Welcome
Brazoria National Wildlife Refuge (NWR) includes 46,000 acres of marsh and upland habitats on the Gulf of Mexico. It is more water than land, a place never far from the restless lapping and stirring of salt and fresh water. Dense interlocking marshes rise almost imperceptibly to low prairies, while vast flocks of waterfowl make this Gulf Coast region home for the winter. Established in 1966, Brazoria protects vital coastal wetland plants and animals.

Brazoria NWR is home to several threatened and endangered species. These species require a higher level of protection to ensure they will survive. For this reason, do not approach or try to capture, sea turtles, eastern black rails, piping plover or whooping cranes. If a sea turtle is caught on your fishing gear, carefully remove the hook and return it to the water. For further information on threatened and endangered species, please visit our web page.

Safety
At any time, hunters and anglers may encounter alligators. Alligators can behave aggressively, especially during nesting season. Hunters and anglers should use caution when in close proximity to these animals. Do not feed alligators or any other wildlife. When walking the hunting or fishing areas, watch out for poison ivy, venomous snakes, and fire ants.

Firearms
Persons possessing, transporting, or carrying firearms on National Wildlife Refuge System lands must comply with all provisions of State and local law. All hunting activities on refuge lands require the use of non-toxic shot. Persons may only use (discharge) firearms in accordance with refuge regulations (50 CFR 27.42) and specific refuge regulations in 50 CFR Part 32.

Vehicles
Licensed motor vehicles are permitted only on public use roads and routes as shown on the map. Vehicles are required to park in designated parking areas, and in such a manner as to not obstruct normal vehicle traffic. Non-motorized bicycles are allowed on levee roads beyond designated parking areas in the hunting areas.

Boats
The refuge allows canoes, kayaks, and boats with non-combustion engines to be launched and operated in Cannan Bend public fishing area. Boats may have a combustible engine attached but it cannot be operated in Cannan Bend lake. The use of motorized boats, including airboats, in open tidal waters is allowed in the waterfowl hunting areas and saltwater fishing areas as long as emergent and sub emergent vegetation is not damaged and bottom gouging does not occur.

Accessibility Information
Equal opportunity to participate in and benefit from programs and activities of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service is available to all individuals regardless of physical or mental ability. The refuge provides ADA accessibility in 3 fishing areas and 1 hunting area.
