Weekly update for 20-24 January 2020. In general monitoring wells continue to show decreasing depth to water. A refuge tour uncovered two wells not on the most updated list of wells. One well is no longer used (Middle well) and one well provides inflow to Mesquite pond (Cottonwood well), not Oasis well as previously thought. Graphs have been updated to show this relationship. Either of these wells provide an ideal opportunity to measure static pressure as they are not currently used in water management activities on the refuge.
