Hi Mike,

Attached is my review of the Species Report for ashy storm petrel. If you could please make your edits in this version and send it back by COB Monday, that would be easiest for Colin. Please keep in mind that this is the last (and brief) round of review by the Core Team before we send it out to the Recommendation Team. We are looking for big-picture critical issues with the document at this point.

Thanks for your help!

Angela

Hi Mike,

I wasn't able to finish my review of the ASP Species Report by today (too many calls and interruptions), so I will still email you when I finish my review. But, if you need to review it before I finish, you can just do it in track changes from the document Colin sent in the first email.

Thanks,

Angela

Hi Mike,

I think COB Monday will work. I will send you the document when I finish my review (hopefully today), and you can comment on the same draft and send it back Monday COB.

Thanks,

Angela

Hi Mike,

Can you please let me know your plan for this? Our comments are due back to Colin on Monday.

Thanks,

Angela

Hi Mike,

Colin just sent out the ashy storm petrel species report for the last round of team review. He is asking for comments by Monday. Is there some time that you are free to read it before Monday? Last I remember, we decided that you were going to read the first few species reports, so if that is no longer the case, please let me know.

Thanks,

Angela

Hi All,

The species report is ready for review. I have placed a new copy on the sharepoint site (20130205\_asp\_speciesreport), so please attempt to edit that one first. It would be great to have all edits and comments by next Monday, the 11th.

The only remaining information to be input is as follows

- 1) update on oil spill probabilities that will be provided by David Pereksta
- 2) Further input regarding Nur et al. that will be gained from the Thursday Conference call

Please feel free to call or email me if there are any questions

Thank you
