

S

Desert Bighorn Sheep

The Desert Bighorn is Nevada's official state animal. This wild sheep lives in mountainous rocky areas where the climate is hot and dry. Most people would find it quite uncomfortable and very hard to walk in such an area. Because they live in such difficult places, it can be several days between visits to a watering hole; however, the Desert Bighorn can get some of the water it needs from the desert plants it eats.