

Winter Birds

Clarks River National Wildlife Refuge

Although the insects of summer have disappeared along with warm weather, that doesn't mean all the birds have. Plenty of birds either don't migrate and live in the area year-round, or they do migrate and stop here to spend their winters with us. Below are some species to watch for during the winter months.

Northern Cardinal (male)

Northern Flicker

Red-winged Blackbird (female)

Tufted Titmouse

Carolina Chickadee

Dark-eyed Junco

Eastern Bluebird (male)

American Goldfinch

White-throated Sparrow

Song Sparrow

Fox Sparrow

White-crowned Sparrow