Attached is a list of papers I have been unable to find (full versions of them). I think the majority of these were originally cited in the economic analysis for the Rule and then carried over to the BE. There may be others, but this would be a good start.

Thanks!

Hi Drew,

I did indeed have a relaxing Thanksgiving, as I hope you did. Yes, we can get these articles for you – I don't know how many we have electronically, and Tom is out of the office today. He should be able to let you know tomorrow what we can pull together for you. If there are specific articles that you are most interested in, say the word and we can focus on those first.

Hi there,

Hope you both had a relaxing holiday!

In the BE, there are several citations used that look like they may have come from the economic analysis on the rule. I can only find the abstracts to some of those articles. Since I am using some of the information from the BE in the BO, I was wondering if you had electronic copies of those journal articles/papers that you could share. If there are too many files to share via email, would you be able to burn a cd of the journal articles?

Thanks!
