Hi Amy,

I hate to do this, but draft climate change is going to be a week from Friday, earliest. I've updated the table on sharepoint. I am working away on it (with CED and other unavoidable distractions), and I hope that some more time up front = less work for everyone else down the line. Despite the gaps where the modeling will go, I want to provide a solid first draft that really is in good shape for review (I heard there have been a couple more that were not - eek).

Thanks --
Holly
