

In 2010, we completed a GIS exercise to compare available habitat for sage-grouse over time. Data layers related to existing threats were overlaid with existing habitat. Then areas of overlap were removed.

Pat Deibert shared example slides showing this process.

