Just opened it up and started looking. Holy Guacamole this looks like a ton of work! Thanks for doing all this -- I hope you weren't at it all night. One question for starters: does your result below mean that 53% of the acreage provided is represented by very small projects (< 500 ac)?

...Or maybe we can jump on the phone for a few minutes a little later...?

Hi,

Take a look - it's messy right now, but in the end it show that if we review 8% (327) of the records, we'll capture 47% of the associated acreage provided (not of the occupied range). But still a peak at the juice to be squeezed.

It's the "working" tab - the rest is noise for now.
