Sorry, I didn't get this to you sooner and I apologize if this is a double posting, but I wanted to make sure you were invited. Note that one agenda item is the new CROmnibus discussion. I haven't heard that it has been passed by either side of the capital building, but there are too many things in it that need to get passed for them to dink with it for an extended time period. My guess is if they don't vote this morning, they will do a few day CR until it is passed. No word on the President's position, but my guess is he will sign it.
