Henry,

Three files are attached that contain the results of you database search request. Because of the number of search areas I had to make two data runs. Barrier 16 was run as a separate search and resulted in no archaeological sites identified and some historic sites identified. The results of the search for the Philips Mill Dam area are found in the file "Historic2.doc."

Archaeological sites and historic properties were identified in a search of the Minnesota Archaeological Inventory and Historic Structures Inventory for the search area requested. Reports containing the results of the search are attached.

The result of this database search provides a listing of recorded archaeological sites and historic architectural properties that are included in the current SHPO databases. Because the majority of archaeological sites in the state and many historic architectural properties have not been recorded, important sites or structures may exist within the search area and may be affected by development projects within that area. Additional research, including field survey, may be necessary to adequately assess the area's potential to contain historic properties.

With regard to Environmental Assessment Worksheets (EAW), a negative known site/structure response from the SHPO databases is not necessarily appropriate information on which to base a "No" response to EAW Question 25a. It is the Responsible Governmental Unit's (RGU) obligation to verify the accuracy of the information contained within the EAW. A "No" response to Question 25a without written justification should be carefully considered.

If you require a comprehensive assessment of a project's potential to impact archaeological sites or historic architectural properties, you may need to hire a qualified archaeologist and/or historian. Please contact the SHPO by phone at 651-296-5462 or by email at mnshpo@mnhs.org for current lists of professional consultants in these fields.

Subject: SHPO review of fish barriers in the Red River basin

Hello Mr. Cinadr,

I spoke with you on Monday regarding the need for a review of locations in the Red River Basin where fish passage is proposed. I am writing the environmental assessment for these potential projects and need to identify any potential historic concerns that may be present at any of these locations. The proposed work would involve removal or modification of these structures to restore fish passage.

Attached is a list of the locations. Please let me know of any historic concerns that are present near these locations.

If you have any questions please contact me. Also, please send a quick reply to confirm that you received this message.

Thank you,

Henry VanOffelen
