Good Morning-

I believe Lara is still on point for this, but thought I'd cover the bases :)

Thanks!

We have been working on a few summaries for FWS and recently completed this list of USGS publications completed since 2010. We will be sending this formally to FWS through our Director, along with some other information, but I wanted to get this to you in advance since I thought it might be of more immediate use. You may already aware of most of these publications, but in case not... Each listing, includes a link to the actual publication. One of the other items, we are working on is determining what we will be able to expedite from the list of research efforts you sent us. Hopefully, I will have more information on what we will be able to do after an internal meeting in late January.

Carol
