

	and VI.		cycle. Existing efforts have not been sufficient.		public lands, or react quickly for restoration <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Lack of successful control and restoration techniques • Constraints within Wilderness Study Areas and Wilderness Areas • Court-ordered injunction prohibiting the use of herbicides on all federally-administered lands • We currently do not have a good method to measure the extent of at-risk lands
Conifer Expansion	Primary states include California, Colorado, Idaho, Nevada, Oregon, and Utah. Sage-grouse management zones III, IV, V	Tier 1	Existing efforts are beginning to address this issue in the right locations but not at an adequate scale. Action is needed to accelerate treatment and	Conifer Removal: Phase I	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Insufficient financial resources to treat at needed scale • Prolonged NEPA process on federal lands • Cumbersome restrictions within Wilderness Study Areas and
				Conifer Removal: Phase II
				Conifer Removal: Phase I and II		