SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

On October 20, 2009, we published a final rule with an immediate effective date to approve tungsten-iron-fluoropolymer (TIF) shot for hunting waterfowl and coots (74 FR 53665). Our changes to the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) at 50 CFR 20.21(j) indicated that a magnet or a Hot Shot® device was suitable for testing shotshells loaded with TIF in the field. However, a regular magnet is not sufficient for testing the TIF alloys of the highest sectional densities.

We amend our table of approved nontoxic shot types at 50 CFR 20.21(j) to clarify that either a rare earth magnet or a set of small rare earth magnets is needed for testing TIF shot in the field. We do so by inserting the words “rare earth” at the appropriate place in the table. This information appears in the last column of the table under the heading “Field testing device”. The data in this column is strictly informational, not regulatory. Because the nontoxic shot regulations are used by both waterfowl hunters and law enforcement officers, we include information on suitable testing devices as a useful addition to the table.

Administrative Procedure Act

We find good cause to waive notice and comment on this correction, pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 553(b)(3)(B), and the 30-day delay in effective date pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 553(d). Notice and comment are unnecessary because this rule merely corrects a nonregulatory portion of the regulations. The substance of the regulations remains unchanged. Therefore, this correction is being published as a final regulation and is effective as shown under DATES.
