would simplify the process of providing requested information. This simplification would significantly reduce the time licensees, including small broadcast television station licensees, need to locate information requested by the public. The NPRM specifically asks for cost information associated with the requirement that broadcasters, especially small broadcasters, provide public interest information in a standardized format. By definition, the standardized disclosure form would ask questions about defined categories of programming. Accordingly, the NPRM seeks comment on what categories should be included on the form. While categories should be defined, the Commission believes it is not necessary to define what type of programming would fall within any category, leaving it to the broadcasters’ discretion to determine which programs belong under which categories. The NPRM also seeks comment on the Commission’s tentative view only to require that licensees certify on the standardized form compliance with the minimum requirements for closed captioning and video description.

The NPRM invites further comment on whether licensees should provide a narrative description on the standardized form of the actions taken, in the normal course of business, to assess a community’s programming needs and interests. This requirement would be much less burdensome than the Commission’s former ascertainment requirements, which included detailed methodologies for ascertaining the problems, needs and interests of the public within the station’s service area. Finally, the NPRM seeks comment on whether a licensee’s activities in its community, including supporting and promoting awareness campaigns, should be considered in assessing whether a licensee has served the public interest under the Communications Act and whether they should be listed on an attachment to the standardized form. The alternative to this requirement would be to leave the rule as is. Based on our experience and the comments to the NOI, we believe that it serves an important public interest to make the information available in a clear and easy to understand format.

The NPRM also requests comment on the Commission’s tentative conclusion to require licensees each quarter to place a paper copy of the standardized form in their public inspection files and to make their public inspection files, including the standardized forms, available on the Internet until final action has been taken on the station’s next renewal license. As an alternative to posting the information on each station’s website, the Commission has proposed allowing licensees to make the public inspection file available on state broadcasters associations’ websites. The Commission has asked for cost information on creating new websites as well as using a licensee’s state broadcasters association’s website. The NPRM seeks comment on whether television broadcasters should be encouraged or required to make websites on which they post the proposed form and public file accessible to persons with disabilities and proposes not to require licensees to file the proposed form with the Commission. One alternative that the Commission considered was a requirement to mandate this type of interaction with the public. As the NPRM states, however, the Commission is disinclined to mandate interaction with the public through Internet websites, but encourages broadcasters to use their websites to conduct discussions with members of the public. The Commission is seeking comment on these proposed alternatives so as to minimize the effect of the proposed rules on small businesses.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Comments from the public regarding the accuracy of this proposed rule are sought, especially regarding:

1. The reasons why any habitat should or should not be determined to be critical habitat for California red-legged frogs as provided by section 4 of the Act, including whether the benefits of designation will outweigh any benefits of exclusion;

2. Specific information on the distribution of California red-legged frogs, the amount and distribution of the species’ habitat, and what habitat is essential to the conservation of the species, and why:

3. Land use practices and current or planned activities in the subject areas and their possible impacts on proposed critical habitat;

4. Any foreseeable economic or other impacts resulting from the proposed designation of critical habitat, including, in particular, any impacts on small entities or families; and

5. A thorough and complete analysis of the economic and other values associated with designating critical habitat for California red-legged frogs, such as those derived from nonconsumptive uses (e.g., hiking, camping, bird-watching, enhanced watershed protection, improved air quality, increased soil retention, “existence values”, and reductions in administrative costs).

Background
On September 11, 2000, the Service published a proposed rule to designate critical habitat for the California Red-legged frog in the Federal Register (65 FR 54802). The original comment period closed on October 11, 2000. The comment period now closes on November 20, 2000. Written comments should be submitted to the Service (see ADDRESSES section).

Approximately 2,175,000 hectares (5,373,650 acres) of land fall within the boundaries of the proposed critical habitat designation. Specifically, aquatic and upland areas where suitable breeding and nonbreeding habitat is interspersed throughout the landscape and is interconnected by unfragmented dispersal habitat are areas proposed as critical habitat. Proposed critical habitat is located in Alameda, Butte, Calaveras, Contra Costa, El Dorado, Fresno, Kern, Los Angeles, Marin, Mariposa, Merced, Monterey, Napa, Plumas, Riverside, San Benito, San Diego, San Joaquin, San Luis Obispo, San Mateo, Santa Barbara, Santa Clara, Santa Cruz, Sierra, Solano, Sonoma, Stanislaus, Tehama, Tuolumne, Ventura, and Yuba counties, California. Critical habitat receives protection from destruction or adverse modification through required consultation under section 7 of the Act with regard to actions carried out, funded, or authorized by a Federal agency. Section 4 of the Act requires us to consider economic and other relevant impacts when specifying any particular area as critical habitat.

The comment period on this proposal now closes on November 20, 2000. Written comments should be submitted to the Service office listed in the ADDRESSES section.

Author: The primary authors of this notice are Curt McCasland and Stephanie Brady (see ADDRESSES section).

Authority: The authority for this action is the Endangered Species Act of 1973 (16 U.S.C. 1531 et seq.).
