Hi Holly -

If that file is on sharepoint that is the one I will use. Unfortunately sharepoint is not cooperating for me here at the office so I can't check. (I have so much better luck with sharepoint via my VPN from home), But I will use the most recent post to the site.

Snow isn't bad here - we have lots, and more to come, but this is our snowiest time of the year.

It helps that we don't have a "rush hour" with a half million folks, and that most of us have been driving in snow since we were first able to drive. So life is good!

Have a great weekend!

Thanks, Pat! I assume you got the file with the other comments in it...? Might save you some work :-)

Have a good snowy weekend,

Hello ladies -

I had hoped to review both of your chapters by today, but my multitude of bosses had other plans for me. So I intend to review them over the weekend and upload comments NLT than Monday a.m.

My apologies -
