

AADAP Program

The Aquatic Animal Drug Approval Partnership (AADAP) Program leads a national-scope effort to obtain new FDA-approved drugs for use in aquaculture and fisheries management programs throughout the U.S.

1 and only

program of its kind

9

new FDA-approved fish drugs

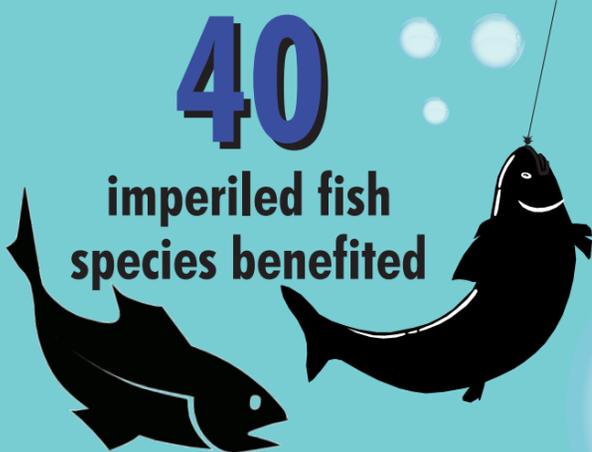

18

additional drug approvals "in-the-pipeline"

40

imperiled fish species benefited

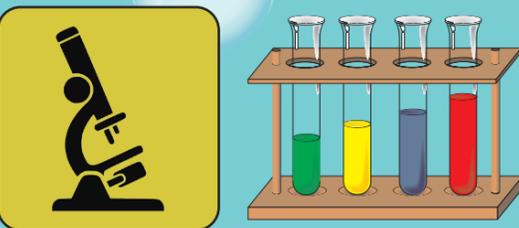

575

public, tribal, and private facilities directly engaged and benefitting

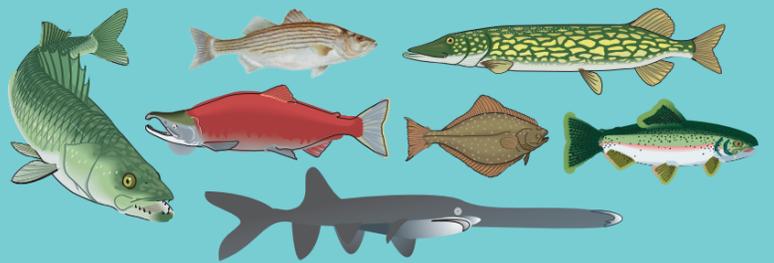

13,000

field trials conducted documenting drug effectiveness and safety

40 Million

freshwater fish saved each year for restoration, recovery, and recreation

Countless

reasons to go fishing!

LEARN more at www.fws.gov/fisheries/aadap/