An Evening at the Hook features How to Attract Bluebirds & Songbirds of Delmarva

The continuing lecture series, “An Evening at the Hook”, features How to Attract Bluebirds & Songbirds of Delmarva on Thursday, October 9, 2008 at 7:00 PM. Delaware Master Gardner Bob Dougherty will share with you the joy of viewing and attracting bluebirds and songbirds of Delmarva, with tips on the use of feeders, bird houses and water features. Presented in an informative and humorous way, this presentation guarantees that visitors will learn something new and remember something old. Join us before the lecture at 6:30pm for light refreshments.

“An Evening at the Hook” is a lecture series that highlights this nation’s abundant and diverse natural resources, particularly close to home at Prime Hook National Wildlife Refuge. Featured on the second Thursday of every month at 7:00pm in the Refuge Auditorium, these hour-long programs provide an exciting opportunity to learn intriguing facts about our plants, animals, environment, and cultural history. The lectures are free, open to the public, and fun for the entire family. Seating is limited on a first-come, first-serve basis. Please call the Refuge at (302) 684-8419 for more information.

The mission of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service is working with others to conserve, protect and enhance fish, wildlife, plants and their habitats for the continuing benefit of the American people. We are both a leader and trusted partner in fish and wildlife conservation, known for our scientific excellence, stewardship of lands and natural resources, dedicated professionals and commitment to public service.
