Morning Juliette,

I have not received Glenn Well usage rates for the month of January, (or Feb) can you obtain these for me?

As an aside, as of Feb 24, 2020 our monitoring of well pressure head for mitigation well has shown a drop of about 1.5 feet from Jan to Feb. Our November model projection for mitigation expected a loss of head of about 1.5 feet. A few things to consider: 1) the measured pressure rates are from about 60 days of data, 2) the model was projecting a 1.5 loss of head after 100 days of pumping, 3) we are still in winter and we expect as local temperatures rise there will be substantially more water pumped and used system wide.
