

Service Website URL's of Interest to Migratory Bird Educators

<http://www.fws.gov/birds/imbd/educators.html>

Educational resources on migratory birds and International Migratory Bird Day activities.

<http://www.mbr-pwrc.usgs.gov/Infocenter/infocenter.html>

Patuxent Wildlife Research Center bird identification website with photographs, songs, videos, identification tips, maps, and life history information for North American birds.

<http://www.fws.gov/species>

Numerous wildlife species fact sheets in PDF and HTML format plus links to other information sources including endangered species, pollinators, birds and invasive species.

<http://www.fws.gov/endangered/kids/index.html>

Endangered Species program activities for children (species spotlight, games, puzzles, poster, slideshow, etc.) and also features a link to teacher material.

<http://training.fws.gov/library/pubs3.html>

Links to numerous FWS publications, most of which are targeted at adults (biological technical publications, recovery plans, press releases, national wildlife refuge planning, etc.)

<http://training.fws.gov/history/index.html>

Links to numerous discussions on the history of conservation, including links to historical document copies (Rachel Carson writings, heroes remembered, law enforcement and archive collection.

<http://www.fws.gov/juniorduck/> and <http://www.fws.gov/juniorduck/ArtContest.htm>

Annual Junior Duck Contest information, rules, entry forms (English/Spanish), frequently asked questions and art tour information. Program connects children with nature through science and art.

<http://www.fws.gov/juniorduck/pdf/CurriculumGuide.pdf>

Curriculum Guide and educational resources for Junior Duck Stamp Program.

<http://www.fws.gov/migratorybirds/shrbird/shrbird.html>

Question and answer presentation on shorebirds with photos and links to other resources.

<http://www.learner.org/jnorth>

Journey North: A global study of wildlife migration and seasonal change. This website includes lesson plans and background materials for classes to enter their own data, track and learn about migratory species.

<http://images.fws.gov/>

Digital Library System contains the National Image Library—FWS's collection of public domain still photos, including hundreds of images of many wildlife species and conservation related information.

<http://www.fws.gov/info/art.html>

Links to images of all the Federal Duck Stamps, to some of the Louis Agassiz Fuertes and Robert Savannah art collections plus links to other sources of wildlife art.

<http://www.fws.gov/educators/educators.html>

Links to numerous educational exhibits dealing with wildlife history, biology, and other resource related issues and art. Also includes Boy Scout and Girl Scout recognition certificates, curriculum resources and activities, community service projects and professional development opportunities.

<http://www.fws.gov/invasives/>

General invasive species information, contacts, frequently asked questions, FWS activities, partnerships and grants and injurious wildlife information.

<http://library.fws.gov/>

Links to numerous online publications of FWS (journals, newsletters), many other libraries and literature search capabilities including the FWS National Conservation Training Center library.

<http://www.fws.gov/pdfs/AgencyOverviewTransition2009.pdf>

FWS agency fact sheet overview includes mission statement, functions, conservation principles, priorities, strategic habitat conservation and major programs.

<http://www.fws.gov/pdfs/SE%20Region%204%20Transition%202009.pdf>

FWS Southeast Region 4 fact sheet overview includes resource facts and figures, regional demographics, key habitats and ecosystems, regional budget, and conservation successes and challenges.

<http://www.fws.gov/pdfs/Migratory%20Birds%20Transition%202009.pdf>

FWS Migratory Bird Program fact sheet includes program overview, facts and figures, laws the program administers, and emerging issues.

