American eel 12-month finding

Literature Cited

Cairns, D. 2006c. Department of Fisheries and Oceans, Prince Edward Island, Canada. Personal communication via email transmittal of draft map showing areas of commercial eel fishing in Canada east of the Quebec City area. Data sources: Mitchel Feigenbaum and Paul Firminger, South Shore Trading Limited; François Caron, Stan Georges, and Rémi Tardif, Faune Québec; David Cairns, Brian Jessop, and Greg Stevens, Department of Fisheries and Oceans. on (May 03, 2006). 3p.

Canadian Department of Fisheries and Oceans. 2005. Canada’s American eel harvest data. In NMFS 2006.

Colbourne, E. B. 2004. Decadal changes in the ocean climate in Newfoundland and Labrador waters form the 1950s to the 1990s. eJournal of Northwest Atlantic Fishery Science Vol. 34, art. 4. 20p.

Craig, S. 2006. USFWS Assistant Project Leader, Maine Fisheries Resource Office. Personal communication via email with attached pictures of American eel elvers climbing vertical surface just south of Bar Harbor, Maine. 4p including attachments.

Feigenbaum, M. 2005. Principal, Delaware Valley Fish Company. Personal communication via email submission from the Delaware Valley Fish Company to the USFWS in response to the request for information during the 90-day finding. 35 p.

Hoar, A. 2006. USFWS FERC/IF Coordinator, Hadley, MA. Personal communication via edits to a draft version of the 12-month finding regarding recent changes to FERC regulations (August 30, 2006). 7p.

Knights, B. Submitted. Letter to the editor of New Scientist re. article “PCBs are killing off eels” New Scientist issue 2542, 11 March 2006, p6 based on the publication by Palstra et al.,
2006 - Are dioxin-like contaminants responsible for the eel (Anguilla anguilla) drama?
Naturwissenschaften DOI: 10.1007/s00114-005-0080-z.

Miller, M.J.. 2005. American eel leptocephali: larval ecology and possible vulnerability to changes in oceanographic conditions. Supplementary information (summary) for the American eel status review workshop on the possible affects of changes in oceanographic conditions on the American eel. 7p.

Odenkirk, J.  2006.  Dept. of Game and Inland Fish, Virginia.  Personal communication via email on quantitative sampling results for American eels.  3 pgs.

OLE (Office of Law Enforcement).  2004.  USFWS.  Personal communication of Marie Maltese of FWS International Affairs with the USFWS Office of Law enforcement in 2004 regarding LEMIS import/export data.  2pgs.

Safe, S. 1990. Polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs), dibenzo-p-dioxins (PCDDs), Dibenzofurans (PCDFs), and related compounds: Environmental and mechanistic considerations which support the development of toxic equivalency factors (TEFs). Crit. Rev. Toxicol. 21:51-88.

Wege, G. 2006. USFWS Biologist, Twin Cities, MN. Personal communication via a series of emails regarding eel presence and eel passage, dam ownership, etc. on the Mississippi River (April 25 through May 1, 2006). 7p.

