Nikki,

Thank you for the note.

I think we can all agree that we are in a continuing process relating to the CWA sec. 316(b) rule and consultation under the ESA. Because of the continuing exchange of language, we look forward to continuing the dialogue and considering additional changes to both the text of the rule and its preamble. This dialogue will require additional time for the consultation beyond that which was originally planned upon by EPA and the Services.

This continues to be a dynamic process. We at EPA continue to look forward to the successful completion of our discussions.

(b)(5) Deliberative Process

I believe Gary

Fraser is reaching out to Rob Wood on this soon.

Nikki,

EPA Office of Water staff are in receipt of language from the Services addressing the intersection of the Clean Water Act and the ESA. I understand that it will be the subject of discussions later today at 3:00. This follows language which EPA provided to the Services late last week.

We at EPA look forward to continuing discussions with the Services on the text and preamble of our rule under Sec. 316(b) of the CWA. Both the text of the rule and the preamble continue to change and evolve through this dynamic process.

I look forward to the successful completion of our discussions.

Ken

I'll keep an eye out for it and let you know if I receive anything.

Our regulations are absolutely clear that any extension is to be via mutual agreement for a specific period of time. I would not regard the email from Ken Kopocis to fill the need as it does not include a specific period of time.
