

Snap a Memory on a Wildlife Refuge

This summer, create memories by taking your camera to a national wildlife refuge and then share them on an online Photomosaic, created by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service's "Let's Go Outside" initiative. After compiling nearly 10,000 photographs sent by the public, the Photomosaic of an outdoor image to be revealed at summer's end and then made into a commemorative poster.

All digital photos submitted will be included in the Photomosaic – a picture that has been divided into equally sized sections, each of which is replaced with a photograph. When viewed at a distance, the Photomosaic appears as one complete image, while close examination reveals it as a composition of thousands of smaller images. Visitors to the "Let's Go Outside" Web site will be able to watch the Photomosaic being built and locate their own images by using a unique code number.

Submissions for the Photomosaic will be accepted from Memorial Day through Labor Day. To submit digital photos and learn about other activities in nature, visit <http://www.fws.gov/letsgooutside/>. "Let's Go Outside" strives to promote environmental awareness while reconnecting Americans with nature.
