I honestly hit a wall too. It's a complicated letter because we really want to say that while it doesn't look good, let's talk. Let me know what the next step is and what if anything more you need. See you both in Spokane!

Thanks for reworking this. I had hit a wall and couldn't quite figure out how to make it all work. Let me know if you need anything else.

I've worked and reworked and reworked and I think this version may take what Jennifer provided and meet Robyn's request to keep it narrowly focused as well. Please re-work as you see fit, but my goal was to keep the tone neutral while driving us toward a conversation and out of a series of letter exchanges.

Best,

Nathan
