Hi Matt,

When it rains it pours. I assume you have skin plenty thick enough for this too. Hang tough! I had a lot of conversations about this with Bill Petersen and know that real effort and patience was applied to the question of "saving" the pink house. It is what it is. It is nice that you could sweeten the pot with the observation platform.

Regards,
David

Good Morning!

Well, I promised another controversial issue on the horizon, and here is. Please see attached press release (will not be live until later today, and the EA will be on our website later this morning). I wish there was a better answer to this lingering issue!

Hope all is well and you all enjoyed Halloween.

As always, call with any questions.

Best,

Matt

p.s. I want to again commend Carole, David and your staff/volunteers for putting on such a great celebration of life for Doug on Sunday. It was the perfect tribute to a great man.
