

Common Name: No Common Name

Scientific Name: Phyllanthus saffordii

Description: : A low, woody shrub in the Phyllanthaceae family, sparse reddish-brown branches, and many small, alternate, overlapping, shiny dark green leaves about 12 mm long. Male flowers are separate from female flowers, and both are also very small, with round light-colored fruits.

Status: Endemic to Guam

Threats: Agriculture and urban development, rats, pigs, nonnative plants, fire, typhoons, recreational vehicles.