Hi Erin,

Just seeing that Virginia emailed this request to you, and wanted you to know that Tasha already dealt with it for SBNWR. I am assuming Scott Cooke is looking into the BLM with Mark McCabe.

Thanks,
Julie

Hi Scott,

I'm not sure if we circled back with you on this. For the locations in the attached spreadsheet, the construction contract for this area accommodates up to 22 small animal wildlife passages. Can BLM prioritize the locations, first and second priorities? I will also send this to FWS for the SBNWR locations. I apologize for the short-turn around, but if we can get input today, that would be ideal.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks,
VA

Hi Karen,

In reference to BLM managed land in the Safford Field Office we do have some BLM land involved in some of the new barrier sections, it would be that area just west of the NM border in an area identified as critical Jaguar habitat. We are in the process of putting together comments for that section to submit to CBP/USACE. We will have those comments in by the new due date of May 15.

As far as location recommendations for small wildlife openings on non-BLM managed land, we won't be providing any recommendations because of the need to provide comments or recommendations directly related to our area of jurisdiction. Thanks for checking.

On a side note, we did work with other federal partners to provide CBP/USACE a list of recommended locations for small wildlife openings to Emily Lester (USACE) back in September (attached). Can anyone provide a status update as to if those recommendations are being implemented during construction? Thank you,

Scott

Subject: [EXTERNAL] Request for Small Wildlife Opening Recommendations

Good evening,

Last week CBP had a conversation regarding small wildlife openings (8.5"X11") where barrier will intersect with San Bernardino and Buenos Aires NWRs. We are also looking at other areas of new construction in Tucson Sector. While the new barrier sections are not located on BLM-managed land, we wanted to see if you folks had any location recommendations for these small wildlife openings.

If you would be able to depict any preferred locations within these new sections on a map we would greatly appreciate your input. Please reach out if I can answer any questions or if you need any other information.

Thank you, Karen
