Hi Jim,

I asked, and Drue gave me permission to circulate this with the GIS team this morning. I will let him and Kate answer your question.

Before I send any response/comments. Can you tell me where this is coming from. Who are asking these questions?

Thanks,
Jim

Hi Jim and Ed,

I am hoping you could provide a quick turn-around review of this document. Rich is out of the office.

This issue paper is fairly self-explanatory, and was the result of a meeting that I could not attend last week because I was out of town. The initial driver of this question were the acreage calculations that I provided for the external affairs state fact sheets on surface ownership in GrSG range. However, the issue is actually a bit larger than this one example, pertaining to how we determine what data sources we use for GIS analysis .

Please let me know if you can provide your comments and return by COB today.
