Damian,

Sorry for the slow reply. I've been in the field much of the last few weeks.

As Carolyn noted, we are still working on the draft EIS so I don't have all the details on post-eradication monitoring. If broadcast of rodenticide is chosen as the preferred alternative, I can assure you that there will be a broad-based post-implementation monitoring plan. If Cindy has specific suggestions or things she would like to see included, I would very much like to get those ASAP so we can try to incorporate them. If you would like to schedule a call with her, I would be happy to do that.

Monitoring

FYI. I need to connect with Cindy Kane to find out her concerns on post-implementation monitoring plans for the Farallons project. Any talking points y'all want me to relay to her. I anticipate that there may be a need to have a follow-up conversation with her as a group if I cannot address her concerns. As an FYI, she is now the IPM lead in WO who will be approving the PUP for this project.

Hi Cindy,

Talked with Damian Higgins, R8 Contaminants Coordinator, this PM. You ask me about plans for post treatment monitoring on the Farallon's specifically possible adverse effects from brodifacoum. I talked with Damian and he indicated there were plans for pre - and post-treatment monitoring from a contaminants perspective. That is all I know. Damian is the Farallon Project POC for the R8 contaminants program. He is in a much better position to answer your questions regarding this project, specifically post-treatment effects.
