

Native Pollinators Need YOU!

National Pollinator Week June 20-26

Bombus ternarius- Tricolored Bumble Bee Copyright © 2006 Tom Murray
Photographed in Franklin County, MA

Do you know that formerly common bumblebees are now rarely seen?

Find out how YOU can help protect native bees and pollinators!

Upcoming Events

- Monday June 20 “Honey For The Maya” 8 minute video on native bees, continuous showing at U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service Regional Office lobby-300 Westgate Center Drive, Hadley, MA-showing through Friday, June 24
- Tuesday June 21 “Bees of the Montague Plain: Some of Our Native Pollinators” native bee biologist Joan Milam presentation, hands-on exhibits, information about native pollinator conservation & USDA support for larger pollinator habitat projects by farmers and landowners, 7PM US Fish and Wildlife Service Regional Office- 300 Westgate Center Drive, Hadley, MA
- Wednesday June 22 U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service Regional Office Pollinator Garden Expansion ceremony, 12 noon at back plaza, 300 Westgate Center Drive, Hadley, MA
- Thursday June 23 “Queen of The Sun”-film on the global honeybee crisis, 7PM, auditorium at US Fish and Wildlife Service Regional Office- 300 Westgate Center Drive, Hadley, MA. Seating is first come, first served.

Questions? Please contact Shelley Small at 413-253-8554, US Fish and Wildlife Service

