3. Each party must submit their registration form by 11:00 a.m. each Wednesday prior to the hunt to be considered in the weekly draw.
4. Parties may apply for multiple days but are limited to one entry per day per party. Multiple entries per day will result in ineligibility for the hunt.
5. Hunters may access the Refuge 1½ hours before legal shooting time.
6. Hunters may shoot ½ hour before legal sunrise (see Michigan DNR Waterfowl Hunting Digest for shooting hours) until 12:00 p.m. (noon) for morning hunts; Thursday afternoon hunt begins at noon and concludes at shooting hours posted in the Michigan DNR Waterfowl Hunting Digest for that day.
7. You may possess no more than 25 shotgun shells while hunting in the field.

9. Hunting is restricted to the east side of the channelized portion of the Flint/Mistequay River.

General Description of the Scramble Area:

- Walk-in Only – Hunters are encouraged to park at the Michigan DNR parking lot at the end of Miller Road and use the field entrance to access the field to the east of the parking lot. The waterfowl hunting portion of the area is wetland consisting of open water and cattails including the cattail marsh along Swan Creek.
- Boat-in Only - Hunters are encouraged to use the Cass River boat launch on M-13 or the Miller Road boat launch.
 - Flint River – At the confluence with the Shiawassee River, the area consists of a mix of open water and emergent wetland vegetation (cattails, rushes, and shrubs). Hunters who choose to hunt the main channel of the Flint River must hunt from the east bank as the refuge does not own land on the west bank of the river.
 - Shiawassee River – From the confluence of the Flint River to the confluence of the Spaulding Drain, the Shiawassee River consists of a mix of open water and emergent wetland vegetation, primarily cattails.
 - Spaulding Drain – The Spaulding Drain from the southern refuge boundary to the Shiawassee River is primarily open water hunting.
 - Cass River – The Cass River is primarily open water hunting.

All Federal and Michigan State Hunting Regulations Apply.
