

2022 – Dr. Rae Wynn-Grant

We are fortunate to have Dr. Rae Wynn-Grant join us as the keynote speaker for the 7th annual SOTS! Rae is a wildlife ecologist, conservationist, equity & justice advocate, and storyteller. She has been active in scientific research for more than 15 years with an emphasis on studying the behavior and ecology of North American bears and African lions. She is one of the leading environmental science communicators of her generation, blending intersectional social justice advocacy with environmental education. Rae is currently a Research Faculty member at the Bren School of Environmental Science and Management at the University of California at Santa Barbara, as well as a National Geographic Fellow, and a Visiting Scientist at the American Museum of Natural History. She has a PhD from Columbia University, a Masters of Science from Yale University, and a Bachelor of Science from Emory University.
