Migratory Bird Hunting; Final Frameworks for Late-Season Migratory Bird Hunting Regulations

AGENCY: Fish and Wildlife Service, Interior.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The Fish and Wildlife Service (Service or we) prescribes final late-season frameworks from which States may select season dates, limits, and other options for the 2009–10 migratory bird hunting seasons. These late seasons include most waterfowl seasons, the earliest of which commences on September 26, 2009. The effect of this final rule is to facilitate the States’ selection of hunting seasons and to further the annual establishment of the late-season migratory bird hunting regulations.

DATES: This rule takes effect on September 24, 2009.

ADDRESSES: States and Territories should send their season selections to: Chief, Division of Migratory Bird Management, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, ms MBSP-4107-ARLSQ, 1849 C Street, NW., Washington, DC 20240. You may inspect comments during normal business hours at the Service’s office in room 4107, 4501 N. Fairfax Drive, Arlington, VA, or at http://www.regulations.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Regulations Schedule for 2009

On April 10, 2009, we published in the Federal Register (74 FR 16339) a proposal to amend 50 CFR part 20. The proposal provided a background and overview of the migratory bird hunting regulations process, and dealt with the establishment of seasons, limits, and other regulations for hunting migratory game birds under §§20.101 through 20.107, 20.109, and 20.110 of subpart K. Major steps in the 2009–10 regulatory cycle relating to open public meetings and Federal Register notifications were also identified in the April 10 proposed rule. Further, we explained that all sections of subsequent documents outlining hunting frameworks and guidelines were organized under numbered headings. Subsequent documents will refer only to numbered items requiring attention. Therefore, it is important to note that we will omit those items requiring no attention, and remaining numbered items will be discontinuous and appear incomplete.

On May 27, 2009, we published in the Federal Register (74 FR 25209) a second document providing supplemental proposals for early- and late-season migratory bird hunting regulations. The May 27 supplement also provided detailed information on the 2009–10 regulatory schedule and announced the Service Migratory Bird Regulations Committee (SRC) and Flyway Council meetings.

On June 24 and 25, 2009, we held open meetings with the Flyway Council Consultants at which the participants reviewed information on the current status of migratory shore and upland game birds and developed recommendations for the 2009–10 regulations for these species plus regulations for migratory game birds in Alaska, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands, special September waterfowl seasons in designated States, special sea duck seasons in the Atlantic Flyway, and extended falconry seasons. In addition, we reviewed and discussed preliminary information on the status of waterfowl as it relates to the development and selection of the regulatory packages for the 2009–10 regular waterfowl seasons. On July 24, 2009, we published in the Federal Register (74 FR 36870) a third document specifically dealing with the proposed frameworks for early-season regulations. On August 25, 2009, we published in the Federal Register (74 FR 43008) a rulemaking establishing final frameworks for early-season migratory bird hunting regulations for the 2009–10 season. Subsequently, on August 31, 2009, we published a final rule in the Federal Register (74 FR 45032) amending subpart of title 50 CFR part 20 to set hunting seasons, hours, areas, and limits for early seasons.

On July 29–30, 2009, we opened the public comment period for the 2009–10 season. There are no substantive changes from the August 13 proposed rule. We will publish State selections in the Federal Register as amendments to §§20.101 through 20.107, and 20.109 of title 50 CFR part 20.

Population Status and Harvest

A brief summary of information on the status and harvest of waterfowl excerpted from various reports was included in the August 13 supplemental proposed rule. For more detailed information on methodologies and results, complete copies of the various reports are available at the street address indicated under ADDRESSES or from our website at http://www.fws.gov/migratorybirds/NewsPublicationsReports.html.

Review of Public Comments and Flyway Council Recommendations

The preliminary proposed rulemaking, which appeared in the April 10, 2009, Federal Register, opened the public comment period for migratory game bird hunting regulations. The supplemental proposed rule, which appeared in the May 27, 2009, Federal Register, discussed the regulatory alternatives for the 2009–10 duck hunting season. Late-season comments are summarized below and numbered in the order used in the April 10 and May 27 Federal Register documents. We have included only the numbered items pertaining to late-season issues for which we received written comments. Consequently, the issues do not follow in direct numerical or alphabetical order.

We received recommendations from all four Flyway Councils. Some recommendations supported continuation of last year’s frameworks. Due to the comprehensive nature of the annual review of the frameworks performed by the Councils, support for continuation of last year’s frameworks is assumed for items for which no recommendations were received. Council recommendations for changes in the frameworks are summarized below.

General

Written Comments: An individual commenter protested the entire migratory bird hunting regulations process, the killing of all migratory birds, and the Flyway Council process. A non-governmental organization supported the continued use of hunting as a significant part of migratory bird management.

Service Response: Our long-term objectives continue to include providing opportunities to harvest portions of certain migratory game bird populations and to limit annual harvests to levels compatible with each population’s ability to maintain healthy, viable numbers. Having taken into account the zones of temperature and the distribution, abundance, economic value, breeding habits, and times and lines of flight of migratory birds, we believe that the hunting seasons provided herein are compatible with the current status of migratory bird populations and long-term population goals. Additionally, we are obligated to, and do, give serious consideration to all information received as public comment. While there are problems inherent with any type of representative management of public-trust resources, we believe that the Flyway Council system of migratory bird management has been a long-standing example of State-Federal cooperative management since its establishment in 1952. However, as always, we continue to explore new ways to streamline and improve the process. 1. Ducks

Categories used to discuss issues related to duck harvest management are: (A) General Harvest Strategy, (B) Regulatory Alternatives, (C) Zones and Split Seasons, and (D) Special Seasons/Species Management. The categories correspond to previously published issues/discussion, and only those containing substantial recommendations are discussed below.

A. General Harvest Strategy

Council Recommendations: The Atlantic, Central, and Pacific Flyway Councils and the Upper- and Lower-Region Regulations Committees of the Mississippi Flyway Council recommended the adoption of the “liberal” regulatory alternative.

Service Response: We are continuing development of an Adaptive Harvest Management (AHM) protocol that would allow hunting regulations to vary among Flyways in a manner that recognizes each Flyway’s unique breeding-ground derivation of mallards. Last year, we described and adopted a protocol for regulatory decision-making for the newly defined stock of western mallards (73 FR 43290). For the 2009 hunting season, we continue to believe that the prescribed regulatory choice for the Pacific Flyway should be based on the status of this western mallard breeding stock, while the regulatory choice for the Mississippi and Central Flyways should depend on the status of the recently redefined midcontinent mallard stock. We also recommend that the regulatory choice for the Atlantic Flyway continue to depend on the status of eastern mallards.

For the 2009 hunting season, we are continuing to consider the same regulatory alternatives as those used last year. The nature of the “restrictive,” “moderate,” and “liberal” alternatives has remained essentially unchanged since 1997, except that extended framework dates have been offered in the “moderate” and “liberal” regulatory alternatives since 2002. Also, in 2003, we agreed to place a constraint on closed seasons in the western three Flyways whenever the midcontinent mallard breeding-population size (as defined prior to 2008; traditional survey area plus Minnesota, Michigan, and Wisconsin) was ≥5.5 million.

Optimal AHM strategies for the 2009–10 hunting season were calculated using: (1) Harvest-management objectives specific to each mallard stock; (2) the 2009 regulatory alternatives; and (3) current population models and associated weights for midcontinent, western, and eastern mallards. Based on this year’s survey results of 8.71 million midcontinent mallards (traditional survey area minus Alaska plus Minnesota, Wisconsin, and Michigan), 3.57 million ponds in Prairie Canada, 884,000 western mallards (381,000 and 503,000 respectively in California-Oregon and Alaska), and 908,000 eastern mallards, the prescribed regulatory choice for all four Flyways is the “liberal” alternative.

Therefore, we concur with the recommendations of the Atlantic, Mississippi, Central, and Pacific Flyway Councils regarding selection of the “liberal” regulatory alternative and will adopt the “liberal” regulatory alternative, as described in the July 24, 2009, Federal Register.

D. Special Seasons/Species Management

iii. Black Ducks

In 2008, U.S. and Canadian waterfowl managers developed an interim harvest strategy that will be employed by both countries until a formal strategy based on the principles of AHM is completed. We detailed this interim strategy in the July 24, 2008, Federal Register (73 FR 43290). The interim harvest strategy is prescriptive, in that it calls for no substantive changes in hunting regulations unless the black duck breeding population, averaged over the most recent 3 years, exceeds or falls below the long-term average breeding population by 15 percent or more. The strategy is designed to share the black duck harvest equally between the two countries; however, recognizing incomplete control of harvest through regulations, it will allow realized harvest in either country to vary between 40 and 60 percent.

Each year in November, Canada publishes its proposed migratory bird hunting regulations for the upcoming hunting season. Thus, last fall the Canadian Wildlife Service (CWS) used the interim strategy to establish its proposed black duck regulations for the 2009–10 season based on the most current data available at that time: breeding population estimates for 2006, 2007, and 2008, and an assessment of parity based on harvest estimates for the 2003–07 hunting seasons. Although updates of both breeding population estimates and harvest estimates are now available, the United States will base its 2009–10 black duck regulations on the same data CWS used to ensure comparable application of the strategy. The long-term (1998–2007) breeding population mean estimate is 713,800 and the 2006–08 3-year running mean estimate is 721,600. Based on these estimates, no restriction or liberalization of black duck harvest is warranted. The average proportion of the harvest during the 5-year period 2003–07 was 0.56 in the United States and 0.44 in Canada, and this falls within the established parity bounds of 40 and 60 percent.

iv. Canvasbacks

Council Recommendations: The Atlantic, Central, and Pacific Flyway Councils recommended a full season for canvasbacks with a 1-bird daily bag limit. Season lengths would be 60 days in the Atlantic Flyway, 74 days in the Central Flyway, and 107 days in the Pacific Flyway.

The Upper- and Lower-Region Regulations Committees of the Mississippi Flyway Council recommended use of their alternative canvasback harvest management strategy that uses threshold levels based on breeding population size in order to determine bag limits (detailed in the June 18, 2008, Federal Register (73 FR 34692)). Their strategy results in a Council recommendation for a 1-bird daily bag limit and a 60–day season in the Mississippi Flyway.

Service Response: Since 1994, we have followed a canvasback harvest strategy that if canvasback population status and production are sufficient to permit a harvest of one canvasback per day nationwide for the entire length of the regular duck season, while still attaining a projected spring population objective of 500,000 birds, the season on canvasbacks should be opened. A partial season would be permitted if the estimated allowable harvest was within the projected harvest for a shortened season. If neither of these conditions can be met, the harvest strategy calls for a closed season on canvases nationwide. Last year (73 FR 43290), we announced our decision to modify the Canvasback Harvest Strategy to incorporate the option for a 2-bird daily bag limit for canvases when the predicted breeding population the subsequent year exceeds 725,000 birds.

This year’s spring survey resulted in an estimate of 662,000 canvases. This was 35 percent above the 2008 estimate of 489,000 canvases and 16 percent above the 1955–2008 average. The estimate of ponds in Prairie Canada was 3.6 million, which was 17 percent above last year and 5 percent above the long-term average. The canvases harvest strategy predicts a 2010 canvases population of 602,000 birds under a “liberal” duck season with a 1-bird daily bag limit and 565,000 with a 2-bird daily bag limit. Because the predicted 2010 population under the 1-bird daily bag limit is greater than 500,000, while the prediction under the 2-bird daily bag limit is less than 725,000, the canvases harvest strategy stipulates a full canvases season with a 1-bird daily bag limit for the upcoming season.

v. Pintails

Council Recommendations: The Atlantic, Central and Pacific Flyway Councils and the Upper- and Lower-Region Regulations Committees of the Mississippi Flyway Council recommended a full season for pintails consisting of a 1-bird daily bag limit and a 60–day season in the Atlantic and Mississippi Flyways and a 74–day season in the Central Flyway, and a 2-bird daily bag limit with a 107–day season in the Pacific Flyway.

The Upper- and Lower-Region Regulations Committees of the Mississippi Flyway Council also recommended that the Service evaluate the performance of the prescribed strategy for managing harvest of northern pintails and explain the reasons for implementing the derived strategy despite a Council recommendation to continue using the prescribed strategy.

Service Response: Based on the current strategy last modified in 2007, along with an observed spring breeding population of 3.22 million, an overweight-bias-corrected breeding population of 3.73 million and a projected fall flight of 5.13 million pintails, the pintail harvest strategy prescribes a full season and a 1-bird daily bag limit in the Atlantic, Mississippi, and Central Flyways. In the Pacific Flyway a 2-bird daily bag limit and a full season is prescribed. Thus, we agree with the Councils’ recommendations for the 2009–10 season. Under the “liberal” season length, this regulation is expected to result in a harvest of 643,388 pintails and an expected breeding population estimate (corrected scale) of 4.02 million in 2010.

Regarding the Mississippi Flyway Council’s recommendation to evaluate the performance of the prescribed strategy for managing harvest of northern pintails, we have previously provided such information and remain committed to implementation of a derived strategy for pintail harvest management next year. This strategy would replace the current prescriptive strategy that has been used for pintails since 1997. In order for the implementation of the new derived strategy to be successful, the Service and Flyway Councils must reach agreement on several issues. These issues include: (1) determination of the harvest management objective, (2) identification of any constraints that would be included in the strategy (e.g., closure constraint), and (3) a decision regarding specific inclusion of a harvest allocation process. We will make technical information regarding these three aspects of the derived strategy available at the December 2009 AHM Working Group Meeting, with additional discussion at the 2010 February SRC meeting in Denver, followed by Flyway Council consideration at their 2010 winter meetings.

vi. Scap

Council Recommendations: The Atlantic Flyway Council and the Upper- and Lower-Region Regulations Committees of the Mississippi Flyway Council recommended use of the “moderate” regulation package consisting of a 60–day season with a 2-bird daily bag.

The Central Flyway Council recommended use of the “moderate” regulation package consisting of a 74–day season with a 2-bird daily bag limit.

The Pacific Flyway Council recommended the adoption of the “moderate” regulation package for the Pacific Flyway consisting of an 86–day season with a 3-bird daily bag limit.

Service Response: Last year, we adopted and implemented a new scaup harvest strategy (73 FR 43290 and 73 FR 51124). Initial “restrictive,” “moderate,” and “liberal” regulatory packages were adopted for each Flyway in 2008. Further opportunity to revise these packages was afforded prior to the 2009–10 season, and modifications that were recommended by the Mississippi and Central Flyway Councils were endorsed by the Service in June 2009 (74 FR 36870). These packages will remain in effect for at least 3 years prior to their re-evaluation.

The 2009 breeding population estimate for scaup is 4.17 million, up 12 percent from, but similar to, the 2008 estimate of 3.74 million. Total estimated scaup harvest for the 2008–09 season was 229,000 birds. Based on updated model parameter estimates, the optimal regulatory choice for scaup is the “moderate” package recommended by the Councils in all four Flyways.

vii. Mottled Ducks

Council Recommendations: The Upper- and Lower-Region Regulations Committees of the Mississippi Flyway Council recommended reducing the daily bag limit for mottled ducks from 3 to 1 bird per day.

The Central Flyway Council initially recommended that no further harvest reductions were warranted. However, at the July SRC meeting, they subsequently amended their Council recommendation by agreeing to delay the opening of the mottled duck season for the first 5 days of the regular duck season.

Service Response: For many years, we have expressed concern about the long-term status of mottled ducks, especially the Western Gulf Coast Population. After consideration of long-term trends for this population, recent harvest levels, and this year’s breeding habitat conditions, we believe that a reduction in harvest levels for this population is necessary.

The Mississippi Flyway Council’s recommendation to reduce the daily bag limit of mottled ducks to one bird is projected to result in a harvest reduction of about 20 percent. The Central Flyway Council’s amended recommendation to delay the opening of the mottled duck season is expected to result in a similar harvest reduction. We believe that this level of reduction is necessary across the entire range of Western Gulf Coast Population this year. Accordingly, we support the Mississippi Flyway Council’s recommendation and the Central Flyway Council’s amended recommendation with the goal of achieving approximately a 20 percent reduction in mottled duck harvest.

We also urge that an assessment be conducted of whether desired harvest reductions in harvest are achieved as a result of the proposed regulations. Furthermore, the status of mottled ducks and their breeding habitat should be closely monitored and a determination made whether further restrictions are warranted. Should additional restrictions be needed, we will consider all regulatory options, including the potential for a closed season.

viii. Wood Ducks

Council Recommendations: The Atlantic and Central Flyway Councils and the Upper- and Lower-Region Regulations Committees of the Mississippi Flyway Council recommended that the Service’s timetable for implementing a wood duck harvest strategy in the Atlantic, Mississippi, and Central Flyways be extended to allow additional data collection and evaluation of wood duck harvest rates from seasons with a 3-bird daily limit.

Service Response: Last year, we indicated that we would like the Flyways to develop a wood duck harvest strategy for implementation during the 2010–11 hunting season (73 FR 55602). However, upon further review, this date will only allow information from two hunting seasons (2008–09 and 2009–10) to be considered for any assessment of wood duck harvest rates and other parameters useful in making management decisions under a wood duck harvest strategy. Further, we would not have any wood duck recovery information available from this year’s hunting season. We believe that an additional year(s) would provide more information for assessing the effect of the 3-bird bag limit and incorporation of this information into the harvest strategy development process. Thus, we agree with the Councils and support such an extension.

4. Canada Geese

B. Regular Seasons

Council Recommendations: The Atlantic Flyway Council forwarded two recommendations concerning Canada geese. First, the Council recommended the establishment of an operational season in Back Bay, Virginia. The season frameworks would be aligned with the harvest regulations in the adjacent Atlantic Population (AP) Zone (currently a 45-day season with a 2-bird daily bag limit). The Council also recommended that the Service allow a 7-day season with a 1-bird daily bag limit in the Northeast Goose Zone of North Carolina with framework dates of the Saturday prior to December 25 to January 31.

The Upper- and Lower-Region Regulations Committees of the Mississippi Flyway Council recommended that the season length in Louisiana be extended from 16 to 44 days and that the daily bag limit of 1 per day be included in an aggregate dark goose daily bag limit of 2 per day, with no more than 1 Canada goose. The Committees also recommended extending the goose season in Ohio from 70 to 74 days.

The Pacific Flyway Council recommended reducing quotas for dusky Canada geese in Washington to 45 (from 65) and in Oregon to 90 (from 165) and lengthening the season in California’s Sacramento Valley Special Management Area (West) to allow it to begin concurrently with the general goose season and change the name by removing the “(West)”.

Service Response: We support the Atlantic Flyway’s recommendations for operational Canada goose seasons in Back Bay, Virginia, and the Northeast Goose Zone in North Carolina. Although results of the recent experimental seasons show that migrant goose harvest was greater than 10 percent, we recognize that both of those experimental seasons were within the existing frameworks for AP, North Atlantic Population (NAP), and Southern James Bay Population (SJBP) goose regular seasons. We also recognize that these seasons, and the harvest expected to result from them, are allowable under the current hunt plan guidelines established in the Flyway Management Plans for AP, NAP, SJBP, and resident Canada goose. We also support the Mississippi Flyway Council’s proposals to lengthen the season in Louisiana and Ohio. With regard to the goose population involved in Louisiana, the 2009 mid-winter estimate for the Tall Grass Prairie Population (TGPP) was 310,000, which, although much lower than previous years, remains above the 250,000 population objective. We note that harvest rate on this population is very small, averaging 1,710 in 1999-2005 during 9-day seasons and 1,480 in 2006-08 during 16-day seasons. Louisiana further estimates that extending the season length to 44 days will likely increase the harvest to possibly twice current levels. However, while the extended season would allow increased opportunity to take Canada geese, Louisiana believes that aggregating the daily bag limit with white-fronted geese would moderate the increased harvest of Canada geese and possibly reduce the harvest pressure on white-fronted geese. Regarding dusky Canada geese, the annual population index based on the breeding pair survey on the Copper River Delta is 6,709, a decrease from the previous year’s index of 9,152. The 3-year average index is 8,682. This decline triggers implementation of further measures of protection for this population as described under Action level 2 in the management plan. Based on the harvest strategy in the management plan, we support the Council recommendations to further reduce the quotas assigned to Washington (to 45) and Oregon (to 90) and instituting other management actions identified for Action level 2. We note that the status of dusky Canada goose continues to be a matter of concern. Harvest restrictions have been in place to protect these geese throughout their range since the 1970’s. We continue to support the harvest strategy described in the 2008 management plan for this population.

We also concur with the Pacific Flyway Council’s recommendation regarding the Sacramento Valley Special Management Area (West) in California. Created in 1975, the zone was a closure area for Canada geese to protect the then-endangered Aleutian Canada goose. Over the decades, the boundaries and specifics of the zone evolved to manage harvest of cackling Canada geese and Pacific white-fronted geese when those populations were at low levels. Given the current status of Aleutian and cackling Canada geese and Pacific white-fronted geese, we view this change as relatively minor and administrative in nature and do not expect the change to impact populations (see further discussion under 5. White-fronted Geese).

5. White-fronted Geese

Council Recommendations: The Pacific Flyway Council recommended increasing the overall daily bag limit for geese in the Klamath County Zone of Oregon in the portion of the season after the last Sunday in January from 4 to 6 geese per day. Specific to white-fronted geese, the Council recommended increasing the daily bag limit from 1 to 2 per day within the proposed overall goose daily bag limit of 6 birds. In California’s Sacramento Valley Special Management Area (West), the Council also recommended lengthening the season to allow it to begin concurrently with the general goose season and changing the name by removing the “(West)”.

Service Response: We concur with the Pacific Flyway Council’s recommended changes in the Oregon’s Klamath County Zone and California’s Sacramento Valley Special Management Area (West). In the Klamath County
Zone, of the five recognized goose populations affected by this proposal, all three light goose and Pacific greater white-fronted goose populations are currently above identified management plan objectives. Additionally, Tule goose population estimates have remained stable over the last 6 years at nearly 12,000 geese. Increasing the white-fronted goose daily bag limit from 1 to 2 is expected to increase white-fronted goose harvest to levels observed during late-winter hunts in 2007 and 2008 and the change is not expected to appreciably increase Tule goose harvest beyond that currently occurring in other areas of California and Oregon.

6. Brant

Council Recommendations: The Atlantic Flyway Council recommended a 50-day season with a 2-bird daily bag limit for Atlantic brant.

Service Response: We concur with the Atlantic Flyway Council’s recommendation. The 2009 Mid-Winter Index (MWI) for Atlantic brant decreased to 151,300 from 160,618 brant in 2008. While the Brant Management Plan prescribes the continuation of a 60-day season with a 3-bird daily bag limit when the MWI estimate is above 150,000, we note that spring was 2-3 weeks later than normal in portions of Atlantic brant staging and breeding areas this year and these conditions have usually resulted in poor brant production in the past. Thus, we agree with the Council that a decrease of 10 days with the associated daily bag limit decrease is the proper approach for the upcoming season.

7. Snow and Ross’s (Light) Geese

Council Recommendations: The Pacific Flyway Council recommended increasing the overall daily bag limit for geese in the Klamath County Zone of Oregon in the portion of the season after the last Sunday in January from 4 to 6 geese per day. Specific to light geese, the Council recommended increasing the daily bag limit from 3 to 4 per day within the proposed overall goose daily bag limit of 6 birds. In California’s Sacramento Valley Special Management Area (West), the Council also recommended lengthening the season to allow it to begin concurrently with the general goose season and changing the name by removing the “(West).”

Service Response: We support the proposed changes for light geese in the Pacific Flyway. In 2007, the Flyway’s December goose count exceeded 1 million for the first time, representing a doubling since 1999. Light goose indices (Snow and Ross’ goose combined) indicate that all recognized populations currently exceed management plan goals. In some areas of the Pacific Flyway, these goose populations are leading to increasing depredation complaints. In addition, numbers of light geese breeding on Wrangel Island, Russia, a colony that has been of concern in the past, has recovered to near record levels in the past few years. We support efforts to increase harvest of these geese to limit further population growth and perhaps the overabundance problems associated with the species that have been documented in several of the midcontinent regions.

NEPA Consideration

NEPA considerations are covered by the programmatic document “Final Supplemental Environmental Impact Statement: Issuance of Annual Regulations Permitting the Sport Hunting of Migratory Birds (FSES 88-14),” filed with the Environmental Protection Agency on June 9, 1983. We published a notice of availability in the Federal Register on June 16, 1988 (53 FR 22582). We published our record of decision on August 18, 1988 (53 FR 31341). In addition, an August 1985 environmental assessment entitled “Guidelines for Migratory Bird Hunting Regulations on Federal Indian Reservations and Ceded Lands” is available by writing to the address indicated under the caption ADDRESSES.

In a notice published in the September 8, 2005, Federal Register (70 FR 53376), we announced our intent to develop a new Supplemental Environmental Impact Statement for the migratory bird hunting program. Public scoping meetings were held in the spring of 2006, as detailed in a March 9, 2006, Federal Register (71 FR 12216). A scoping report summarizing the scoping comments and scoping meetings is available by either writing to the street address indicated under ADDRESSES or by viewing our website at http://www.fws.gov/migratorybirds/.

Endangered Species Act Consideration

Section 7 of the Endangered Species Act, as amended (16 U.S.C. 1531-1543; 87 Stat. 884), provides that, “The Secretary shall review other programs administered by him and utilize such programs in furthurance of the purposes of this Act” and shall “insure that any action authorized, funded or carried out... is not likely to jeopardize the continued existence of any endangered species or threatened species or result in the destruction or adverse modification of critical habitat...” Consequently, we conducted consultations to ensure that actions resulting from these regulations would not likely jeopardize the continued existence of endangered or threatened species or result in the destruction or adverse modification of their critical habitat. Findings from these consultations are included in the Section 7 Consultation on the Proposed 2009–10 Migratory Game Bird Hunting Regulations (dated August 24, 2009). The consultation concluded that the 2009-10 regulations are not likely to jeopardize the continued existence of either the whooping crane or Steller’s eider. To prevent take of whooping cranes, the Contingency Plan for Federal-State Cooperative Protection of whooping cranes provides a protective program in thirteen States. In addition, the State of Kansas will implement specific restrictions to avoid accidental shootings. To prevent take of Steller’s eiders, the 2009–10 regulations include the continued implementation of measures initiated and outlined under the 2009 Alaska migratory bird subsistence regulations. These measures include Service initiated conservation measures that increase migratory bird hunter outreach prior to the opening of the hunting season, increased Service enforcement of migratory bird regulations, and conducting in-season harvest verification of Steller’s eider mortality and injury. Additionally, any modifications resulting from this consultation may have caused modification of some regulatory measures previously proposed. The final frameworks reflect any modifications. Our biological opinions resulting from this section 7 consultation are public documents available for public inspection in the Service’s Division of Endangered Species and Division of Migratory Bird Management, at the street address indicated under ADDRESSES.

Executive Order 12866

The Office of Management and Budget has determined that this rule is significant and has reviewed this rule under Executive Order 12866. OMB bases its determination of regulatory significance upon the following four criteria:

(a) Whether the rule will have an annual effect of $100 million or more on the economy or adversely affect an economic sector, productivity, jobs, the environment, or other units of the government.

(b) Whether the rule will create inconsistencies with other Federal agencies’ actions.

(c) Whether the rule will materially affect entitlements, grants, user fees, loan programs, or the rights and obligations of their recipients.
(d) Whether the rule raises novel legal or policy issues.

An economic analysis was prepared for the 2008–09 season. This analysis was based on data from the 2006 National Hunting and Fishing Survey, the most recent year for which data are available (see discussion in Regulatory Flexibility Act section below). This analysis estimates consumer surplus for three alternatives for duck hunting (estimates for other species are not quantified due to lack of data). The alternatives are (1) Issue restrictive regulations allowing fewer days than those issued during the 2007–08 season, (2) Issues moderate regulations allowing more days than those in alternative 1, and (3) Issue liberal regulations identical to the regulations in the 2007–08 season. For the 2008–09 season, we chose alternative 3, with an estimated consumer surplus across all flyways of $205–$270 million. For the upcoming 2009–10 season, we again considered these three alternatives and again chose alternative 3 for ducks. We made minor modifications to the season frameworks for some other species, but these do not significantly change the economic impacts of the rule, which were not quantified for other species. For these reasons, we have not conducted a new economic analysis, but the 2008–09 analysis is part of the record for this rule and is available at http://www.fws.gov/migratorybirds/NewReportsPublications/SpecialTopics/SpecialTopics.html#HuntingRegs or at http://www.regulations.gov.

Regulatory Flexibility Act

The regulations have a significant economic impact on substantial numbers of small entities under the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.). We analyzed the economic impacts of the annual hunting regulations on small business entities in detail as part of the 1981 cost-benefit analysis. This analysis was revised annually from 1990–95. In 1995, the Service issued a Small Entity Flexibility Analysis (Analysis), which was subsequently updated in 1996, 1998, 2004, and 2008. The primary source of information about hunter expenditures for migratory game bird hunting is the National Hunting and Fishing Survey, which is conducted at 5–year intervals. The 2008 Analysis was based on the 2006 National Hunting and Fishing Survey and the U.S. Department of Commerce’s County Business Patterns, from which it was estimated that migratory bird hunters would spend approximately $1.2 billion at small businesses in 2008. Copies of the Analysis are available upon request from the street address indicated under ADDRESSES or from our website at http://www.fws.gov/migratorybirds/NewReportsPublications/SpecialTopics/SpecialTopics.html#HuntingRegs or at http://www.regulations.gov.

Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act

This rule is a major rule under 5 U.S.C. 804(2), the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act. For the reasons outlined above, this rule has an annual effect on the economy of $100 million or more.

Paperwork Reduction Act

We examined these regulations under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.). The various recordkeeping and reporting requirements imposed under regulations established in 50 CFR part 20, subpart K, are utilized in the formulation of migratory game bird hunting regulations. Specifically, OMB has approved the information collection requirements of our Migratory Bird Surveys and assigned control number 1018–0023 (expires 2/28/2011). This information is used to provide a sampling frame for voluntary national surveys to improve our harvest estimates for all migratory game birds in order to better manage these populations. OMB has also approved the information collection requirements of the Alaska Subsistence Household Survey, an associated voluntary annual household survey used to determine levels of subsistence take in Alaska, and assigned control number 1018–0124 (expires 1/31/2010). A Federal agency may not conduct or sponsor and a person is not required to respond to a collection of information unless it displays a currently valid OMB control number.

Unfunded Mandates Reform Act

We have determined and certify, in compliance with the requirements of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act, 2 U.S.C. 1502 et seq., that this rulemaking will not impose a cost of $100 million or more in any given year on local or State government or private entities. Therefore, this rule is not a “significant regulatory action” under the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act.

Civil Justice Reform—Executive Order 12988

The Department, in promulgating this rule, has determined that it will not unduly burden the judicial system and that it meets the requirements of sections 3(a) and 3(b)(2) of Executive Order 12988.

Takings Implication Assessment

In accordance with Executive Order 12630, this rule, authorized by the Migratory Bird Treaty Act, does not have significant takings implications and does not affect any constitutionally protected property rights. This rule will not result in the physical occupancy of property, the physical invasion of property, or the regulatory taking of any property. In fact, these rules allow hunters to exercise otherwise unavailable privileges and reduce restrictions on the use of private and public property.

Energy Effects—Executive Order 13211

Executive Order 13211 requires agencies to prepare Statements of Energy Effects when undertaking certain actions. While this rule is a significant regulatory action under Executive Order 12866, it is not expected to adversely affect energy supplies, distribution, or use. Therefore, this action is not a significant energy action and no Statement of Energy Effects is required.

Government-to-Government Relationship with Tribes

In accordance with the President’s memorandum of April 29, 1994, “Government-to-Government Relations with Native American Tribal Governments” (59 FR 22951), Executive Order 13175, and 512 DM 2, we have evaluated possible effects on Federally-recognized Indian tribes and have determined that there are no effects on Indian trust resources. However, in the April 10 Federal Register, we solicited proposals for special migratory bird hunting regulations for certain Tribes on Federal Indian reservations, off-reservation trust lands, and ceded lands for the 2009–10 migratory bird hunting season. The resulting proposals were contained in a separate proposed rule (74 FR 36870). By virtue of these actions, we have consulted with Tribes affected by this rule.

Federalism Effects

Due to the migratory nature of certain species of birds, the Federal Government has been given responsibility over these species by the Migratory Bird Treaty Act. We annually prescribe frameworks from which the States make selections regarding the hunting of migratory birds, and we employ guidelines to establish special regulations on Federal Indian reservations and ceded lands. This process preserves the ability of the States and Tribes to determine which seasons meet their individual needs. Any State or Indian Tribe may be more restrictive than the Federal frameworks... at any time. The frameworks are developed in a cooperative process with the States and the Flyway Councils. This process allows States to participate in the development of frameworks from which they will make selections, thereby having an influence on their own regulations. These rules do not have a substantial direct effect on fiscal capacity, change the roles or responsibilities of Federal or State governments, or intrude on State policy or administration. Therefore, in accordance with Executive Order 13132, these regulations do not have significant federalism effects and do not have sufficient federalism implications to warrant the preparation of a Federalism Assessment.

Regulations Promulgation

The rulemaking process for migratory game bird hunting must, by its nature, operate under severe time constraints. However, we intend that the public be given the greatest possible opportunity to comment. Thus, when the preliminary proposed rulemaking was published, we established what we believed were the longest periods possible for public comment. In doing this, we recognized that when the comment period closed, time would be of the essence. That is, if there were a delay in the effective date of these regulations after this final rulemaking, States would have insufficient time to select season dates and limits; to communicate those selections to us; and to establish and publicize the necessary regulations and procedures to implement their decisions. We therefore find that “good cause” exists, within the terms of 5 U.S.C. 553(d)(3) of the Administrative Procedure Act, and these frameworks will, therefore, take effect immediately upon publication. Therefore, under authority of the Migratory Bird Treaty Act (July 3, 1918), as amended (16 U.S.C. 703–712, 16 U.S.C. 742 a–j), the Department has approved the following frameworks for season lengths, shooting hours, bag and possession limits, and outside dates within which States may select seasons for hunting waterfowl and coots between the dates of September 1, 2009, and March 10, 2010.

Dates: All outside dates noted below are inclusive.

Geographic descriptions related to late-season regulations are contained in a later portion of this document.

Area-Specific Provisions:

Frameworks for open seasons, season lengths, bag and possession limits, and other special provisions are listed below by Flyway.

Waterfowl Seasons in the Atlantic Flyway

In the Atlantic Flyway States of Connecticut, Delaware, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Jersey, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, and Virginia, where Sunday hunting is prohibited statewide by State law, all Sundays are closed to all take of migratory waterfowl (including mergansers and coots).

Special Youth Waterfowl Hunting Days

Outside Dates: States may select 2 consecutive days (hunting days in Atlantic Flyway States with compensatory days) per duck-hunting zone, designated as “Youth Waterfowl Hunting Days,” in addition to their regular duck seasons. The days must be held outside any regular duck season on a weekend, holiday, or other non-school day when youth hunters would have the maximum opportunity to participate. The days may be held up to 14 days before or after any regular duck-season frameworks or within any split of a regular duck season, or within any other open season on migratory birds.

Daily Bag Limits: The daily bag limits may include ducks, geese, tundra swans, mergansers, coots, moorhens, and gallinules and would be the same as those allowed in the regular season. Flyway species and area restrictions would remain in effect.

Shooting Hours: One-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

Participation Restrictions: Youth hunters must be 15 years of age or younger. In addition, an adult at least 18 years of age must accompany the youth hunter into the field. This adult may not duck hunt but may participate in other seasons that are open on the special youth day. Tundra swans may only be taken by participants possessing applicable tundra swan permits.

Quota Zones

Seasons on goose must end upon attainment of individual quotas of dusky goose allotted to the designated areas of Oregon (90) and Washington (45). The September Canada goose season, the regular goose season, any special late dark goose season, and any extended falconry season, combined, must not exceed 107 days, and the established quota of dusky goose must not be exceeded. Hunting of geese in those designated areas will only be by hunters possessing a State-issued permit authorizing them to do so. In a Service-approved investigation, the State must obtain quantitative information on hunter compliance of those regulations.
aimed at reducing the take of dusky geese. If the monitoring program cannot be conducted, for any reason, the season must immediately close. In the designated areas of the Washington Southwest Quota Zone, a special late goose season may be held between the Saturday following the close of the general goose season and March 10. In the Northwest Special Permit Zone of Oregon, the framework closing date is extended to the Sunday closest to March 1 (February 28). Regular goose seasons may be split into 3 segments within the Oregon and Washington quota zones.

Swans

In portions of the Pacific Flyway (Montana, Nevada, and Utah), an open season for taking a limited number of swans may be selected. Permits will be issued by the State and will authorize each permittee to take no more than 1 swan per season with each permit. Nevada may issue up to 2 permits per hunter. Montana and Utah may only issue 1 permit per hunter. Each State’s season may open no earlier than the Saturday nearest October 1 (October 3). These seasons are also subject to the following conditions:

Montana: No more than 500 permits may be issued. The season must end no later than December 1. The State must implement a harvest-monitoring program to measure the species composition of the swan harvest and should use appropriate measures to maximize hunter compliance in reporting bill measurement and color information.

Utah: No more than 2,000 permits may be issued. During the swan season, no more than 10 trumpeter swans may be taken. The season must end no later than the second Sunday in December (December 13) or upon attainment of 10 trumpeter swans in the harvest, whichever occurs earliest. The Utah season remains subject to the terms of the Memorandum of Agreement entered into with the Service in August 2001, regarding harvest monitoring, season closure procedures, and education requirements to minimize the take of trumpeter swans during the swan season.

Nevada: No more than 650 permits may be issued. During the swan season, no more than 5 trumpeter swans may be taken. The season must end no later than the Sunday following January 1 (January 3) or upon attainment of 5 trumpeter swans in the harvest, whichever occurs earliest. In addition, the States of Utah and Nevada must implement a harvest-monitoring program to measure the species composition of the swan harvest. The harvest-monitoring program must require that all harvested swans or their species-determinant parts be examined by either State or Federal biologists for the purpose of species classification. The States should use appropriate measures to maximize hunter compliance in providing bagged swans for examination. Further, the States of Montana, Nevada, and Utah must achieve at least an 80-percent compliance rate, or subsequent permits will be reduced by 10 percent. All three States must provide to the Service by June 30, 2010, a report detailing harvest, hunter participation, reporting compliance, and monitoring of swan populations in the designated hunt areas.

Permits will be issued by the States that authorize the take of no more than 1 tundra swan per permit. A second permit may be issued to hunters from unused permits remaining after the first drawing. The States must obtain harvest and hunter participation data. These seasons are also subject to the following conditions:
