What does the winning artist receive?
The artist will receive publicity and media recognition. He/she will also travel and be recognized as guest speaker at several prestigious national waterfowl festivals and wildlife art events. The artist receives a pane of Duck Stamps signed by the Secretary of the Interior. Finally, the winner can choose to market the winning image and any other works as “by the Federal Duck Stamp artist.” (Note: Any publishing contract that might be offered to the winning artist is between the artist and publisher. The Federal Government does not guarantee any contract will be offered. The Government assumes no liability, responsibility, nor claims any interest in resulting publishing contracts.)

Why is this important and why should I enter?
The Federal Duck Stamp Program raises approximately $25 million each year to help protect vital wetland habitat in our National Wildlife Refuge System. Since 1934, the sale of Federal Duck Stamps has raised more than $850 million to help purchase 5.6 million acres of wetlands, land that everyone in America can enjoy for generations to come. Enter the contest and you may become a part of this legacy. Each entry exemplifies art for conservation’s sake.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURES FOR ENTERING THE CONTEST

§91.11 Contest deadlines.
(a) The contest will officially open on June 1 of each year.
(b) Entries must be postmarked no later than midnight of August 15.

§91.12 Contest eligibility.
United States citizens, nationals, or resident aliens are eligible to participate in the contest. Any person who has won the federal contest during the preceding three years will not be eligible to submit an entry in the current year’s contest. All entrants must be 18 years of age as of June 1 to participate in the Federal Duck Stamp Contest. Contest judges and their relatives are ineligible to submit an entry. All entrants must submit a non-refundable fee of $125.00 by a cashier’s check, certified check, or money order made payable to: U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. (Personal checks will not be accepted.) All entrants must submit signed Reproduction Rights and Display and Participation Agreements.

§91.13 Technical requirements for design and submission of entry.
The design must be a horizontal drawing or painting seven (7) inches high and ten (10) inches wide. The entry may be drawn in any medium desired by the contestant and may be in either multicolor or black and white. No scrollwork, lettering, bird band numbers, signatures or initials may appear on the design. Each entry must be matted (over only) with a nine (9) inch by twelve (12) inch white mat, one (1) inch wide, and the entire entry cannot exceed one quarter (1/4) inch in total thickness. Entries must not be framed, under glass, or have a protective covering that is attached to the entry.

§91.14 Restrictions on subject matter of entry.
A live portrayal of any bird(s) of the five or fewer identified eligible species must be the DOMINANT feature of the design. The design may depict more than one of the eligible species. Designs may include, but are not limited to, hunting dogs, hunting scenes, use of waterfowl decoys, National Wildlife Refuges as the background of habitat scenes, and other designs that depict the sporting, conservation, stamp collecting and other uses of the stamp. The overall mandate will be to select the best design that will make an interesting, useful and attractive duck stamp that will be accepted and prized by hunters, stamp collectors, conservationists, and others. The design must be the contestant’s original “hand drawn” creation. The entry design may not be copied or duplicated from previously published art, including photographs, or from images in any format published on the Internet. Photographs, computer-generated art, art produced from a computer printer or other computer/mechanical output device (air brush method excepted) are not eligible to be entered into the contest and will be disqualified. An entry submitted in a prior contest that was not selected for the Federal or a state stamp design may be submitted in the current contest if it meets the above criteria.

§91.15 Suitability of entry for engraving.

All entries should be drawn with fullest attention to clarity of detail and the relationship of tonal values. These prerequisites are important to interpret pictorial elements to hand engraving for printing, as they determine the engraved line techniques and direction. The engraver relies on the accuracy of the artist’s work for successful interpretation. The engraver is primarily responsible for line interpretation and discipline, creating the miniature image of bird(s) appearing on the stamp.

§91.16 Submission procedures for entry.

(a) Each contestant may submit only one entry. Each entry must be accompanied by a non-refundable entrance fee and a completed and signed Reproduction Rights Agreement and a completed and signed Display and Participation Agreement. The bottom portion of the Reproduction Rights Agreement must be attached to the back of the entry.

(b) Each entry should be appropriately wrapped to protect the artwork and sent by registered mail, certified mail, express mail, overnight delivery service, or hand delivered to:

§91.17 Property insurance for entries.

Each contestant is responsible for obtaining adequate insurance coverage for his/her entry. The Department of the Interior will not insure the entries it receives. The Department of the Interior is not responsible for loss or damage unless it is caused by its negligence or willful misconduct; in any event, the liability of the Department of the Interior will not exceed the amount of the entry fee as specified in Section 91.12.

§91.18 Failure to comply with contest regulations.

§91.21 Selection and qualification of contest judges.

(a) Selection: Five voting judges and one alternate judge will be selected annually by the Secretary of the Interior. Current employees of the Fish and Wildlife Service and their relatives are ineligible to serve as judges for the contest. The judges will be reimbursed for reasonable travel expenses. The judges will be announced on the first day of the contest.

(b) Qualifications: The panel of five judges will be made up of individuals, all of whom have one or more of the following prerequisites: recognized art credentials, knowledge of the anatomical makeup and the natural habitat of the eligible waterfowl species, an understanding of the wildlife sporting world in which the Duck Stamp is used, an awareness of philately and the role the Duck Stamp plays in stamp collecting, and demonstrated support for the conservation of waterfowl and wetlands through active involvement in the conservation community.

§91.22 Display of entries for contest.

All eligible entries will be publicly displayed in numerical order. The only visible identification on each entry will be the number assigned to it in chronological order when it is received and processed by the Service.

§91.23 Scoring criteria for contest.

Entries will be judged on the basis of anatomical accuracy, artistic composition and suitability for engraving in the production of a stamp.

§91.24 Contest procedures.

(a) The day before the judging begins, the judges will be briefed on all aspects of the judging procedures and other details of the competition, and will preview all eligible artwork entered.

(b) Prior to the first round of judging, and prior to the opening of the contest to the public, the judges will spend additional time in the auditorium reviewing the entries on the day of the contest.

(c) In the first round of judging all qualified entries will be shown one at a time to the judges by the Contest Coordinator or a contest staff member. The judges will vote “in” or “out” on each entry; those entries receiving a majority of votes “in” will be eligible for the second round of judging. The remaining entries will be placed on display as a group for public viewing.

(d) Prior to the second round of judging, each judge may select not more than five entries from those eliminated in the first round. Those additional entries selected by the judges will be eligible to be judged in the second round.

(e) Prior to the second round of judging, the entries selected by the judges under the procedures of paragraphs (c) and (d) of this section will be displayed in numerical order in the front of the auditorium.

(f) The technical advisors from the Department of the Interior and the U.S. Postal Service will do a critical analysis of the entries that will be judged in the second round and advise the judges of any serious anatomical problems and/or serious design problems for the engraver.

(g) In the second round of judging, each entry selected in the first round, plus the additional entries selected by judges, will be shown one at a time to the judges by the Contest Coordinator or a contest staff member. The judges will vote by indicating a numerical score from one to five for each entry. The scores will be totaled to provide the entry score. The entries receiving the five highest scores will be advanced to the third round of judging.

(h) In the third round of judging, the judges will vote on the remaining entries using the same method as in round two, except they will indicate a numerical score from 3 to 5 for each entry. The Contest Coordinator will tabulate the final votes and present them to the Director, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, who will announce the winning entry as well as the entries that placed second and third.

(i) In case of a tie vote for first, second, or third place in the third round, the judges will vote again on the entries that are tied. The judges will vote using the same method as in round three.

(j) The selection of the winning entry by the judges will be final. Each contestant will be notified of the winning artist and the design. The winning artist will receive a panel of Duck Stamps signed by the Secretary of the Interior at the Federal Duck Stamp Contest the following year.

SUBPART D—POST-CONTEST PROCEDURES

§91.31 Return of entries after contest.

All entries will be returned by commercial shipping service to the participating artists within 120 days after the contest unless the artwork is selected to appear at one or more wildlife art expositions. Entries will be returned in packaging determined by the Federal Duck Stamp Office. No specialty boxes or art cases will be returned. If artwork is returned to the Service because it is undelivered or unclaimed (this may happen if an artist changes address), the Service will not be obligated to trace the location of the artist to return the artwork. Any artist who changes his or her address is responsible for notifying the Service of the change. All unclaimed entries will be destroyed one year from the date of the contest.
Duck Stamp Contest
Submission Format

Entry must be matted “over” and the matting affixed to the front of the painting. The painting will be placed in a carrier that covers the information on the back of the painting to permit anonymity. In order to ensure that we are able to place the paintings in the carriers, do not make your entry any thicker than 1/4” or it will be disqualified.

Suggestion: Use 1/8” thick Masonite or foamcore for your entry, then use 1/8” thick mat to place on top to form 1/4” total thickness of entry.

Also, for purposes of stability of the entry, please use 9” x 12” art board with a 9” x 12” mat, not a 7” x 10” art board covered by a 9” x 12” mat.

Be sure to allow ample time, prior to shipping, for varnish and paint to dry to avoid damage to your artwork.

When mailing your entry to the Federal Duck Stamp Office, please pack your artwork carefully and use a stiff packaging material to ensure that the art will not be bent or damaged in transit. Bubble wrap or bubble wrap mailing pouches must be placed in hard sided boxes to protect the artwork. It is recommended that you ship your package through a shipping company that provides tracking services.

Helpful Hints for Preparing Your Duck Stamp Art Design

Part 91, Subpart C, Section 91.23
Scoring criteria for contest.
“Entries will be judged on the basis of anatomical accuracy, artistic composition and suitability for engraving in the production of a stamp.”

Use bright, bold, pleasing, warm colors.

Make your species the main focus of your entry.

Make sure the habitat is appropriate for the species and its plumage.

Keep the design simple.

Remember, this art is going to be used to produce a stamp — look at your finished product at a reduced size so that you will see what the judges see when they are making a final decision.

Leave room around the outside edges of the design for required stamp language and the denomination.

Finally, remember that the first impression a judge has of your entry is a lasting one.

Good Luck!
